MONEY will be cheaper than at present in a month or two-intended borrowers of large sums on Toronto property should hold back for lower rates. There is scarcely anything more sensitive than the money market—and for the moment it is a little fastidious—but we shall never see money at a very high rate here again. The great money centres of the world are constantly on the lookout for investment and our general credit stands too high for our requirements to remain unsupplied.

CAPITAL IN BRITAIN.

The national debt of Britain amounting to some $700,000,000,000 is owed to her own people. The interest upon that vast sum is a great source of income to the British people. The foreign investments of Britain amount to about $2,000,000,000, which at 4 per cent returns an income to the cent. returns an income to the British people of $30,000, 000 annually. The profits on the shipping interests of Britain amount in the aggregate to $60,000,000 annually. From the interest on her ioreign investments and the profits on her shipping Britain is in a position to import $144,000,000 annually over and above her exports without going into debt. The facts are conclusive as showing the enormous rapidity with which capital accumulates in Britain and that under the operation of free trade the wise and conclusive and profits on the conclusive and conclusive as showing the capital accumulates in Britain and that under the operation of free trade the wise and conclusive and profits on the stipping Britain is not position to import and above her exports without going into debt.
