What more appropriate name could be applied to that most insidious and universal of diseases --- Catarrh --- which affects nine hundred in every thousand of our people.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has proved itself a wonderful power in lifting the burden---a dove of peace in the battle for health.

It makes life worth living--- it helps in a hurry and it cures permanently---relief in 10 to 60 minutes.

So-called cures come and hardly a week passes but some new claimant as a cure for catarrh presents itself, only to fail in its mission, add another disappointment to the long list of disappointments in the line of

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has been for many years before the public as the surest, safest, most harmless, quickest and most permanent treatment for Catarrh, Hay Fever, Cold in the Head, Sore Throat, Influenza, Catarrhal Deafness, Headache and Tonsillitis. That it has proved its worth thousands of times, east, west, north and south, over the whole continent, is allowed by the thousands of unalloyed testimonials that have been received by those who have suffered from the Catarrh Malady in all its forms, and for periods of suffering, whether the limit of a few days of Influenza or Cold in the Head to the cure of stubborn and deep-seated Catarrh of the Head and Nose, covering the almost incredible period of fifty years.

The treatment is simple, the application is easily made, perfectly painless, and in ten to sixty minutes after applying, relief follows. It's so wonderfully searching, and yet so soothing, that it comes like magic.

Mrs. M. Greenwood, of 204 Adelaide street west, Toronto, says, in substantiation of the claims of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder: "I am so well pleased with Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder and the good results derived from it, that I hardly know how to express myself. For years I was a great sufferer from Catarrh in the Head and Throat. I tried many remedies without getting relief until I began using Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. A few applications gave me great comfort and relief. I continued using it, and now every vestige of the trouble has gone, and would feel me to express the gratitude I feel at being freed from this loathsome disease."

CANADA'S PART IN THE WAR.

Discussed in the House of Commons at Some Length.

Sir Charles Tupper Poured Hot Shot Into the Government for Remissness in Regard to the Contingent---The Opposition Leader Gave the Premier a Drubbing---Sir Wilfrid's Reply Rather Weak---Foster Foundered.

Ottawa, Feb. 6. --- The House assembled shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Davin complained of the ventilation of the library. Mr. Tarte replied to him and the complaint was mollified. Numbers of petitions were presented. The Debate Committee of the last session was named, and is the same as last year.

Part of the Correspondence. The Premier laid on the table part of the correspondence relating to the contingent, and promised to get the rest in as soon as possible. Hon. Mr. Davies presented the modus vivendi Resolves. The writ of the election of Edmond Fortier for Lotbiniere was returned.

Bills Introduced. The following bills were introduced: An act respecting pensions for the

How to Find Out

If Your Kidneys Are Deranged and the System Poisoned by Uric Acid.

It is the peculiar mission of the kidneys to filter the blood, to separate the poisonous impurities from the pure blood, allowing the blood to go on its way, while the poison---uric acid---is sent through the ureters to the bladder and hence out of the body. The importance of this work is emphasized by the fact that all the most painful and most fatal diseases---such as Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, rheumatism and lumbago---arise from kidney disorders and the presence of poisons in the blood.

Three of the most distinct symptoms of kidney disease are: Backache, or lame back; deposits in the urine, seen after it stands for twenty-four hours; and difficulty or too great frequency in urinating.

The remarkable efficiency of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a prompt cure for kidney ailments is well known. They act naturally, give quick relief and permanently cure backaches, lame backs, and kidney aches and disorders. One pill a dose, 25c a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Everybody is coughing except those who use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. 25c a bottle.

An act to amend the General Inspection Act---Mr. Davin. An act establishing a bankruptcy court---Mr. Maclean.

An act to incorporate the Medical Council of Canada---Mr. Roddick. An act to amend the Militia Act---Mr. Donville.

An act to amend the Fertilizer Act---Mr. Donville. An act to amend the Franchise Act, 1898---Mr. McInnes.

An act in further amendment of the Dominion Election Act---Mr. Ingram.

The Franchise Act. An act in further amendment of the Franchise Act---Mr. Ingram.

Mr. Ingram requested to explain his bill for the amendment of the Franchise Act, said his measure aimed to do away with the present election law in order to have elections conducted honestly. He favored resident deputy returning officers and poll clerks and the abolition of the deposit. He thought the old law had outgrown its usefulness, as was evidenced by the corruption practised in recent elections in Ontario.

The East Middlesex affair pointed to the necessity of having all election documents inspected by the candidates prior to the opening of the polls.

A full recount should be allowed. In general the aim of the measure was to prevent ballot box stuffing, plugging and similar corrupt practices exposed so recently in Ontario. He asked for the Government's cooperation in this measure.

The public accounts and other papers were laid on the table by Hon. Mr. Fielding.

Mr. Gould Moves the Address. Mr. Isaac J. Gould of West Ontario arose to move the address. He glowingly described the prosperity of the country and said that it was all due to the Imperial Government.

To press home his point, he quoted figures and prophesied that greater things yet were in store for the country. Respecting the Transvaal war, he said, that though the British Empire had met with some reverses, yet the ultimate end would be a triumph for British arms. It would all result in a welding together of all parts of the Empire. The principle that a Parliament should control all moneys was a grand one, yet there were times when quick action was needed, and when the spirit and not the letter of the law had to be considered. In the matter of the contingent, he believed the Government had done right.

