of conversation in Sarnia at the present lime, and whenever an innocent Londoner stroils into the burg he is immediately informed of the many things that are going to happen to the London team this winter when it meets Sarnia. Last Satarday when a number of Londoners were returning from the London-Sarnia Rugby rame on the street car, they fell in with bunch of Sarnia fans who were just brimming over with the things that are promised the London hockey team.
"What kind of a hockey team are you going to have up in London this winter?" aid one of them, introducing the subject

"Oh, about as good as last year, I guess," one of the Londoners spoke up.
"Well, you just watch Sarnia's smoke this winter," replied the Sarnian. "We ain't going to do a thing to your London team if they ever meet this winter. We got a bunch of guys here now that will make your old team look sick."

players we got this year we are going to put you people out of business. We got a couple of scores to settle with London, and I guess we will get even this winter. If London plays Sarnia this winter just look us up and we'll have all kinds of money to put up on this little Sarnia aggregation. I got to get off here, so long. Don't forget to bring your "roll" when Some Familiar Faces.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, Nov. 6 .- Several baseball trades were rumored with the arrival here today of club owners for the annual ousiness meeting of the American League. Numerous conferences between President Comiskey, of the White Sox, and President Somers, of the Cleveland hans, led to talk of an important deal between the two clubs. Frank Farrell, owner of the New York team, arrived this morning and is said to be looking for several trades by which he expects to bolster up his club for the 1914 season
