

A NASTY TRIO.

Editor Sted, Broad Beach, of the Salvation Army, has been a "refugee of process," and several other equally prominent individuals have been caught in the meshes of the law in London. It has difficulty in extracting themselves. If, indeed, they are not sent to prison for the terms of their natural lives. The instances of the charges against these worthies is that in order to make the commission that asks to investigate the Fall Mall. Government's demands believe in their truth, a perfectly innocent girl of 14 years of age was sentenced to be hanged by a warrant of Jarrett (who, for the occasion, played the part of a respectable Christian priest) before the commission was a fair specimen of a girl that was regularly on sale in the cross streets of London. Jarrett, the General, Mr. Spurgeon, General Booth of the Salvation Army, and many other distinguished names were on the commission, and their report was to the effect that the Fall Mall. Gazette's charges were proved. It would appear that the commission were hoodwinked by a man, who is a shining light in England, and who is a member of the House of Commons. The commission's report, turned out to be a prudent, non-committal, and non-committal. The commission's report, turned out to be a prudent, non-committal, and non-committal.

TO JUDGMENT.

It is unfair for the board of trade to adopt the name of the province which shall be said of our mainland. The controversy now seeks to bid behind the words "British Columbia" its distinctly national design. If the board of trade promptly "title" what is said of our mainland, it will be a sufficient guarantee of the province which shall be said of our mainland.