The Imperial Government had strengthened the hand of the Government, though some persons claimed the Government had not gone far enough and had not paid as much as it should. Yet the Imperial Government was satisfied. What the Canadian Government proposed to do was to pay the cost of recruiting and transporting the soldiers to South Africa, but as soon as they reached South Africa soil they came under Imperial control, and received Imperial pay. Yet the Government intended to deposit in Canadian banks the difference between the Canadian and the British rate of pay for the benefit of the soldiers' dependents.

Mr. Victor Gordon of Chambly and Veeshore seconded the address and backed up the policy of the Government, concerning the contingent. Sir Charles Tupper speaks.

At 4.10 Sir Charles Tupper rose to reply. After congratulating the mover and seconder on their speeches, he plunged into that part of the speech from the throne which dealt with the Transvaal war. The profound importance of the issue caused him to object to the words of the speech, "The profound devotion and loyalty of the entire people of Canada to the Sovereign and institutions of the British Empire," because the word "entire" should be transposed into "the overwhelming mass of the people of Canada." The facts were against the use of the word "entire" in the connection in which it was used, there being a difference on the point "within the Cabinet itself."

One who was unqualifiedly disapproved of the action of the Government. That gentleman had censured the Premier to say he could do nothing, and had gone further and drawn members of the Liberal party to his side. "It is not necessary for me to say that the Hon. Minister of Public Works is the man I allude to." That gentleman had just come from France---from France, that was denouncing England and charging over her every misfortune. It seemed as if he had become imbued with the atmosphere, and the sentiments he had come in contact with. At a banquet in Quebec, Mr. Tarte had said he had returned more French than ever, and that if to become a British subject he had to relinquish being a Frenchman, he would not remain a British subject. He was first a Frenchman, then a British subject.

Sir Charles traced the whole history of the sending of the Canadian contingents from the day that Col. Hughes, first in the House on July 12, 1899, called the attention of the House to the New Zealand offer of troops to the Empire to the present day, showing how Sir Wilfrid had first taken, under the malign influence of the Minister of Public Works, the position that nothing could be done without first obtaining the sanction of Parliament. In referring to Mr. Tarte's statement that Sir John A. Macdonald would never have sanctioned a contingent, Sir Charles declared, "No man ever lived in Canada with more Imperial instincts than the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald." The proof of this was that he came to his death after a successful fight against a party whose policy meant the ruin of the country's independence. The public accounts and other papers were laid on the table by Hon. Mr. Fielding.

west. To discriminate between two sections of soldiers, English and Colonial, would destroy discipline. But the Government intended to deposit the difference for the benefit of Canadian soldiers. (Liberal cheers.) He held that in this crisis what England wanted was moral support, not men or money. He gave a succinct outline of the causes leading to the Transvaal war, and declared it was a war for freedom. The acceptance of colonial aid was but a sign to the world that the Empire was a solid unity.

Sir Wilfrid sat down at 10.30.

Hon. G. E. Foster. Hon. George E. Foster then arose but was not with approval when he began to speak. Mr. Foster said he would have to move the adjournment of the House unless quietness was restored. The disorder continued, and adjournment was moved.

The new agreement, which will in all likelihood be referred to hereafter as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, was promptly transmitted by the President to the Senate for ratification.

HEINTZMAN & CO. "Canada's Greatest Piano"

A Piano with a Record

Empty declamation of one's claim to superiority is easy. Anyone can do it. There is no trick in mere assertion.

The Art Piano of Canada, made by this firm, does not rest its success and kingship on what its manufacturers say of it, though none know as well as they the years of thought and care and skill and ability that have been put into its manufacture. It is those who know the Piano best who are most generous in its praises, and they are of those in the musical world who have strongest claim to speak knowingly of the merits of any Piano.

It is something that a Piano has been endorsed by musical critics like Hyllested, Burmeister, Plunket Greene, Ben Davies, Nutini, Watkin Mills, Albani, Pol Pincon, Trebelli, Scelchi, and a host of other names that your own memory will call up.

Toronto World April 7th, 1899.---"Within the past few weeks we have had Sauer with a Knabe, Rosenthal with a Steinway and Carreno with a Chickering. Last night we had a great artist with a piano made right here, and all present must have felt gratified with the feeling that the home-made article is as good as can be had. Indeed some remarked that the bass of the Heintzman & Co was the firmest and roundest of all, while the upper tones possessed a singing yet mellow quality that could not be excelled. Mr. Burmeister certainly brought out the finest effect, particularly in the Wagner music. The crashing effects characteristic of Wagner's music were brought fully out. The finale from 'Tristan and Isolde' and the Liszt rhapsody were also fine exhibitions of fine bravura playing, while Beethoven and Chopin furnished the means of displaying the subdued tonal effects of the great instrument."

SPECIAL PRICES Besides our own Piano we have always in stock an assortment of pianos of different makers, for we are dealers in pianos as well as manufacturers. You will hardly find at any difficulty in getting a piano to suit your taste or your purse. A new Kingsbury Piano, made in Chicago, for as little as $150.00. Kingsbury Cabinet Grand for $275.00. You can have a new Whitefort piano for $275.00. A number of pianos of various makers, including Gerard Heintzman, Williams, Nordheimer, Mason & Rich that have been used some, but have been put in good condition at very special prices.
