I'm sad today, And so my lay Shall be of boyheod-yesterday When I a child

When romping wild In woodland paths where sunshine smiled. Among the herds And merry birds I wandered with my gladsome words

And all day long I warbled song To nature and her kindred throng.

With tousled hair And feet all bare I gathered flowers everywhere. And was not shorn, For then no thorn Had from my cheeks the dimples torn,

I gambolled on The velvet lawn At evening's tide and day's first dawn; I danced and sang Till household rang With laughter at my bantering.

I climbed the trees And chased the bees From stealing honey there with ease I planted flowers

Through all the hours
And watched them nurtured by the showers. Thus in a baze My boyhood days Have passed, and I can only gaze,

But never see Their rhapsody Save now and then in memory. For wrinkles now Have plowed my brow And weighty care has shown me how BEWARE OF PAINTED Toys. - Painted toys for children are daugerous things. They are even more likely to injure the baby than tobacco smeke or the promiscuous kissing of all the old grandmothers in the neighborhood.

PICKLED RIPE TOMATOES. -To gallon of firm ripe tomatoes, neeled, add two tablespoonsful of ground mustard, one of black pepper, two of allepice, one of salt, one of cloves; cover them with vinegar, let them scald, but not boil, spider with a little butter and lard in it, let it get hot and slice the apples into it, prinkle a little sugar over them, and fry slow to a nice brown, taking care not to let it burn.

PICKLED PEARS. - Pare and halve the fruit; take seven pounds of fruit, three pounds of sugar, one quart of vinegar, one ounce of whole cloves, one ounce of stick cinnamon; put all together and boil slowly for a short time. This recipe is good for peaches or plums. REMEDY FOR CHILBLAINS. - The follow ing is a sure cure: Take a handful of dried peach leaves and pour boiling water on them, and let them stand till cool enough not to burn the patient; then place the feet in that water fifteen minutes. Do this two or three times and it

A Speedy Cure.

As a speedy cure for Dysentery, Chelera Morbus, Diarrhoea Colic, Cramp, Sick Stomach, Canker of the Stomach and Bowels, and all forms of Summer Complaints, there is no remedy more reliable than Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawbarry Daslaw berry. Dealers who sell it, and those buy it are on mutual grounds in onfidence of its merits.

GINGER SNAPS. - Three cups flour, seven tablespoonful melted shortening, one tablespoonful ginger, one scant teaspoon salt. Put all these ingredients in a pan and over one pint of boiling molas-ses (New Orleans makes the best); mix well together and add flour enough to knead ; roll thin and bake quick.

In a Dangerous Condition. Any man, woman or child is in a dan-gerous condition when neglecting a constipated state of the bowels. There can be no perfect health without a regular action of this function. Burdock Blood Bitters cure constipation by imparting a nealthy tone to the secretions.

An expert laundry woman recommends the use of kerosene un fine startch to make the linen glossy and to keep the iron from sticking. About half a teaspoonful of kerosene to starch enough for six shires. The edor evaporates entirely before the clothes are ironed. Each molecule of starch seemed to be surrounded with an infinitesimally thin pellicle of the oil, and the iron glided over the bosoms, leaving a smooth, clean, glossy expanse.
