visitors availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the sights of the exhibition. Just how many thousands were on the grounds during the day, it is difficult to say, but the directors again claimed that Tuesday's attendance was fully up to that of the same day a year ago. All day the grounds were thronged with sightseers, and in the afternoon the fair presented an especially animated appearance. On the stands were between 3,000 and 4,000 people, all of whom greatly enjoyed the performance.

Yesterday the Grand Trunk Railway ran four specials to London, and besides the crowd carried on these trains, the regular trains had for the most part extra coaches attached they, too, brought many people to the fair. The specials came from Sarnia, Wingham, Jarvis and Guelph, each train carrying about 500 persons, or about 2,000 on the four trains. With the extras carried on the regulars, the crowd brought in by the G. T. R. totaled

The C. P. R. ran no specials, but extra coaches were attached to the regular trains, bringing in about 1,200 or 1,300 passengers.
