

extended by circular to the principal citizens of the Town, and to several people of Port Huron; so that the Church was well filled by a very select audience.

The building was a beautiful and tastefully decorated by the Sisters, and everything about the stage seemed to present an air of refinement and cultivation which it would be difficult to excel even in imagination. The Exercises were chiefly of an operatic character, and the manner in which the young ladies performed their parts must have been gratifying to the Sisters, whose patience and assiduity were displayed in the training necessary to produce such perfection in the execution of so many difficult roles. We are prepared to speak in the highest terms of approval of the articulation and delivery of every piece. The affair richly merited, and we may add, received the praise of all present, who were capable of appreciating it. The style in which many of the smaller pupils performed at the piano, was very highly applauded, and proved that in the institution, the object aimed at was thoroughness in every branch. Another important feature in the programme, was the fluency and ease with which some of the scholars recited in French. We might also mention the high state of perfection to which vocal music is brought in the school, many of the voices showing a purity and cultivation which are rare indeed, among such amateur performers. At the conclusion of the exercises, the Rev. E. B. Kilroy proceeded to distribute the prizes, a very important part of the ceremonies to many of the little ones, if we might judge of their feelings by the light of their countenances. The Rev. gentleman stated fully the nature and objects of the institution, claiming for it not only the thoroughness above mentioned, but full liberality in regard to religious training. No pupil's religious preference was tampered with in the slightest degree. The institution was Catholic, and the Catholic children were instructed in their own faith after the others were dismissed.

No Protestant was interfered with in this matter. They were permitted to read their Protestant Bibles, and worship in their own way. He thanked the audience, in behalf of the Sisters, for their presence and attention, and concluded by saying that he hoped next year, to be able to offer them something even better than this. The proceedings were then brought to a close, by singing God save the Queen, and the audience dispersed, well pleased with the day's entertainment. Many then repaired to the Convent, where the fancy-work, drawings, paintings, etc., were displayed for inspection. We did not intend to particularize any names, but there are a few, of whom it is no more than justice to make honorable mention. For instance, we might notice in drawing and painting Misses M. Dawson and M. Crawford; in instrumental music, Miss A. King, and in Vocal Music Misses N. Harkness and Florence Hazleton; and in fancy-work Misses E. Donnelly and N. Lamb. Miss F. Moffat was also much admired for her action in the part of the Gypsy, in the role of the Festival Crown.

We understand that this splendid institution is under the able management of Sister Mary Gabriel of the Convent of Hochelaga, daughter of G. J. Nagle Esq., of St. Hyacinthe, and sister to S. B. Nagle Esq., Advocate of this City. From want of space we are reluctantly obliged to omit the prize list.

ST. PATRICK'S ORPHAN ASYLUM PICNIC AND GAMES.—The annual picnic and games of the St. Patrick's Orphan Asylum, in aid of the funds of the charity, took place on Wednesday, 29 ult., in Guilbault's Garden, and must have been a very gratifying success to the energetic managers to judge from the immense number of persons present. The weather always the most important feature on any occasion, was fine the clouds preventing the hot sun from shining with the ferocity peculiar to his Solar Majesty at this season of the year. The ladies were out in large numbers, resplendent in white muslin starched jackets, and large feathers now usurping the place of the few straws dubbed the hat of the season. The managers attracted large numbers, and the juveniles seemed to take a special delight in irritating the monkeys to a frenzy, and seemed to be incited on to the cruel amusement rather than checked by the older juveniles, who had charge of them. The Canadian lion, Wallace, was a grand source of attraction, and returned the admiring glances of the spectators with that magnanimous indifference said to be characteristic of the king of beasts. The bears were the terror of toddling children, who cried when they saw them, and would not be comforted until a sight of the friendly cow, with a numerous progeny of legs, was obtained. The wonderful bull was said to be still more wonderful by a very enthusiastic individual upon whom the task of exhibiting it devolved, and who took advantage of the presence of so numerous an audience to declare the bull "did give milk," and forthwith proceeded to show it did to the delectation of not a few, and the astonishment of as many more. The animal is certainly extraordinary, and well worth seeing. The museum had also its share of visitors, while the swings afforded a good opportunity for lazy lovers to make themselves useful with the satisfaction that they were adding to the happiness of the objects so dear to them. Thus the interval between the assembling of the audience and the commencement of the games whiled away, and the sound of the bell gave notice of the beginning of the races and other sports. These took place on the usual ground and course. The first was a flat race, 1 mile. Four started. Charles Jones, A. Moffat, J. H. Brindly and John Durkin. After a very pretty and closely contested race, Durkin came in first, followed by Brindly second, Moffat third, and Jones fourth. No entries were made for the running long leap, or race over hurdles, which as a consequence did not come off.

