Americans Have Had That Number Since Jan. 1.

In Suppressing Filipino Guerrillas, So Gen. Otis Reports.

Washington, April 4.-Gen. Otis has cabled the war department a summary of the campaign since Jan. 1. The report, which is dated Manila, April 3,

Since Jan. 1, 124 skirmishes have been reported, mostly very slight affairs. Our casualties were 3 officers and 78 enlisted men killed; 13 officers and 151 men wounded. Insurgent and Ladrone loss is: Killled and left on field, 1,426; captured, mostly wounded, 1,453; small arms secured, 3,510; pieces of artillery, 165; large captures of other insurgent property. A number of important insurgent officers are surrendering, and the situation is gradually becoming more pacific."

Gen. John C. Bates has peacefully occupied Surigao, Cagayan, Illigan, Mis-amis and Mindanao. A number of rifles and cannon were captured. The presence of the gunboats Yorktown, Manila and Panay prevented resistance at Cagayan. Insurgent atrocities in Cagayan and Camarines Provinces continue. Spaniards, Chinamen and natives have been murdered.

COST OF THE WAR. The New York World gives these figures: The total outlay for the war with Spain, is as follows: Cost for fiscal year $ 95,469,389 Cost for 1899 163,871,910

Return of Colville's and French's Forces to Bloemfontein.

British Bravery Well Illustrated in the Recent Engagement— Wilkinson's Comment on the Enemy's Plan of Attack at Thaba N'Chu-Boers Shoot Down Prisoners-Mafeking All Right Up To March 20.

Bloemfontein, Monday, April 2.— | Duplicate machinery is available to re-Gen. Colville's division and French's cavalry have returned here. Everything is quiet.

London, Wednesday, April 4-4:40 a. m.-No news has yet been received of the expected battle between Gen. French and the Boers. There is now but a remote prospect of the recapture of the guns.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Monday, says: "Apparently there was not a man ahead of the convoy with orders to look out, but the escort trotted quietly behind, and only discovered that something was wrong after half the convoy had been captured."

THE BOER PLAN. Spencer Wilkinson, discussing the attack on Col. Broadwood's detachment, in the Morning Post, says: "The attack was well planned and well executed. Col. Broadwood, however, skillfully evaded the stroke aimed at him. Possibly Lord Roberts has retired his infantry with a view of encouraging the Boers to advance and to continue their attack. Probably nothing will suit him better than that they should attempt to move toward the railway or to attack in the direction of Bloemfontein. He is collecting remounts and stores in order to be in readiness for a renewal of the general advance, and he will not be drawn away. If the Boers venture too near they will receive punishment."

It is announced from Springfontein that the censorship has again curtailed dispatches. Therefore important developments must be impending.

There is little news from other points. Mafeking was still besieged The Daily Chronicle, whose Cape Town correspondent joyfully predicted that the war would be over in three months, says: "In order to re-establish our position in the Free State, we need a brilliant success, won on the scene of our latest reverses.'

British Bravery

WELL ILLUSTRATED. Bushman's Kop, Monday, April 2 .-Hearing that the waterworks was deserted, the correspondent of the Reuter's agency rode forward today. Arriving at the crest of a hill a volley was fired at him, and a moment later a man appeared on the top of the crest. Calling on him to stop firing, and saying he was unarmed, and de sired to talk with him, the correspondent discovered that this man was an American, who declared that he accompanied the Boers only as a sightseer. He said that never during his whole life had he witnessed such magnificent pluck as that shown by the British on Saturday, and he asserted that not only himself, but the whole Boer army, were profoundly touched with admiration at their gallant behavior. It appears that the Boers never doubted their ability to capture the whole British force, and were dumbfounded by the courage displayed and the masterly way in which the force was able to escape from the deathtrap. The correspondent's informant refused to give any information regarding the Boer forces or their movements, but it appeared that the present force was detached from Kroonstadt, joined the Ladybrand force, and again divided north of Thaba Nchu, one portion following the other and meeting Col. Broadwood's retreating force. The burghers engaged consisted of Schoeman's commando, which was accompanied by many foreigners. Com-mandant John Y. Blake was present with the Irish Brigade, and other foreigners. INDIVIDUAL COURAGE. The fight was marked by many acts of individual courage. The first man to warn the British of the ambush was a sergeant of the army service corps, who shot a Boer dead with his revolver. A Household Cavalryman, who was summoned to surrender, threw his rifle into his captor's face, knocking him down, and escaped. The Boers undoubtedly shot some of the prisoners and also killed some of their own men who advanced to demand the BOERS SHOOT PRISONERS. Later.-According to the testimony of eye-witnesses the Boers shot some of the prisoners. but the confusion was so great—the fire proceeding from all directions and the Boers firing on the convoy, in which their own were mixed up—that it is impossible to say exactly what happened. Explosive bullets have been found in the bandoliers of some of the Boers who were captured. The enemy pursued the British for miles, killing, wounding and taking prisoners. One squadron of the Sixth Dragoons, which entered the action 140 strong, mustered at the Brewing Company, dropped dead at his home today as a deputy sheriff was home today as a deputy sheriff was Boers seemed to be in great strength throughout the district and are signal space. A large body is an old man, had been in the employ of the company a long time.

