

North American Free Trade Agreement is available from the InfoCentre at the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade. The U.S. publication The North American Free Trade Agreement — The United States, Canada and Mexico is available from the USINS offices listed at the end of this booklet.

Under the NAFTA, certain Canadian professionals are permitted entry to engage in business activities at a professional level; included are accountants, engineers, librarians, social workers, psychologists, teachers and zoologists. A full listing of the professions covered is found in the two pamphlets mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

There are specific U.S. requirements for a Canadian entering as a Visitor for Business, a Treaty Trader, a Treaty Investor or as an Intra-company Transferee. In each case you must meet established legal requirements. If you believe that you fall under the category of Treaty Trader or Treaty Investor, you should call one of the following numbers for further information: 1-900-451-6330 (recording) or 1-900-451-6663 (to speak to a visa specialist). If you are entering the United States as a Visitor for Business or as an Intra-company Transferee, call one of the USINS offices listed at the end of this booklet.

Truck drivers and other persons involved in inter-country transportation are permitted entry to transport goods or passengers to or from a point in the United States. After entry, they are not permitted to pick up additional cargo or passengers for delivery within the United
