

WARNS AGAINST FREE CAR RIDES

Inspector of Taxation Favors
City Acquiring Street Railway.

Declaring that he could see no reason why the city would not be able to place the London street railway on a paying basis and even sell seven tickets for a quarter, George Tambling, inspector of taxation for the London district, pointed out that there was only one danger in a municipality owning its own road and that was the allowing of "dead heads" to ride.

"Just because the city owns a railway is no reason why employees of the police, waterworks and other departments should ride free of charge," Mr. Tambling asserted.

Charged to Department
The various civic departments whose employees must ride the street railway should either buy tickets for these men or another arrangement could be worked out whereby the use made of the road by the employees whose duties compel them to ride on street cars, would be charged up to each department.

"The system is worn down now," he went on, "and the city can't make it any worse by taking the road over. The matter of price is another consideration, but that could be settled by an arbitration board."

Mr. Tambling was strong in his contention that if the city purchased the road all new rolling stock should be obtained, and that a large annual saving of needless expense would be realized if this was done.

Line 23 Miles Long.
The trouble with the London and Port Stanley Railway," he continued,

"Is that the line is only about 28 miles long and sufficient equipment, graders, engineers, and other things must be used to maintain a railroad with ten times the traffic."

When questioned regarding the advisability of using one-man cars, Mr. Tambling replied that in his opinion the road could be made to pay and give good service and still use two-man street cars. It is only in the case of small places, like St. Thomas, that for the economical maintenance of the road, one-man cars must be employed.

"The average citizen will pay if he gets something for his money," the inspector concluded. "If sanitary, clean cars are obtained, and the proper service is maintained there will be no trouble about fares."

Curzon plans to proceed to Lausanne, possibly accompanied by M. Poincare, in time to hold another preliminary conference on Sunday with Premier Mussolini of Italy.

If the size of the British delegation will be the largest, and perhaps the most important conference since Versailles.

Although officials are reticent concerning the personnel of the British delegation it is believed Lord Curzon will be supported by a retinue of at least fifty persons.

KIWANIS HOLDS KICKER'S DAY

Revise Bylaws at Weekly Luncheon Held at Tecumseh House.

Today was "Kicker's Day" at the Kiwanis luncheon. The bylaws of the local branch were examined, and several were revised.

Kiwanian Albert Murphy, chairman of the bylaw committee, and legal adviser, submitted the revised laws to the members.

In speaking on the revision of the bylaws, he stated that since the inception of the order, one and one-half years ago, many of the laws, which were then anticipatory, were seen to be incomplete and inadequate. It was for this reason that the meeting would consider the changes that his committee would submit.

It was decided that in the case of a member joining in another locality, and moving later to this city, he should be allowed to attend here, without the privilege of voting, or holding office. As soon as a vacancy occurred, that member would be eligible for full membership.

The "number of members" clause was enlarged to permit the membership of four members from newspapers, universities, and transportation offices, instead of two members as in the past.

The reason for this change was, it was said, that in the case of universities, there were many professors who were in departments as vastly different as the business of two different businessmen. The same thing applied in the different departments of the transportation companies, and papers.

There were several other changes, among which was the raising of annual fees from $15 to $20.

J. A. Nash Speaks.
John A. Nash, in a three-minute talk, stressed the value of "reflections." As a child, he liked to participate in a new business. He liked to see the new man succeed. He said that that feeling toward the other fellow had been reflected in his own business.

"This city—London—has never known a real business slump," he said. "In 1881, the best jewelry business in Canada was done in London."

He was interrupted with cries of "it is yet," and "it always was."

"Now, both in the jewelry business and in other business, we are experiencing good conditions. Why? Because we have learned to apply Kiwanian principles in our business life. Kiwanis—we build; we build best by helping the other fellow."

Miss Procter, a former London girl, sang delightfully, and was obliged to respond to two encores.

LATE SPORTS IN BRIEF

GREEK WRESTLER THROWS PARKER.

Boston, Nov. 17.—George Kotsosoras, Greek light heavyweight wrestler, last night defeated Farmer Parker of Iowa in two straight falls.

PLAY ELIMINATION CHESS TOURNAMENT.

The second meeting of the London Chess Club was held in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night, with eighteen players present. As it is most desirous to have the players classified according to playing merit, an elimination tournament was started, with that purpose in view. Fourteen games were played with very keen competition and interest. Four players were advanced two degrees, and seven were raised one degree.

It is hoped that this tournament will be completed shortly, and a regular tournament will be started—members of this are to be decided from the elimination tournament. As a challenge cup will be put up, the competition will undoubtedly be very keen.

Anyone interested in chess are urged to attend next meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday night of this week at 7 o'clock.

WOULD TURN FROM PRO TO AMATEUR.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Dennis Crichtow, the well-known local welterweight boxer, made formal application last night for his reinstatement to the status of an amateur. Crichtow some time ago took a fling in the professional boxing world on the strength of promises by promoters to stage all kinds of pro bouts.

After being out of competition for some time he decided to place himself at the mercy of the local amateur officials.

PANCHO VILLA WANTS DOUBLE TITLE.

New York, Nov. 17.—Pancho Villa, the fighting Filipino, who holds the United States flyweight boxing title, today had strengthened his claims to fulfill an ambition to duplicate Johnny Buff's feat of holding both the flyweight and bantamweight belts. He demonstrated convincingly last night that he could combine considerable weight and reach without handicap, by decisively whipping Abe Goldstein, New York bantamweight, at Madison Square Garden.

Villa entered the ring weighing 110 pounds and Goldstein scaled 115 1/2. The former's 112-pound title, as a result, was not at stake. The Filipino outboxed, out-generalized and out-punched Goldstein in nearly every round, and thus got revenge for a reversal at the hands of the New Yorker in one of his first bouts in this country last summer.

PRINCETON MEETS YALE IN CLASSIC.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 17.—Led by Johnny "Take a Chance" Gorman, the Princeton Tigers, the gridiron's greatest gamblers, will push everything they have to the middle of the board here tomorrow against what is generally regarded as a better hand held by Yale.

Better hands held twice before this season by Chicago and Harvard, have been overcome by the reckless abandon and the wild chance-taking spirit of little Gorman and his band.

Applications for more than 200,000 seats were received, and only by providing 500 extra seats in the special wooden stands at the end of the stadium was it possible to take care of 55,744 applications. This will be by 6,000 the largest crowd that has ever seen a game in the Palmer Stadium.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Ottawa Hockey Club has secured the services of Harry Helman, well-known amateur right winger, Helman, who is to undertake "Punch" Broadbent, leading goal scorer of the N. H. L. last year, was reckoned among the best amateurs here last season.

Ottawas are well equipped with players, and if they get Ed Gorman will practically have the deck of forwards and defense players. Jack Darragh has not signed yet, and there is no word of Frank Nighbor. Ottawas opening practice will take place in about two weeks.

PLAYS 34 CHESS GAMES AT ONE TIME.

New York, Nov. 17.—Playing 34 chess games simultaneously last night, Jose Capablanca, world chess champion, won 30, lost 2, and drew 2. The two winners were S. Katz, secretary of the Manhattan Chess Club, and A. B. Sannopiere, also of New York.

Hoppe's high run was 192.
