fresh cases have arisen where colonials were practically driven from the service by cleverly applied ostracism. As a consequence colonial officers are leaving the British army for such outside forces as the Egyptian army, the West Indian Regiment and the King's African Rifles.

Major D. I. V. Eaton, R. C. F. A., of Kingston, Ont., at present on leave, has been nominated by Earl Roberts, field marshal, commander-in-chief for the staff college. For this he had qualified some time ago. Major Eaton is the first colonial officer to be nominated to the staff college. He was educated at the R. M. C., Kingston, entering the R. C. A. All her search for it has been in vain, and yesterday afternoon, almost sick with disappointment, Mrs. Eard went to work again at her tub.

"I made every cent of that money over my washtub," said she. "Of course, someone must have found it. The money was all rolled together, and I had placed it inside my waist. I was sick today, but I have concluded that there is no use of my worrying. It won't came back any sooner. I shall go right on working."

Mrs. Bard had received the larger part of the money during the day in repayment of a loan she had made. After receiving it she returned to her home to prepare for a trip to the bank. Then she discovered her loss.

Last night Trambarulo was reported dead and in several cases the face value of each policy was paid. Vanderburg was given two years in the Chester Penitentiary and a fine of $500; Strycklin received one year and was fined $250, and the punishment of West was left with the court. The indictment charged that Strycklin had carried a number of straw men on his pay roll for several months, with the knowledge and will Vanderburg and West. Orders would be drawn on the treasury for pay for these men, and Strycklin would then according to previous agreement divide up the money equally with his co-partners in crime. It was also found upon investigation that the trio of officials had raised warrants, and by other systematic schemes had defrauded the City of Brooklyn out of several vania Railread, the Pennsylvania Company (the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg), the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Lehigh Valley Railroad have submitted to the interstate commerce commission state ments that the increases on freight rates on grain and grain products, dressed meats and packing house products, and a few other commodities, are merely restorations to a usual or reasonable basis, and are justified by increasing expenditures. The Pennsylvania Railroad admits that during the six months ended Jan. 1, 1902, it participated in the payment of rebates on shipments originating at points west of Pittsburg to the extent of approximately $110,000. From then until June 30 last it paid no rebates. While the cost of material and labor is an important factor in justifying its restoration of rates affected by the increases, the Pennsylvania points to the increased cost of operation, due to the difficulty of moving an abnormally large traffic. Since May 1 last the average rate of wages has increased about 8½ per cent. The company es-timates that the advance in the rates on grain, grain products, dressed beef and export provisions will increase its revenue only $150,900 to $180,000, while the increased cost of labor and material Siasconset, Mass., Jan. 16 .- The American line steamer St. Louis passed Nantucket Lightship, at 6:40 p.m.

New York, Jan. 17.-Word reached this city last evening that the American line steamer St. Louis, from Southampton, Jan. 3, for New York, was sighted off Nantucket Lightship, at 6:40 p.m., going dead slow. Signals were made to the south shoal lightship, but owing to the fact that a heavy gale was blowing they were unintelligible. The slow rate of speed at which the St. Louis was traveling indicates that unless she should be assisted she will not reach New York until late tonight. Appearances indicated that the St. Louis was short of steam power, and the signals were thought to imply that trouble with her voyage uninjured.

Killing Rabbits by Hundreds With th Aid of Ferrets.

Lakelanc, Mich., Jan. 17.-The annual slaughter of the innocents has begun. Sportsmen, self-styled, with guns, dogs and ferrets, have invaded this neck of the woods, and the harried bunnies are giving up their lives in a manner that may prove the end

The methods employed by the pothunters are akin to burglary. Accompanied by a dog, a gun, a ferret, and a grain sack, he goes to a rabbit's hole when its occupant is at home. The ferret is sent into the nest, while the "hunter" places a sack over the hole from which the rabbit will come in an endeavor to escape the ferret. Rabbits, it may be noted, have two entrances to their homes. With the advent of the ferret, the rabbit hits the high places in his earnest endeavor to save his life's blood. But he runs into the sack, and of his end there is none to tell. Other sportsmen run the rabbits out with a ferret, and then
