Canada's Needs.

In the evening, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, in an address of sustained eloquence and power, spoke on "The Timeliness of the Association to Meet the Needs of Canada." He referred to Canada as a young country with the door of apa young country with the door of poportunity open for the association to enter and claim its own. The great work of the future, as far as Canada was concerned, was immigration and the problem was to educate the incoming thousands to become good citizens. In his closing paragraph he said: "The north half of this continent is held by a young nation holding in the hand wealth untold; it inherits we great histories; in its veins mingle the eat histories; in its veins mingle the st blood of many races; thru its finer fancies wells the promise of a great to-morrow; it rises to answer every great call. It is at this moment, on the eve of a great choice. To organize the powers of this nation for world service, and to pledge it for world peaze, and to do it now, who knoweth, men of the Young Men's Christian Association, whether they are come into the tion, whether thou art come into the ple kingdom for such a time as this?"

The Greatest Opportunity.

The fact that the theme of his address had been urged persistently by men from New York suggested to him that the leaders. that the leaders of the association held the view that in Canada the Y.M.

President of Toronto Y.M.C.A., last night elected president of the International Association.

C. A. had to-day an opportunity larger, and more hopeful than it ever had in Great Britain, and more far-reaching than it has to-day in the United States. Two facts in the Can dian situation seemed to justify that view. One was that the Dominion is a democracy; the other that it is young.

"These two factors must be fully independent and readily estimated if we understood and readily estimated if we would judge aright of the place and part of the Y.M.C.A. from and in every institution of civilization in meeling the needs of Canada," he said. "Understand that Canada is a democracy. By that I mean that the power of government, the full autonomy of law making, the right to say what laws shall be enacted and by whom enferced, that that power and right are the inalienable possessions of the peo-ple of this Dominion."

At the same time, Canadians had a At the same time, Canadians and a menarch, and they put as much depth of feeling and sincerity in the singing of "God Save the King" as the citizens of any republic did when they sang their peculiar national anthem.

An Evil and a Failure.

But that throne and that monarch was based upon the people's will, the power behind the parliament of Canada and the enforcement of its laws was the sovereign will of the com-mon people. The fundamental fact of that was that if there was evil in the body politic, if there was suppression of justice, the responsibility lay with the people.

"It means more," said Dr. Macdonald. "It means this, that the measure of that evil is the measure of the failure of the church, and the school, and the Y.M.C.A., and all the agencies that are set for the education and the uplift and the redemption of the people."

Canada was a new democracy. Great Britain had its institutions fixed for centuries before the Y.M.C.A. was bern, and the American republic was set in its ways while as yet the Y.M.C.A. was in leading strings. But the appropriate had now some to its the association had now come to it-self and had proved its worth at the

THE SUNDAY WORLD

Pardon us, while we crow a little about our new service. The Sunday World has secured the rights for Canada of the Hearst features. These include the best comic section printed by any paper, with the Katzenjammer Kids, Buster and his Mother, Gloomy Gus, Howson Lott and Jimmy. These features are printed in four colors and there's a laugh in every movement of the bunch. Another new thing will be the Jeff and Mutt series, a daily cartoon for The Morning and Sunday World.

THE HAUSTRATED SECTION:

Monday will be Thankssiving Day, and this section of the paper has been prepared with special reference to that festival. In addition, the news events of the week will be fully illustrated. There are several striking pictures of the laying of the cornerstone of St. Augustine's Seminary on the Kingston-road. The seminary is being built thru the generosity of Mr. Eugene O'Keefe, who contributed $300,000 thru the worthy object of educating Catholic young men for the priestford of the worthy object of educating Catholic young Church hood. Other events illustrated are the Toronto Garrison Church parade, and the Hunt Club races, which were attended by His Excellency Earl Grey and other notables.

Every department of the paper will show an improvement over former issues. The Saturday sporting and news events will be fully covered, and you cannot afford to be without The Sunday World if you want to keep right up to date with what is going on in the world.
