U. S. ARMY TEAM DEFEATS THE NAVY

Forward Pass and Goals From Placement Are Chief Factors in Winners' Score.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Army football team furnished a spectacular and confusing finale to the eastern football season of 1913 by defeating the Navy eleven at the Polo Grounds today by a score of 22 to 9.

Completely outplayed during the opening period of the game, the Cadets swept the Sailors off their feet in the second half of the contest by a combination of brilliant individual and open team play that quickly rolled up an overwhelming lead.

With victory in sight for the first time in four years, the West team scored rapidly and finished the game with a total that has not been exceeded by either academy in ten years.

Despite the complete annihilation of the Navy combination, and its hope of a fourth consecutive victory over the Army, the game was fought out desperately until the closing moment, and the Sailors went down with flying colors.

From the standpoint of the spectator the game and its setting lost nothing of its thrilling grip and interest, as a result and the 42,000 persons present gasped and cheered by turns at the kaleidoscopic playing scenes depicted on the muddy turf at their feet.

The Forward Pass.

The use of the forward pass repeatedly by the Cadets opened up the play to a far greater extent than the more conservative line attack and end runs of the middies, thus furnishing the spectators with many brilliant football pictures, and the Army a vehicle of victory. It was in the execution of this play that the Army advantage lay, and the final score demonstrates how successfully it was worked.

During the sixty minutes of play the Navy eleven failed to show the consistent advancing power that had brought them seven victories by big scores in the eight preliminary games of the season. While the Army did not as a team diagnose the attack successfully, the desperate charging and tackling of the Cadets upset the interference and brought down the runner with little or no gain. Nicholls, who played under the severe handicap of running the team and the ball, repeatedly was outpunted by Jouett, and the Army ends covered the latter's punts better than did the middy wing tips.

It was distance gained by exchange of kicks and in running back punts that usually put the Army in a position for a score. Once within the scoring zone, the Cadets relied mainly on the forward pass and the records show that they tried twelve during the game. Three were completed and of this trio two resulted in touchdowns. A fourth was intercepted and eight were uncompleted. The middies tried six forward passes, one being intercepted and five grounded.

Altho the attack and defence of the two teams lacked the cohesiveness seen in some of the preceding games of the eastern season there was no lack of individual brilliancy and daring play.

Three Goals From Placement.

Brown, in kicking three placement goals in three tries from an average distance of 24 2-3 yards, gained a place in the 1913 football hall of fame, as did Pritchard and Merill for their operation of the forward pass. Nicholls, the middy quarterback, shouldered a heavy burden of play and responsibility and came thru the contest with much credit. Markoe and Merrill more than held their own with the famous Navy ends, Ingram and Gilchrist, while Wynne and McEwan did yeoman work in the Army line.

In the Navy backfield McReavy shared honors with Nicholls, while Hoge, Pritchard and Jouett were effective, both on the offence and defence in the Army backfield.

Forty-two thousand persons saw the Navy go down in defeat. No greater throng has ever seen an Army-Navy game.

The multitude which crowded the grandstands and the wooden stands, where sat the bleachers in baseball days, included President Wilson, the secretaries of war and of the navy, other cabinet officers, senators, congressmen and the flower of the military and naval service. Many persons were unable to secure admittance owing to the lack of space, every seat in the Polo Grounds being occupied.

WILLIE THE FINN SAILS AWAY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Willie Kolehmainen the professional long-distance runner, will sail for England today. He will be a competitor in the Edinburgh modified Marathon on New Year's Day, and after that will make a tour of Europe. Hans Holmer, an American, is likely to be the most formidable opponent of Kolehmainen.

ON ATHENAEUM ALLEYS.

In a friendly game of tenpins rolled on the Athenaeum alleys Saturday afternoon between the Toronto Office of the Canadian Electric, and the Peterboro office, the visiting members came out victorious, winning all three games, Mr. Mills being high man for the visiting team with 452 for three games, and Mr. Mahoney being high man for the Toronto team with 468 for three games. AT THE COLLEGE CLUB.

In the T.B.C. Fivepin League, at the College Club Saturday night, Feather Aylesworth's collection of golf and bridge players, and labeled Canalites, were badly defeated in all three games by Woodgreens, and the latter, by way of impressing upon the boys who wear the gown what they were stacked up against, stuck in a 785 count in the first game, which is the record for the season. In this engagement Frank Barnett counted 227 for Woodgreens, and was high for the night, with a 472 total, while Packard and Le Roy furnished the next best clouters for the east end club, with totals of 453 and 421, respectively. For Canalites, "Col." White got whatever honors that were going with a 356 collection, while Louie Monahan was a walking second, with 354. For the balance of the team, the scores will tell the sorrowful tale.

At the College Club Wednesday afternoon, Henry Nagle's High Park lawn bowlers will roll a five-man team match against a team of old boys selected by James Curry, president of the Business Men's League.

As a penalty to his team, Manager Aylesworth has ordered practice hours every day at the College Club until the next engagement.

PREMIER AND DR. PYNE GO SOUTH FEW MINISTERS AT QUEEN'S PARK

Lull That Precedes Rush of Opening Now Being Enjoyed—Adam Beck Going to England, and May Leave Decision on Street Railway Deal Till After Christmas.

The forces at Queen's Park are enjoying the lull that precedes the rush of preparation for the opening of the provincial house, early in the new year. Several of the ministers are away on brief tours to be concluded before Christmas.

Following the announcement of his intention to take a rest, Sir James Whitney, in compnay with Hon. Dr. Pyne, has left for a visit among some of the southern states. No word has been left as to the date of his return, and it is understood that the condition of his health will alone decide his reappearance in the premier's office at the parliament buildings.

Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, is at the present time in England. His trip was not announced as in the nature of a business inquiry, but it is thought that he will gain personally some data relative to the new good roads propaganda in the province. Provincial Road Engineer Maclean, following an investigation of European roads, suggested several proposals that demanded a more thoro knowledge, and Dr. Reaume will examine some of these during his absence.

Beck Goes Abroad.

Another Ontario minister. Hon. Adam Beck, is on the point of an old country visit. Early in the week the outstanding commission work will be disposed of and Mr. Beck will leave the city. It has been his intention to spend Christmas in England with Mrs. Beck, who has been there for some time.

It is a matter of speculation whether the attitude of the minister of power on the Toronto Railway purchase will become known before his departure or not. It is now recognized that the opposing interests of the deal have made a purchase vote on Jan. 1 practically impossible, and under this condition it is not unlikely that the chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission may defer his opinion for some time.

CROWDS AROUND OSGOODE AT FUNERAL OF SIR AEMILIUS

Last Tribute Paid By Members of the Bar, Business Men and the General Public.

Thousands paid tribute to the memory of the late Sir Aemilius Irving at Osgoode Hall on Saturday afternoon before his body left in state the ancient precincts where he had for so long been a familiar figure. Citizens of all classes took advantage of the opportunity to pay respect to Sir Aemilius, one of Canada's most illustrious sons. Black-robed judges, benchers of the law society, prominent members of the Canadian bar and business and professional men of all classes gathered in the memory of one whom Canada has delighted to honor.

After a private service at the family mansion at 19 Russell street, the body was conveyed to Osgoode Hall, where it was placed in state in the centre atrium at 1.30 in the afternoon From that time until the funeral service commenced hundreds of people thronged into the building to gaze upon a face which was peaceful in its serenity and bearing evidence of the resignation with which the summons was received.

Rich and poor alike thronged thru the central hall to gain a last glimpse of the departed, showing thus ample testimony that he had been a man beloved alike by people of all classes and conditions.

Outside thousands not fortunate enough to gain admittance waited patiently in the hope of catching a glimpse of the casket as it was borne to the waiting hearse. Beyond the grounds also many hundreds more were congregated, and an additional crowd gazed on the funeral cortege as it proceeded to St. James' Cemetery.

Around the bier, the friends of Sir Aemilius spoke in whispers, relating personal incidents with which they connected the name of the departed.

Promptly at 2.30 o'clock Rev. Ensor Sharp of St. Thomas' advanced to take charge of the funeral service. Of an impressive nature were the obsequies, as in the solemn ritual of the Church of England the burial service was read. The crowd then shifted, and the departure to the cemetery took place.

The pallbearers included Gregory Aemilius Irving, jr., of New York; Jacob Aemilius Irving of Toronto, William D. P. Jarvis, Aemilius Jarvis, William Sutherland of Montreal, and Edward Clifford of Ancaster.

The mourners were the sons, G. Ae. Irving of New York, L. H. Irving of Toronto, and C. H. Irving of Banshew; also L. E. W. Irving, D.S.O., of Edmonton; Col. H. Erskine Irving, a brother; Aemilius Jarvis of Toronto, a nephew, and Arthur S. Piers of Montreal a grand-nephew.

Among the flowers that banked the casket were the following: A spray from Upper Canada College, of which Sir Aemilius was a director, a bouquet from a Forsyth family of Ottawa; a cross from his sister, Mrs. Gresford Edmonds, Old Hall, Glamorganshire; wreath from Mrs. Adam Warnock, Galt; spray from Mr. Homfray Irving; wreath from St. Andrew's Lodge, A..F. and A.M.; Masonic emblem from Ionic Lodge; wreath from Victoria Club; bouquet from Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moss; spray from Mrs. Stockwell; basket from the Toronto General Trusts, and a wreath from Aemilius Jarvis.

ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF KILLING HUSBAND

Wife Testified That Poekes Shot Himself During a Struggle.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—(Can. Press.)—The Seine assizes today acquitted of murder Mme. Susanne Poekes, whose husband, a Paris business man, was found dead in bed in his home here last June with five bullets in his body and one bullet in his head. The defence claimed that the woman loved her husband, and that there was no motive for desiring his death.

In explaining the number of wounds in the body, the woman said that Poekes had attempted to commit suicide and had shot himself in the head and that five shots in the body were accidentally fired while she was struggling to take the revolver away from Poekes.

Three days after the shooting and while in the Saint Lazare prison Mme. Poekes gave birth to a child.

WILSON A CZAR SAYS "UNCLE JOE"

Cannon Admits He Was Amateurish in Methods Compared With the President.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(Can. Press.)—"They said I was a czar when I was in the speaker's chair at Washington, but Woodrow Wilson can give me cards and spades in that line."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon declared thus tonight at the annual dinner of the Illinois St. Andrew's Society.

"But he is your president and my president," the former speaker continued, "and if he should be mistaken in his ideals and methods, and in the future fails to give us the prosperity promised he will fall in 1916, for our fathers so made it that we can reverse the engine when things do not go right."

Mr. Cannon responded to a toast "The Land We Live In." He said immigration should be made easier by the removal of restrictions.

Others who responded to toasts were Duncan MacInnes of New York; Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, Edmonton, Alta., and President James of the University of Illinois. Each of the 1200 guests wore a sprig of heather sent from Skibo castle by Andrew Carnegie.

GERMANY MAY EXHIBIT.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—(Can. Press.)—The various parties in the reichstag today held a conference on the question of German participation in the Panama Pacific Exposition. The Radicals, National Liberals, Socialists and Clericals declared in favor of official representation by Germany.