Tilting at the Ring brought several of the 13th Hussars into the ring, and of course the handsome and dashing fellows were at once the subjects of admiration from the fair sex, who were loud in their exclamations of "Oh, don't they look handsome!" "How can they sit on those wild horses?" Many a gallant was driven to desperation in hearing such remarks from the fair one whom he had taken to the picnic, and in order to do so, had been put to no little inconvenience, besides arraying himself in his very best tweed, duck or broadcloth. Plain looking husbands with young wives felt uncomfortable as they heard the undisguised admiration of their better halves for the cavalry boys, and felt very much as if they would like to go home, especially as they had been holding the baby for the last hour or so. But, happy to relate, nothing serious resulted, and the first prize for taking the ring was awarded to Private Robert Gar; second to Private Gardner.

5. Mounted Practice Sword Exercise.—This gave the Hussars an opportunity of displaying some very fine horsemanship, and the good training of their horses. The men went into the exercises with spirit and some wicked cuts were given, the sharp cracks of which, as the sticks struck the chests of the riders, made the rheumatic spectator to ejaculate his horror in a loud ah! and mutter his thankfulness that it was not on him the blows descended. The winners were, first prize, Private Gardner; second, Private Sedgwick.

No. 6. Dismounted Fois and Sticks, Single.—The hussars proved in this that they were as expert on foot as on horseback. The contests were spirited. First prize, Private Sedgwick; second, Private Gar.

No. 7. Gun and Bayonet versus Sword.—First prize, Private Young; second, Private Typen. A sack race for boys concluded the programme. During the games, for those who felt inclined to trip the light fantastic toe, to use a very venerable phrase, a quadrille band had been posted in the skating rink, and it would have made a cripple hop to have seen the merry way in which galops and polkas, both British and Danish, schottishes and redows were danced to the lively strains of a familiar air. At last the picnic came to a close, and every one departed, well pleased with the afternoon's enjoyments. The committee must be congratulated on the success of their arrangements. It must not be forgotten to state that the picnic was conducted on strictly temperance principles.—Gazette.

We have received from the Messrs. Dawson Bros., of this city, the following newly published works:—

THE HISTORY OF A MOUTHFUL OF BREAD, and its Effects on the organization of Men and Animals. Translated from the French of M. Jean Mace, by Mrs. Alfred Gatty. New York: Harper Bros.

THE SERVANTS OF THE STOMACH.—by the same author, also translated from the French.

These two works are, it may be said, on the same subject, the second being an appropriate sequel to the first. The object of the writer is to show in simple and concise form, the functions of the stomach; and those of the other members of the human body. Both works contain much useful information, agreeably imparted.

DEAD SEA FRUIT.—A Novel by M. E. Braddon. Messrs. Dawson Bros., Montreal.

This is another novel from the ever teeming pen of Miss Braddon, a writer of great power, but whose works are not always of a character to be put into the hands of young persons. She belongs to the "sensational school," and her knowledge of slang is perfectly marvellous in a woman. "Dead Sea Fruit" appears less objectionable than many of her other productions.

BURN'S POETICAL WORKS.—New York: D. Appleton & Co.

This is a very neat edition of the complete works of Scotland's peasant poet, to which is prefixed a Life of the Author. It is well printed, and is sold for fifty cents by Messrs. Dawson Bros., Montreal.

FATHER CLEVELAND OR THE JESUIT, by the Author of Life in the Cloister. Boston: P. Donahoe.

