BY THE EDITOR.

We have now a namesake in Lydiatt's new weekly from Toronto. Of course we know there is no other name as suitable as ours but still we think our name should not be pilloined even if the "swiper" does live in "hogtown."

By the way the designer of that pretty (?) heading must have had a hair on his pen when at work on the drawing.

This is the original Canadian Philatelic Weekly. It's the best in Canada and there's none so cheap—10c a year.

How do you like this issue? Yes, we'll do it again. Once every month.

Our next Special will appear Dec. 21st. It will be our Xmas Issue. Regular adv. rates in force.

We have doubled our circulation, which is now 1000 but our rates are still 25c per inch. Try one inch in next issue.

If you want to get this paper at 10c a year subscribe before Jan 1st.

We wish to draw your attention to the Cyclopaedia of Philatelic Terms now running in our columns. It will be of value to many and if you are not a subscriber it will pay you to send us 10c and get this paper for one year. This Condensed Cyclopaedia is alone worth the subscription price.

We expected to have a 12 or 16 page issue for this week but the advertising support we received did not warrant it.

How do you like our new illustrated heading? It's not "twice so worse" is it?

Alex. Muirhead is down now and everyone is pelting him, but at the same time we must allow, although we do see his imperfections, that he did a great deal for the D. P. A. Far more than many who are denouncing him.

And still that paper announced from Hamilton, the would-be ambitious city, has failed to materialize.

This paper together with the Stamp Reporter 6 months for 10c.

Settle your "specs" and gaze at Whately's ad. He wants your patronage and we are pleased to say is deserving of it.

How about joining the Canadian Philatelic Press Club? It's a good thing. Get in the band wagon.

One of Many.

Dear Sir:—

I received the Canadian Philatelic Weekly last Saturday night and it nearly knocked all the atmosphere out of me.

It was worth waiting two weeks to see such
