

BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes.

The Symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and a difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color. Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of Consumption.

Cure it at once by the use of Mrs. D. D. Miller, Allandale, Ont., writes: "My husband got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my little girl who had Bronchitis. She wheezed so badly you could hear her from one room to the other, but it was not long until we could see the effect your medicine had on her. That was last winter when we lived in Toronto.

"She had a bad cold this winter, but instead of getting another bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I tried a home made receipt which I got from a neighbor but found that her cold lasted about twice as long. My husband highly praises 'Dr. Wood's,' and says he will see that a bottle of it is always kept in the house."

The price of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 25 cents per bottle. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, so, be sure and accept none of the many substitutes of the original "Norway Pine Syrup."

their houses. The doctor was quite serious, and even Hortense, catching his looks, stood very silent as he studied the celestial aspects.

"Carrying through ether in perpetual round Decrees and resolutions of the Gods."

"The Lord of the ascendant," said he, "is with the Lord of the seventh in the tenth house. The querent, therefore, shall marry the man made for her, but not the man of her youthful hope and her first love.

"The stars are true," continued he, speaking to himself, rather than to her. "Jupiter in the seventh house denotes rank and dignity by marriage, and Mars in sextile foretells successful wars. It is wonderful, Hortense! The blood of Beauharnais shall sit on thrones more than one; it shall rule France, Italy and Flanders, but not New France, for Saturn in quintile looks darkly upon the twins who rule America."

"Come, Jumonville," exclaimed Hortense, "congratulate Claude on the greatness awaiting the house of Beauharnais, and condole with me that I am to see none of it myself! I do not care for kings and queens in the third generation, but I do care for happy fortune in the present for those I know and love! Come, Jumonville, have your fortune told now, to keep me in countenance. If the Doctor hits the truth for you, I shall believe in him for myself."

"That is a good idea, Hortense," replied Jumonville; "I long ago hung my hat on the stars—let the Doctor try if he can find it."

The Doctor, in great good humor, surveyed the dark, handsome face and lithe, athletic figure of Jumonville de Villiers. He again raised his cane with the gravity of a Roman pontifex, marking off his temple in the heavens. Suddenly he stopped. He repeated more carefully his survey, and then turned his earnest eyes upon the young soldier.

"You see ill-fortune for me, Doctor!" exclaimed Jumonville, with bright, unflinching eyes, as he would look on danger of any kind.

"The Hyleg, or giver of life, is afflicted by Mars in the eighth house, and Saturn is in evil aspect in the ascendant!" said the Doctor slowly.

"That sounds warlike, and means fighting, I suppose, Doctor. It is a brave fortune for a soldier. Go on!" Jumonville was in earnest now.

"The pars fortuna," continued the Doctor, gazing upward, "rejoices in a benign aspect with Venus. Fame, true love, and immortality will be yours, Jumonville de Villiers; but you will die young under the flag of your country and for sake of your King! You will not marry, but all the maids and matrons of New France will lament your fate with tears, and from your death shall spring up the salvation of your native land—how, I see not; but decretum est, Jumonville, ask me no more!"

A thrill like a stream of electricity passed through the company. Their mirth was extinguished, for none could wholly free their minds from the superstition of their age. The good Doctor sat down, and wiped his moistened eye-glasses. He would tell no more to night, he said. He had really gone too far, making jest of earnest and earnest of jest, and begged pardon of Jumonville for complying with his humor.

Gen. Chas. W. Wood, of Worcester, Mass., was elected president of the Holstein Association of America, at the annual meeting held at Syracuse, N. Y., on June 3rd, succeeding Hon. O. U. Kellogg, who, after three successive terms, declined further service. Frederick L. Houghton, Brattleboro, Vt., was re-elected secretary and editor, and Malcolm H. Gardner, Delavan, Wis., superintendent of Advanced Registry. Members present at the meeting who answered to roll call numbered 215.

The death is reported of the noted Holstein bull, Paul Beets De Kol, which occurred on May 15th, at the age of 14 years. It is claimed that at his death he stood at the head of all A. R. O. sires, living or dead. He has 93 A. R. O. daughters in the Advanced Register whose average record is 19.76 lbs. butter in 7 days. Seventeen of these were made by two-year-old heifers, with first calf, and eighteen of them by three-year-old heifers.

Israel Groff, Elmira, Ont., writes: "My Shorthorns are doing fine, and have abundance of good pasture. I have still one choice young Lady Fanny bull for sale that has been in service for several months, and is a good worker, and sure, and will make a good herd-header. This is one of the most noted families of Shorthorns on record. Also several young heifers, and a few prizewinning Berkshires, both hears and sows; prices within reach of everybody. Write, or come and see them."

A train load of 341 buffaloes from the Pablo herd in Montana were landed at Wainwright, Alberta, on June 13th, to be transferred to Buffalo Park, at the latter place. The train of 23 cars of buffaloes excited great attention en route. They constitute a very large part of the few hundred bison remaining to represent the millions that a few years ago roamed the Western plains. So well was the transfer of 500 miles managed, that only two fatalities occurred. At Lamont, an excited bull buffalo gored a mate in the corral, death being almost instantaneous. The only losses on the road were a young cow, which, in anger, choked herself to death, and a yearling that was exhausted when shipped, and was trampled to death by the others in the car. When unloaded in the new park at Wainwright, they threw up their heels in the joy of freedom once more, and started for the hills.

There were three cows with records greater than 30 lbs. consigned by Mr. Mitchell, viz. Ermagelsche 2nd A, $1,380; Clinton Hartog De Kol, $1,300; Ida De Kol Pauline, $1,110. Mr. Wing R. Smith's herd bull, Primo Segis Kornidkyk, was the second highest priced animal in the sale, and was purchased by W. E. Kellogg, for $1,500.

Speaking about dogs leads me to say that we own one that is afflicted with absent-mindedness. He's a dog of good habits, and generally makes it a point to be home by 5 o'clock every morning, but once in a while he seems to forget himself and shows up about noon. Is there any cure for this absent-mindedness?

SHE COULD NOT HOLD A TEACUP

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. James H. White.

They took away her backache, cured her urinary trouble and made her a well woman.

Preville, Gaspé Co., Que., June 21st. (Special)—After suffering for four years from ill, which many a woman knows, and being treated by a doctor who failed to give her relief, Mrs. James H. White, a farmer's wife living near here, is again a well woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

"My trouble started from a strain," Mrs. White states. "I had a pain always across my back and a steady pain in the back of my neck, and I had urinary trouble that caused me a great deal of annoyance.

"For four years I suffered in this way, and the doctor I consulted did not do me any lasting good. In the morning I was dizzy, and I finally got so nervous I could not hold a cup.

"Then I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I got relief right from the start. Three boxes cured me completely. Today I am a well woman."

Mrs. White's troubles were Kidney troubles. So are the troubles of nine out of ten of the suffering women of Canada today. That is why Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure them.