An interesting little tale, founded on fact, and of which the aim is to show by example how foul a thing is the sin of slander.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—About half-past one this morning, a Mr. Nolan went to his brother's residence Mr. George Nolan, printer, who keeps a boarding house at 570 LaGauchiere street, between Bluary and Anderson streets. Arriving there, the visitor Nolan, who was tipsy, got into a dispute with his brother, and made such an uproar in the house that the boarders were awake and kept from sleeping. So long did the noise continue that one of the boarders, Mr. Mills, a young man, well-known in the city, particularly among gymnastic circles, went down to restore quiet if possible. There he met the uproarious Nolan who showed no inclination to cease the noise he was making. Falling in his attempts by gentle means, Mr. Mills, with the assistance of Mr. George Nolan, then tried to put the noisy visitor out by force. While attempting this the visitor Nolan drew a pistol, cocked it and fired it, so it happened the ball passing through his own fore finger and thumb of the right hand, and striking Mr. Mills in the lower jaw completely shattering it and lodging in a part of the throat or chest, where the doctors could not discover it last night. Nolan was immediately taken prisoner to the St. Charles Baronne street station, and Mr. Mills conveyed to the General Hospital. The affair has caused the most painful excitement the victim being an amiable and respectable young man, enjoying the friendship of a large circle of acquaintances, among whom the greatest indignation is evinced at the cowardly conduct of the prisoner Nolan. Another account says that the shot was fired while the parties were on the street. It seems a fact that after the shot was fired, a struggle was continued for a short time before Mr. Mills went for assistance. The sergeant from the central station proceeded to Mr. George Nolan's residence about four o'clock this morning and procured the pistol, a six shooter. Mr. Mills lies in a very precarious state at the hospital. At latest account the ball had not been extracted, and it would likely be found an impossibility to do so. On visiting Mr. Mills at the General Hospital this morning, he could with difficulty speak and complained of great pain when he attempted to swallow. The ball entered the chin, just below the teeth, and does not appear to have broken the jaw as was at first supposed. Where the ball is lodged the wounded man has no idea as no pain is felt except in the swollen part of the lower jaw.—Evening Telegraph, July 30.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock a man named Magloire Lauzon, superintending the demolition of a house in Little St. James Street, belonging to Mr. Joseph, was accidentally caught between the legs by a piece of timber and thrown up in the air some twelve or fifteen feet. He fell in the rear of the building a height of about 35 feet on some stones, fracturing several of his ribs, his skull, and jaw bone and receiving other injuries. He was immediately removed to the Montreal General Hospital, where he died shortly afterwards. An inquest was held by Mr. Coroner Jones, and the jury after hearing the evidence rendered a verdict of "Accidental Death." The deceased Lauzon leaves a wife and six young children, the youngest being but two days old.—Herald 31.

SEIZURE OF AN ILLEGAL STILL.—Last night about 8 o'clock an illicit still in full operation was seized at the corner of LaGauchiere and Oatheart streets, by Mr. Bellemere, customs officer. The still was a very large one and the apparatus was very complete. Information had been given by a party formerly one of the illicit distillers.—Evening Telegraph.

DISCOVERY OF ANOTHER GOLD AND SILVER MINE.—On the seventh range of the lots in Rawdon, Co. Montcalm, has been found a large vein of quartz, yielding gold and silver to the value of twenty-one dollars to the ton, at the depth of one and a half feet from the surface. The quartz has, we are informed, been assayed by Dr. Greenwood, and found of great richness. It is alleged to be far more valuable than that discovered at St. Alphonse, and can be worked with more facility, as a large stream of water passes at the base of the rock, which can be used in crushing operations. It is also stated that the mine contains veins of plumbago of more or less value.—Daily News.

THE MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT AT CAGUENA.—Miss Mathieson, eldest daughter of the Rev. Dr. Mathieson of Montreal, was drowned at 11 o'clock, on Wednesday morning while out bathing in company with Miss Campbell. The two young ladies ventured in the wrong direction from a rock where they had been resting, at some distance from the shore, and soon got beyond their depth. Miss Campbell was rescued by a lad who was attracted by her shrieking, but unfortunately Miss Mathieson was beyond the lad's depth. The residents were on the spot en masse soon after hearing the melancholy news, and a deep feeling pervaded the crowd. Expressions of sympathy for the venerable father of the unfortunate lady, and regret for the loss of one so amiable, were freely uttered. Miss Mathieson was induced, against her own desire, by many kind friends to accompany them to Caguenia.

FIRE IN TEMPLETON.—We regret to learn that in the township of Templeton the fires in the bush are doing serious injuries to the farmers, having, in some cases destroyed the hay crop and other growing produce. In some localities parties have been out night and day of late battling with fire; and we learn from parties in the city who have friends there, that they are daily in expectation of hearing that they have lost all their property.—Ottawa Citizen.

TWO MEN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.—This morning, at 2 o'clock, a man named Nolan, a clerk, while in a state of intoxication in a boarding house at the corner of Anderson and LaGauchiere streets, fired at another boarder, and so far as could be learned, shot him in the month, and in the scuff which ensued, shot himself in the wrist. Both men were ultimately taken to Dr. Campbell's, Craig street. The man who fired the pistol is under arrest.—Gazette 30th ult.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED.—We are sorry to learn that a melancholy accident occurred on Sunday last, adjacent to the village of Havellock, in the County of Pontiac, by which two brothers, named O'Rourke, were drowned. It appeared that the younger of the two went to bathe, and going beyond his depth, had not sufficient presence of mind to turn back, and make for the extremity of the sand bar from which he started. His elder brother, who was about eighteen years of age, went to his aid; but alas! the current being too strong, he could not succeed in rescuing him, and in his endeavors to save his younger brother, he became himself completely exhausted, and, sad to relate, both went to the bottom in the presence of their father and mother, who had not the means at hand of saving for so untimely an end their sole future dependence. This is another warning to parents to keep a strict watch over their children, particularly during the summer months.—Referee Union.

