A Sale of the Newest Model Gowns at $14.50 (One Third Their Value)

If any one said you could buy your new reception or evening gown before the season really opens at one-half or one-third the regular price, "too good to be true" would be your first answer—but

That is just what over one hundred women will do here on our third floor Wednesday morning.

We bought at a fraction of their value over one hundred Model Gowns just finished for the coming season, 1911-1912, representing the latest mandate of fashion and the latest touch of artistic skill. They are exclusive garments. No two alike, so we make no attempt at detailed description. Come and see.

107 only, one piece dresses in exclusive, attractive and becoming styles. The materials are Net, Satins, Silks, Marquesettes, Ninons, Chiffons, Foulards and Lingerie, trimmed with handsome laces, embroidered bands, velvet and oriental touches. The sleeves are the new styles long, ¾ or short. Skirts are made panel pleated or plain effects, there is almost every shade, grey, purple, green, pink, sky, black, tan, navy, mauve. This is the handsomest collection of gowns we ever offered. The regular prices were $25, $27.50, $35 up to $45.

Wednesday $14.50