Gen. White MADE A GREAT RECORD AT LADYSMITH.

Some idea of the achievement of Sir George White in holding Ladysmith may be obtained from the statistics of the siege. On Nov. 2 there were in Ladysmith 572 officers and 12,924 men; by March these numbers had been reduced to 403 and 9,761 respectively. There were, all told, no less than 10,688 admissions to the hospital, and of these cases 600 died, 393 from enteric fever, and 117 from dysentery. In hospital on March 1 were 1,996 cases, 708 of enteric fever, 341 of dysentery and 189 wounded. Disease was the worst enemy of the garrison, for there were killed by bombardment only 2 officers and 33 men, while in action and in sorties 35 officers and 353 men met their death. Horses and mules, 5,309 and 4,539 in number on Nov. 2, were reduced in four months' siege to 2,900 and 3,713, but there were only 500 effective horses left; these, of course, belonged to the artillery. It is clear that the ammunition must have been hoarded with great care, for the 4.7 guns had only 42 shells remaining out of an original total of 566. But Sir George White had husbanded his field artillery resources, and doubtless would, if necessary, have made his mark with the 7,200 rounds reserved for an emergency. BUGLE BLASTS. In the British House of Commons, the parliamentary secretary of the war jesty's reply in full: Mr. George Wyndham, said that if all the 44 commissions in the army offered to Canada were filled the government was quite ready to offer further commissions.

London, April 3.—A dispatch from Ladysmith says that the Boers are be-coming daringly bold and are apfell back to the mountain passes, but finding they were not pursued, have gradually drawn near the town on the north, east and west sides. A strong column came within eleven miles of the town Sunday, while their patrols scour the country.

Messages from Springfontein suggest that the fact that press messages are keenly censored indicates an early advance northward, although there is a question whether the loss of the guns and convoy will not delay the commander-in-chief's movements.

Gen. Gatacre has gone to Bloem-fontein to visit Lord Roberts. Several landrosts have been arrested in small towns north of this place. They are suspected of giving information to the VICTIMS OF TYPHOID.

Simonstown, April 3.-The condition of the Boer, prisoners is deplorable. The medical authorities seem unable to cope with the spread of typhoid fever. DEMORALIZED. The correspondent of the Times at Lorenzo Marquez, telegraphing Tuesday, says: "It is reported here that all the Rand mines closed down last Thursday. British workmen and their countrymen are expelled wholesale from the Transvaal. On the other hand, the Boers are so demoralized that it is impossible to induce many now on furlough to return to the front. They are generally averse to defending Biggarsberg, and are divided with re-ference to the wisdom of continuing the war. Kruger has prevailed on Mr.Steyn to make one big stand before surren-

Warmly Welcomed by the Irish People.

Her First Visit to the "Ould Sod" in 39 Years.

Dublin, April 4-11:45 a.m.-Queen Victoria landed in Ireland this morning for the first time in 39 years.

The disembarkation from the royal yacht was accomplished at 11:30. The commander of the forces in Ireland, the Duke of Connaught; the lord-lieutenant, Earl Cadogan, and their staffs, greeted her majesty, and the ride from Kingstown to Dublin commenced in splendid weather, and before huge good-natured crowds. The Queen's progress from Kingstown to the viceregal lodge was marked with great enthusiasm. There was no untoward incident. At the entrance to the city she received an address of welcome. Dublin, Tpril 4.-The queen, on receiving an address of welcome, hand-ed the Lord Mayor a reply, in which she said she had come to Ireland for rest and quiet, and that it gave her great gladness to return to the land of so many happy associations, whose soldiers had recently fought so gallantly. The following was her ma-"I thank you heartfly for the loyal welcome and good wishes which you have tendered me on behalf of yourself and your fellow-citizens on my arrival in the ancient capital of my Irish dominion. I came to this fair country to seek a change and rest, and to revisit scenes which recall to my mind the warm welcome given to both myself and my beloved husband. I am deeply gratified that I have been able at this time to see agai nthe motherland of those brave sons who have recently distinguished themselves in the defense of my crown and em-pire with cheerful valor, as conspicuous now as ever in their glorious past. proaching within sight of Ladysmith. I pray that the Almighty God may After the relief of Ladysmith the Boers ever bless and direct you in the high functions which you exercise for the benefit of your fellow-citizens." The Queen appeared to be much affected by the warmth of her welcome. Mr. Burke, a son of the former city sword-bearer, took the place of Mr. James Egan, the sword-bearer who had refused to officiate. But the Lord Mayor himself handed the sword and keys to her majesty, who touched them. The ceremonies at the city gate were most picturesque. London's Jubilee Lord Mayor, Sir George Faudel Phillips declared that the reception and ceremonies were the finest he had ever seen, far surpassing those of the great jubilee. In reply to the address of welcome the township commissioners of Kingstown, the Queen handed the following to the chairman:

"I thank you for your loyal and dutiful address, and for the warm welcome wherewith you have greeted me. On setting foot on Irlsh soil I receive with great satisfaction your assurances of devotion and affection towards me. I am looking forward with much pleasure to my visit to this part of my dominion, and I pray may God bless Ireland with increasing welfare and prosperity."

As this written reply was handed to the chairman, her majesty said: am very pleased to findm yself in Ire-land again."