DISEASE IN THE POTATO.—The Kingston News says this disease has already developed its presence in Kingston and vicinity, and fears are entertained of great loss through its influence. Another rather unusual, but not unprecedented, circumstance connected with the potato this season, caused by the excessive heat of the soil, is to be observed in many patches of the most forward and thrifty varieties—that of the new tuber throwing out shoots for a fresh plant, while the old stocks gradually and prematurely die off giving place to the new ones. This action of the plant tends to rapidly exhaust the potato, and render it unfit for food. A large and splendid field of potatoes owned by Mr. Tomkins, Barrie Street, is effected in this way to such an extent that the convalescing his only remedy to be digging them at once before they become totally worthless; perhaps the best plan for all to adopt who are similarly situated. There can be little doubt but that the full crop will be seriously curtailed by these untoward circumstances.

TWO YOUNG MEN BELONGING TO LONDON, Donald McIntosh and Henry Boulie, were killed on Wednesday evening last, as the return excursion train was nearing Thamesville, a station about fifty miles west of London. The young man had got on the top of cars, and failing to notice the covered bridge about one mile west of the above station, came in contact with the timbers, their heads being so fearfully crushed by the collision that death was almost immediate. The remains of the unfortunate young men were brought to London for interment.

Patrick Boyle, of the Irish Canadian, was released from the Toronto gaol Monday by order of Judge Morrison, who delivered a very elaborate judgment in the case. He decided that the Court, has jurisdiction, even when the Habeas Corpus is suspended, when there is any defect in the warrant or mode of commitment, as in Boyle's case.

On Thursday morning, at an early hour, a servant of Mr. Andrew Murphy, grocer, Toronto, named Susan Brown had some angry words with Mrs. Murphy the evening previous, and had left the house which was locked, and occupants retired for the night. About one o'clock the girl returned and demanded admittance, which was refused. She then threatened to "burn down" the house; but her words passed unheeded. She proceeded, however, to carry her threat into effect, by collecting inflammable material at the side of the house. Mr. Murphy became alarmed, got up, and arrested her before she had time to ignite the stuff. He handed her over to the police.

THE BRIDAL OF DEATH.—Peter Seck, of St. Clements county of Waterloo, went to Mornington a few days ago, to bring home his intended bride. He was sunstruck on the way, and on the day arranged for his bridal, he was clothed in the garments of death.

The St. Catharines Journal says: "The protracted drought is producing the same effect this year as last year. The water has become so scarce that the superintendent has been compelled to deny water to the mills and factories along the canal, and now those which are without steam are stopped. Indeed, the water is so low that the vessels have difficulty in getting along and many of them, with one-third less load than usual, ground in the channel and on the mill sills. It would take at least a month's rain to raise the canal in a proper state of navigation."

One of the most remarkable features attending the physical phenomena of the present season is the prevalence of fog along our coast. We are informed by persons residing along our shores that from the middle of June up to the present time our coast has not for twenty-four hours at one time, been free from a dense fog. During the day the heat of the sun will dissipate it for a few miles from the coast line, but as the sun declines it comes in again upon the land, and remains until driven off by old Sol on the next day. That mythical individual, the oldest inhabitant fails to remember any such occurrence during his life time. Another peculiarity noticed by those who "go down to sea in ships," is the continued calmness that prevails at sea. Captains of vessels arriving here lately from the West Indies tell us that for weeks and weeks during recent voyages the water had surrounded them "like a sea of glass, unbroken by the faintest breath." This is corroborated by the length of time occupied by vessels in making passages to our port: We recently reported the arrival of a vessel from Bermuda which occupied some twenty days in making the voyage; and about the same time another arrived from Barbadoes, after a passage of forty days. These phenomena, with the extreme heat experienced throughout Quebec, Ontario and the United States, as well as throughout Europe are among the specialties of the year.—Halifax Colonist.

WHAT ARE THE SYMPTOMS OF WORMS?—In children they are indicated by itching of the nose, bad breath, grinding of the teeth and starting in sleep, paleness and emaciation, one cheek flushed and upper lip swelled, irritable, capricious temper, &c. Remove the worms and all these symptoms are removed, but how to do this is the question, purges weaken the strength without removing the evil, calomel produces disease more fatal than the worms, the ordinary Vermifuges are so disgusting as often to cause spasms in administering, fortunately scientific discovery comes to our relief and in "Devins' Vegetable Worm Pills" we have a remedy at once safe, speedy and reliable, as delicious as the best Confectionery and as eagerly taken as the finest Sugar Plumb.
