

TRUPH OF BRITISH IS FULLY CONFIRMED BY SIR JOHN FRENCH

Letters Found on Bodies of German Soldiers Indicated Firm Belief That Paris Would Soon Fall—First Sign of Retreat on Sept. 7—Wanton Damage
by Retreating Foe.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The official press bureau issued a statement today based on information sent from headquarters by Field Marshal Sir John French, under date of Sept. 11. This account is compiled from data received from the front, and carries the operations from the 4th to the 10th of September, both days inclusive.

The report continues: "It will be remembered that the general position of our troops on Sunday, Sept. 6, was stated to be south of the River Marne, with the French forces on our right and left. Practically there had been no change in the situation since Thursday, Sept. 3, which marked the end of our army's long retirement from the Belgian frontier north of France."

After pointing out the change in the German plan of attack, the enemy starting to move in a southerly direction, the report goes on:

"On Sunday, Sept. 6, large hostile forces crossed the Marne and pushed on thru Coulmiers and east. They were attacked at night by the French fifth army, which captured three villages at the point of the bayonet."

General Advance of Allies.

"On Monday, Sept. 7, there was a general advance on the part of the allies. In this quarter of the field our forces, which had been reinforced, pushed on in a northerly direction in co-operation with the advance of the French fifth army, to the north, and to the French sixth army, to the eastward, against the German rear guard along the River Ourcq. Possibly weakened by the detachment of troops to the eastern theatre of operations and realizing that the action of the French fifth army against the line of Ourcq and the advance of the British placed their own flanking movement in considerable danger of being taken in the rear, the German forces on this day commenced to retire toward the northeast."

Began Retreat.

"This was the first sign that these troops had turned back since their attack at Mons a fortnight before, and from reports received, the order to retreat when so close to Paris was a bitter disappointment. From letters found on dead soldiers there is no doubt there was a general impression amongst the enemy's troops that they were about to enter Paris."

"On Tuesday, Sept. 8, the German movement northwards was continued. Their rear guard on the south of the Marne, being pressed back to that river by our troops and by the French on our right, the latter capturing three villages, after a hand-to-hand fight and the infliction of a severe loss on the enemy."

Bloody Conflicts.

"The fighting along the Ourcq continued on this day, and was of the most sanguinary character, for the Germans had massed a great force of artillery along this line. Very few of their infantry were seen by the French. The French fifth army also made a fierce attack on the Germans in Montmirail, regaining that place."

"On Wednesday, Sept. 9, the battle between the French sixth army and what was now the German flank guard along the Ourcq continued. The British corps, overcoming some resistance on the River Petit Morin, crossed the Marne in pursuit of the Germans, who now were hastily retreating northwards. On our corps was delayed by an obstinate defence made by a strong rear guard with machine guns at Laferrière-sous-Jouarre, where the bridge had been destroyed."

"On Thursday, Sept. 10, the French sixth army continued its pressure on the west, while the fifth army, by forced marches, reached the line of Chateau-Thierry and Dormans on the Marne."

British in Pursuit.

"Our troops also continued the pursuit on the north of the latter river, and after a considerable amount of fighting secured some 1500 prisoners, four guns, six machine guns and fifty transport wagons."

"Many of the enemy were killed or wounded and the numerous thick woods which dot the country north of the Marne are filled with German stragglers. Most of them appear to have been without food for at least two days."

"Indeed, in this area of the operations, the Germans seem to be demoralized and inclined to surrender in small parties, and the general situation appears to be most favorable to the allies."

"Much brutal and senseless damage has been done in the villages occupied by the enemy. Property has been wantonly destroyed. Pictures in churches have been ripped up and houses generally have been pillaged."

"It is stated on unimpeachable authority also that the inhabitants have been much ill-treated. The French army has been ordered to take no reprisals against the civilians. Measures were promptly taken to head off the enemy, who were surrounded and trapped in a sunken road, where over 400 men surrendered."

Fought to End.

"On Sept. 10, a small party under a non-commissioned officer was surrounded and surrounded. After a desperate resistance it was decided to go on fighting to the end. Finally the non-commissioned officer and one man only were left, both of them being wounded."

"The Germans came up and shouted to them, 'Say anything you want.' The non-commissioned officer, however, refused to them to keep their arms, and then asked permission to shake hands with the wounded non-commissioned officer, who was carried off on his stretcher with his rifle by his side."

"The arrival of reinforcements and the continued advance have delighted our troops, who are full of zeal, and anxious to press on."

Aviators' Good Work.

"One of the features of the campaign on our side has been the excellent work done by the Royal Flying Corps. In regard to the collection of information it is impossible either to award too much praise to our aviators for the way they have carried out their duties or to over-estimate the value of the intelligence collected, more especially during the recent advance."

"TOWNSHIP HAS BEEN THE WORM TOO LONG"

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board will meet in the city hall on Thursday next and will consider the petition for the annexation of Cedarvale to the city.

York Township Council will appeal to the board against the levy of two cents said W. A. Clarke yesterday, "when it is a county bridge." We would pay half in any case, but object to paying the whole amount. We have been the worm too long in these matters of bridge and subways, and we are going to turn now."

MEETING FOR BANK REFORM

Runnymede Liberal-Conservative Adopt Strong Resolution.

INTERESTING SPEECHES
Suggested That Legislature
Hold a Special Session.

"That this meeting of the Runnymede Liberal-Conservative Association, after discussion of the banking system of Canada, approves of the principle of a national bank and a national currency, issued and guaranteed by the government; and that we believe that present conditions warrant some measure of moratorium in regard to mortgages, and that we believe that the government should cordially request the assistance of our representatives in the Dominion Parliament and the local legislature in correcting these matters."

This resolution was unanimously adopted at a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Runnymede Liberal-Conservative Association in Cook's Hall last night. The evening was devoted to the discussion of the unwarranted increase in the price of foodstuffs and the failure of the banks to deal liberally with the unprecedented financial situation now existing. President I. C. Veinor occupied the chair, and among those who delivered addresses were W. F. Maclean, M.P., Forbes Godfrey, M.L.A., and J. E. Lawson.

Control Simpson said that, thru his connection with the city council and labor organizations, he was well in touch with the general situation. He pointed out that the law of supply and demand, labor and the great increase in the cost of living was due to the increase in the price of foodstuffs. This could be remedied by closer relations between the producer and the consumer thru municipal markets and direct buying.

With regard to the financial situation, it was necessary that the banks should do their duty by the public at this time. He suggested that the government should at once take steps to regulate a national bank, which would be of great benefit to the public.

W. F. Maclean said that all were affected by the question under discussion. "We should make our duty to the public," he said, "and not to the banks. The country is in a state of financial panic, and the banks are not doing their duty. The government should take steps to regulate a national bank, which would be of great benefit to the public."

"The support of the government seems to have been chosen with a view to the management of the situation. The group effectively accentuated the subtlety of the Japanese character.
