"I." said Andrew Carnegie, in an ad dress before the national civic federation made 43 millionaires in my life

In the Carnegie Steel Co.," says John A. Fitch, in the American Magazine, "March and October are known as re-cord months. Machinery and men ar-speeded to the limit in hopes of estabspeeded to the limit in hopes of establishing a new record of outputs. If a crew breaks a record each man gets a cigar."

Mr. Fitch spent several years in invesvestigating conditions in the Pittsburg district, and says that a large majority of the steel workers toil 12 hours a day. They dare not organize, dare not even talk to each other on the subject, and are probably even afraid to speak about it.

Since a gaping world is informed by the great philaithropist, that he has performed the wonderful feat of making 43 millionaires, doubtiess curious people would be pleased to learn how many thousands of honest working people, who must have had something to do in making millionaires, have been transformed into hopeless wage slaves. Fifty-Thousand-Dollar Barracks for Cossacks.

A barracks costing $50,000 has just been completed at Butler, Pa., to house the Pennsylvania "cossacks." The feudal lords who control the Standard Steel Car Co. at that place have heard that secret organization has been going on for some time among the thousands of workers in that plant, many of whom receive less than $3 per week. The men work 12 hours a day and usually on Sunday. The plant is enclosed by a high board fince on top of which barbed wire is stretched, which may be charged with electricity. This plan was first adopted at the Carnegle Homestead Mills, about 20 years ago. A strike is expected at Butler soon. Too Many Japanese in Japan, Says

Okuma.

In a Tokyo magazine article Count Okuma, the Japanese statesman, sheds considerable light on the real reason why the ruling classes of Nippon were so anxious to have Uncle Sam, or, rather, Bill Taft, open wide the American ports for the admission of as many coolle laborers as desired to cross the Pacific. Count Okuma says the population of Janan at present is 60,000,000, or two-phirds as great as that of the United States, and 50 years hence it will be 12,000,000, and in 150 years 400,000,000, or about as many people as China now helds.

If you will run a lead pencil around Okuma.

If you will run a lead pencil around the area embraced in Connecticut, New York, New Jarsey, Pennsylvania and Ohic you will have marked off about as much land as is comprised in Japan.

The people who reside in the foregoing States, especially those living in the cities, feels pretty cramped at times, especially during industrial depressions. If their teritory were twice again as populous as is Japan's, the struggle for exastepice would be proportionately as severe.

istance would be proportionately as severe.

I Crint Okuma doesn't say so in as many words, being too diplomatic for that, but he hints pretty strongly that the that, but he hints pretty strongly that there are too many Japanese in Japan. He says America doesn't want them, there are too many Japanese in Japan. He says America doesn't want them, they won't go to Africa, and Corea will soon be overstocked.

It is a problem just how many hundred thousand or million Japanese will be required to leave that congested country in order to insure domestic tranquility. The hanging of Dr. Kotoku and about twenty other "anarchists" and the imprisonment of other thousands shows that the ruling class is alarmed and foresees a social unheaval.

Hence the new Jap treaty will have the double effect of serving as a safety valve for the privileged class of Nippon and to insure an army of cheap labor for the revivileged class of America. One hand weeks the other.

Why New York's East-Side Bank Clerks Struck.

Clerks Struck,

The novel strike of bank clerks in New York for shorter hours and more pay is proving successful. The trouble has been confined to the east-side, but the manner in which the depositors have been withdrawing funds from one bank and placing them in others that signed up has tended to spread the union spirit, and it is probable that a strong pational organization will be the outcome of the New York strike.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

(Countryman in Christian Guardian.) Taken all in all, there is not in the world a cleaner and more excellent local newspaper press than we have in Canada, and I can say this frankly, not belink connected with it. It can best cover affairs of a social or strictly local nature. If the church is wise in its generation it will co-operate freely and systematically with the town and country press, in order to enlist, as far as possible, its mutual support in Christian enterprises and moral reform. The editors and cubilishers of newspapers are as a rule, naturally responsive to the best interests of their respective communities, and that spirit will be quickened by a frank and friendly attitude towards them.
