CONSUMPTION.

A Life Saving Battle Against a Dread
 Foe, Says Dr. Osler.

Dublin, Oct. 29.—A tuberculosis exhibition in the grounds of the international Exhibition Society at Ball's Bridge was opened by the Lord Lieutenant, due largely to the suggestions of the Countess of Aberdeen, who is keenly alive to the necessity of enabling even the poorest to help in a scientific way the movement against consumption.

Professor Osler, of Oxford, delivered a lecture in connection with the exhibition, his subject being "What the Public can do in the fight against Tuberculosis." The Lord Lieutenant presided, and there was a large attendance. The lecturer said they were asked to join in a campaign to promote a human efficiency of education, and this was a campaign in which all might join. Mr. Birrell and Mr. Long, Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Redmond, the archbishops and the prelate, for it was a life-saving battle against one of the most dreadful foes the race had ever met.

And if doctors were to get at the disease they should know where it existed. He meant that the medical staff should know where the disease was, and that did not mean publicity nor any great inconvenience to the relatives or friends of the sufferers. In the first place they should have full control over these cases, so that proper measures for disinfection could be carried out. It was most important that a house in which tuberculosis existed should be under the absolute control of the medical attendant, particularly in cases of the dwellings of the poor, as in Ireland many people lived in hovels. When he saw those wretched hovels in parts of Ireland it made his blood boil; it was simply awful to think of their fellow creatures living in such hovels. Proper provision for the care and treatment of these cases in hospital should be made. As regarded nursing, it was no doubt good in their hospitals, but they should establish sanatoria for the treatment of this disease, and he would not recommend that these should be costly buildings, as their demolition every five or six years would be an advantage. District nurses were angels on earth, and he would prefer to be a district nurse to anything else. (Laughter.) With enthusiasm and perseverance they would win the fight.

Increase in British Magazine.

It is announced by the Dominion Post office Department that there has been a very great increase in the number of British magazines and newspapers coming into Canada since the inauguration of the new regulation reducing the postage on British periodicals and increasing that on American publications. During July and August the increase for Canada over last year was 192 per cent. In Toronto the increase was 151 per cent.; in Montreal 132 per cent.; and in Winnipeg, 251 per cent. These figures are proof of the effectiveness of the "intellectual preference."

The Homework Evil.

Hon. G. P. Graham, when leader of the opposition in Ontario, pronounced himself as favorable to the abolition of home-work for public school pupils. The Minister of Education stated at Brantford that he had in mind a proposition to abolish it among the pupils. There is but one opinion as to the necessity of stopping it but there are many opinions as to the cause of it and the best methods by which it should be stopped. The proposal, so far as we can learn, is to limit the number of competitive examinations. Our own view is that there should be a minimum age for those who are allowed to try the entrance examination say thirteen years. A few pass at ten—that means that the public school course is only a matter of four years, assuming that the child started to school at six (and no child should be allowed to start at an earlier age). Some more pass at eleven or twelve. That makes the public school course all too short. It is the basis of a person's education, and no such basis can be properly laid in so brief a time. Undoubtedly there are some pupils brighter than others but the bright ones should be held back for their own good as well as the good of those who are not so bright. The fact that the younger pupil has "passed the entrance" has always a discouraging effect upon the older pupil who has not passed. If none of them could try that examination before twelve or thirteen years, the public school course would automatically lengthen and the homework evil would remedy itself. It is always the bright pupil who is injuriously affected by homework and with him the necessity for, or rather the incentive to, over-study would be eliminated by a lengthening of the public school period.—Kincaid Review.

A Freak Year.

Truly 1907 has been, and is, a freak year. There has been a combination of circumstances with almost contradictory conditions prevailing in adjacent counties in Canada. The world too, seems to have felt the same touch. Everywhere agricultural conditions are peculiar. Live stock prices have been on a high level for some time. In many quarters farmers have received more ready cash this year from the sales of products than for many years past. Where farms had to be taken on shares to get a cultivation last year at all the tenants have sold off barley, wheat, oats, hay and clover seeds to more than pay all expenses of rent, taxes, operation and leave a big margin besides for the farmer. The world needs live stock just as much today as ever. Prices have fallen solely today because feed is high-priced. The farmer wants to handle only those animals that will repay a liberal feed or that will make a quick turnover of the funds, for cereals have gone up to war prices in Canada.

Strange to say, and yet a logical outcome of the forcing of much meat upon the market, all meats are cheaper. Hogs are away below the cost of feeding. Beef is a glut on the markets, while fowl are under last year's prices, although the latter are at good paying prices yet.

These conditions, while they cause much conjecturing on the part of farmers, are not really fundamentally alarming to the feeder, because it is only a question of securing the most money for his products. A good return he is certain of in the most cases.

See the Shams.

One of the greatest trials of the newspaper profession is that it's members are compelled to see more of the shams of the world than any profession. Through every newspaper office day after day or week after week go all the weaknesses of the world, all the vanities that want to be puffed, all the revenges that want to be heaped, the mistakes that want to be corrected, all the dull speakers that want to be thought eloquent, all the meanness that wants to get its wares noticed gratis in the editorial columns in order to save the tax of the advertising columns, all the men who want to get set right where never right, all the crack brained philosophers with stories as long as their hair and as gloomy as their finger nails in mourning because bereft of soap, all the bores who come to stay five minutes and stay five hours. Through the editorial and reportorial rooms all the follies and shams of the world are seen day after day, and the temptation is to believe in neither God, man nor woman. It is no surprise that in this profession there are skeptical men. I wonder that journalists believe anything.—Talmage.

PIMPLES

Facial Blemishes,
 Blackheads, Eruptions.

They Have One Common Cause. An Improved Condition of the Blood.

Make the blood normal and you cure the
 pimples.

But unless elimination is perfect the blood can't be normal, can't be anything but foul.

In elimination nothing plays a more important part than the skin, and if it gets too much work it becomes diseased, and pimples, blotches and eruptions are the result.

Not a bit of use to try external applications. The fountain of life, the blood, must be purified.

More than that, the blood must be supplied with the elements necessary to furnish the organs with increased power to do their work.

Ferrozone supplies exactly these constituents, and it does more.

It stimulates through the nervous system
 all the eliminative functions of the body.

By stimulating the kidneys and liver the skin is relieved of an excessive work, and it soon resumes its normal mode of action.

Ferrozone destroys the poisons in the blood, gives it new and rich material
 through the thorough digestion of food.

The skin resumes its normal, rich color.
 Every vestige of blotch, pimple or eruption
 then disappears.

You see then that Ferrozone is not only a blood purifier, but a blood fortifier, and when your blood is pure and strong, not only will the skin be freed from blemishes
 and pimples, but the whole body will be rejuvenated and fortified, and given the power of endurance, vim, the natural outcome of health. Ferrozone is sold by all dealers in 50c boxes.
