

such fear, and it became them not to remain silent after the language of the noble lord. The Protestant part of this country was increasingly alive to this subject, for they could not help seeing the progress which Popery had made of late years. They were told before 1829, "Oh! grant us this Bill; remove our civil disabilities (loud cheers); we shall be very thankful, and you will receive no further trouble from us." What had been the state of the Church of Rome since that time? Had they been pacified by those measures? (Hear, hear.) Anything but pacified, but every reflecting man knew at the time that they were only granting a boon to future agitation. (Hear, hear.) The noble lord had told them that the contest should go on till Protestantism was extinguished in Popish ascendancy. He feared no such result. The Romish Church might cause much unhappiness and misery; she might be a persecuting Church, as the noble lord admitted she had been, and went to Scripture for a justification. (No, no.) The argument appeared to him very inconclusive, but he certainly understood the noble lord to refer to the Old Testament, and to cite the example of the Jews, in exterminating the nations in their way to the promised land, as a justification of the ancient acts of the Church of Rome. But, when the noble lord asserted that Protestantism would become extinct under the foot of Rome, he told him that he was satisfied the Protestant Church was founded on a rock; but he regretted that the present Bill would revive the struggle, as it would no doubt tend to promote the interests of the Church of Rome.—He would oppose the Bill, and every other measure of the same character, which went to endanger or destroy the Protestant faith or the Protestant Church. If he spoke warmly on the question, he at least spoke honestly; and while he differed with Hon. members on the matter he did so with the kindest feelings. It was not on personal grounds that he opposed the measure, but because he considered it based upon a bad principle.

THE CORAL INSECT.

Professor Agassiz, in a recent lecture at Key West, stated that in the Peninsula of Florida, up to the surface of the water, has been entirely the work of the coral insect. There are, he said, different races of coral, some of which lay the foundation of the reef in deep water, build up to a certain height and die. These are succeeded by another race, who build up another step, and are followed by other races, until the edifice reaches to near the surface of the water, when the little mason is functus officio, and leaves his labours to be crowned by other agencies of nature. When this work is done, deposits from the sea are made upon the rock, which finally extend above the surface of the water, and become terra firma. He thinks that the Peninsula is but an extension of reef after reef, the first being the construction of the coral insect, then becoming reefs or islands, and the intervals between these being filled up in time by debris from the sea, all together forming the main land. "If this theory be true," says a Key West correspondent, "we may conclude that the wrecking business will last so long as the coral exists. Light-houses and beacons may warn the mariner from some of the dangers that lie in his path, but he has a little foe who is continually piling up stumbling blocks in his way, and laying snares in the track where he believed all was blue water and security."

TRUTH AGGRESSIVE.

Truth cannot pause when it has thus refuted and thrown back the things that it knew not, which yet were laid to its charge. In its very nature it is aggressive also. How should it not be so? how should it not make war on the strongholds of falsehood and error, when its very task in the world is to deliver them that were prisoners there? how should it not seek to gather men under its banner,—being moved, as it ever is, with an inward bleeding compassion for all them that are aliens from the faith of Christ, as knowing that every man till he has found himself in Him, is estranged from the true home of his spirit, and right centre of his being? How should it not press its treasures upon each, commend its medicines to all, when they are medicines for every man's hurt, treasures which would make every man rich? when it knows that as this the reality, of which every lie is the counterfeit; that when men are the fiercest set against it, then are they the most madly at strife with their, own blessedness?—Trench.

VAYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION. The uniform success which has attended the use of this preparation—its salutary effect—its power to relieve and cure affections of the Lungs, have gained for it a celebrity equalled by no other medicine. We offer it to the afflicted with entire confidence in its virtues, and the full belief that it will subdue and remove the severest attacks of disease upon the throat and Lungs. These results, as they become publicly known, very naturally attract the attention of medical men and philanthropists everywhere. What is their opinion of CHERRY PECTORAL may be seen in the following: VALENTINE MOTT, M. D. Prof. Surg. Med. College, New York, says:—"It gives me pleasure to certify the value and efficacy of Ayer's CHERRY PECTORAL, which I consider peculiarly adapted to cure disease of the Throat and Lungs." THE RIGHT REV. LORD BISHOP FIELD writes in a letter to his friend, who was fast sinking under an affection of the Lungs:—"Try the CHERRY PECTORAL, if any medicine can give you relief, with the blessing of God that will." CHIEF JUSTICE EUSTIS, of Louisiana, writes "That a young daughter of his was cured of several severe attacks of Croup by the 'CHERRY PECTORAL.'" Let the relieved sufferer speak for himself:—Hartford, Jan. 26, 1847. Dr. J. C. Ayer—Dear Sir,—Having been rescued from a painful and dangerous disease by your medicine, gratitude prompts me to send you this acknowledgment, not only in justice to you, but for the information of others in like affliction. A slight cold upon the lungs, neglected at first, became so severe that spitting of blood, a violent cough and profuse night sweats followed and fastened upon me. I became emaciated, could not sleep, was distressed by my cough, and a pain through my chest and in short had all the alarming symptoms of quick consumption. No medicine seemed at all to reach my case, until I providentially tried your CHERRY PECTORAL, which soon relieved and now has cured me. Yours with respect, E. A. STEWART. Albany, N. Y., April 17, 1848.

Dr. Ayer, Lowell—Dear Sir,—I have for years been afflicted with Asthma in the worst form; so that I have been obliged to sleep in my chair for a larger part of the time, being unable to breathe on my bed. I had tried a great many medicines, to no purpose, until my physician prescribed, as an experiment, your CHERRY PECTORAL. At first it appeared to make me worse, but in less than a week I began to experience the most gratifying relief from its use; and now, in four weeks, the disease is entirely removed. I can sleep on my bed with comfort, and enjoy a state of health which I had never expected to enjoy. GEORGE S. FARRANT. Sold by Lyman & Kneeshaw, Toronto; Hamilton and Kneeshaw, Hamilton; Wm. Lyman & Co., Montreal, Agents for the Canadas. March 4th, 1851. 32 3ia
