

“ William Stafford,

Surgeon of the Maryland Loyalists Volunteers. He embarked for Nova Scotia in the transport ship Martha, which was wrecked near Tusket Shoals. Many perished, but the Dr. was among those who escaped. Of the 174 persons on board only 65 were saved. Lieut. Henley, Lieut. Stirling and Dr. Stafford got upon a piece of the wreck and floated at sea for two days and two nights nearly to the waist in water. During this time Lieut. Stirling perished. On the third day the two survivors drifted to an island, where they remained for several days in a weak condition, and without fire or food. Dr. Stafford settled at Shelburne.”—(Sabine.)

John Boyd,

Of Philadelphia, Surgeon. At the peace, accompanied by his wife and family and two servants, he went from New York to Shelburne, where the Crown granted him one town lot and one water lot. His losses in consequence of his loyalty were estimated at £400. (Sabine.)

He was appointed Surgeon to the Garrison at Shelburne. He afterwards filled a similar position at Halifax and finally at Windsor, where he remained for many years.

A son of John Boyd adopted his father's profession. The only thing that I have been able to ascertain about him is the circumstance that he practiced in Hants County for a short time and that he was a surgeon in the militia.

John or Peter Huggelord.

At the peace he went from New York to Shelburne, where the town granted him one town lot. He was twenty-four years of age and unmarried. His losses in consequence of his loyalty were estimated at £1,000. He afterwards removed to Digby, and later to New Brunswick.—(Sabin.)

Daniel Kendrick,

Of New York, Physician. At the peace he went from New York to Shelburne. He was forty-nine years of age and unmarried. His losses were estimated at £300. In 1800 he was surgeon to the Royal Newfoundland Regiment.
