FRANTIC EFFORTS MADE TO CONCEAL AN OLD LOSS

Losing Venture in Atlas Loan
Debentures Resulted in Odd
Agreement and Peculiar Transactions Afterwards—
Manager Woods Rebuked by
Commissioner for Unsatisfactory
Replies.

Manipulation to conceal the loss of $30,000 in Atlas Loan debentures sustained by the Continental Life Insurance Co., was a revelation reluctantly made by G. B. Woods, managing director, before the insurance commissioner. His manner of replying to the questions asked by counsel was such as to draw a strong reprimand from Commissioner Kent. It was found that directors had entered into a scheme by which the loss was to be shouldered by themselves. Mr. Woods said he was responsible for $1200 of the amount. His salary, however, as manager had been advanced to help him meet his liability.

At first declaring ignorance on certain matters, he would gradually make admissions, and he thrice denied the existence of an agreement which he later admitted to exist.

Interesting Evidence.
George B. Woods, managing director and actuary of the Continental, was called at 10.30. He told concisely the story of the organization of the Continental Life, and of the Atlas Loan. In 1900 with the Farmers' and Traders Assurance Co. of St. Thomas, Emerson Coatsworth, G. T. Somers, and G. B. Woods. The president was John Dryden, vice-president, Emerson Coatsworth, second vice-president, G. T. Somers. Mr. Coatsworth afterwards became the solicitor. The authorized capital was $1,000,000, of which $100,000 was subscribed. The stock was issued at 125, and one call has been made of 25 per cent.

Emerson Coatsworth received $500 for promoting the company, and John Dryden also $500 for his assistance. A. E. Wallace, the then manager of the defunct Atlas Loan Company, was a director of the Farmers' and was chiefly instrumental in bringing about the amalgamation. Shortly afterwards he became a director and leading spirit.

Who Notified N. A. T. Co.—"Or Says He Did."

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—In the house to-night, respecting estimates for the emigration department, Mr. Wilson (Lennox and Addington) asked about the cancellation of the contract with the North Atlantic Trading Co. He asked first for the reasons assigned for the cancellation.

Mr. Oliver said that the contract called for an increase in emigrants from Northern Europe and limited the number of emigrants to be sent from Southeastern Europe. It was evident that the company was not developing emigration from Northern Europe, hence the cancellation.

"Who did you notify?" was asked by Mr. Cochrane.

Mr. Oliver: "We notified Lord Strathcona."

Mr. Wilson: "Does he belong to the company?"

Mr. Oliver: "No, but he forwarded our letter to the company, at least he says he did."

Western Crop Reports.

Winnipeg, June 22.—Robert Muir and Company, millers and grain merchants, yesterday received reports from 32 points throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, regarding conditions of crops. They were almost uniformly of a favorable character, and where damage was reported it was in no case more than three per cent, and was about equally divided among wheat, too much rain and cut worms. The majority of the reports stated that the crop was in splendid condition and from a week to two weeks earlier than last year, according to sections heard from. Few points in Alberta reported the crop later than last year.

POLICE PROVED RIOTING GOVERNOR PROLONGED IT

Report of Commissioner Sent by the Lower House to Bialystok.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—At a crowded meeting of the Constitutional Democratic Club to-night, Deputy Shepkin reported the findings of the committee of the lower house of parliament, which went to Bialystok to investigate the facts in connection with the anti-Jewish outbreak there.

According to this report, the police, with the aid of subordinate officers of the police and military, provoked the outbreak by the circulation of false rumors against the Jews.

The governor of Bialystok, the not directly responsible, was said to have been criminally guilty of prolonging the excesses by absence from his post.

The governor washed his hands of the affair, not knowing the attitude of the officials at St. Petersburg, and absented himself from the scene without giving orders. That the government gave no order sanctioning the excesses is not questioned, but the local police assumed that the level of Persia and Turkey and ultimately come under the tutelage of a really civilized government.

The apprehension of an impending outbreak at Cronstadt increased to-day by telegram from residents of that city to Deputy Vinaver, stating that a bomb has been discovered in the house of a member of the revolutionary league of patriots.

A MURDER IN CAMP.

Sensational Story, But Nothing to Give It Confirmation.

Niagara Camp, June 22.—(Special.)—There is a sensational murder story floating around the camp. It is said that a member of the 4th Regiment jabbed one of the members of the 37th Regiment with a bayonet, and shoved it so far thru his neck that it necessitated mortuary purposes. The World endeavored to substantiate the story this evening. In the lines of this 4th regiment, it was said that they had heard of it, and nobody was missing from the roll. In the 37th they had the same thing to say, but a private stated that it was a lie. It was said that the tragedy had occurred and that the man was dead.

The local undertaker says he knows nothing about it. He said that he was asked at 7 o'clock to-night and he had no information.

In the 4th lines there was nothing doing at night, and in the 37th there was a fine line of hospitality, but no information.

But everywhere along the camp front its state to its finality it was being asked who the man was.

Criminal Prosecution Against "Standard Oil"

Attorney-General Moody Announces That U. S. Government Will Take Active Proceedings at Once For Its "Monopolistic Control of Interstate Trade."

Washington, June 22.—Formal announcement of the purpose of the government to prosecute the Standard Oil Co., was made to-day by United States Attorney-General Moody.

It appears from his statement that the proceedings in the first instance will be had under the terms of the Elkins law, which prohibits rebates in interstate commerce. The attorney-general, however, gives notice that in all probability, should the investigation he still is making justify it, he will bring further action against the Standard Oil Co. under the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law, and also will take steps to ensure against the continuance of the part of the company of the discriminations in trade and transportation not now subject to prosecution under existing law, but especially provided against in the pending rate bill.

The attorney-general's statement follows: "I shall continue the investigation of the affairs of the Standard Oil Co. and of such complaints as have been or may be brought to the attention of this department with the view of ascertaining whether there has or not been any violation of the Anti-Trust Act, or of any other federal law. This investigation will require assistance outside of the department, and I have engaged as special counsel Frank B. Kellogg, Esq. of St. Paul, who was one of the counsel for the government in the recent terminated litigation against the western paper organization, and Chas. B. Morrison, Esq. of Chicago, now United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois. Mr. Morrison will in the near future resign his place as district attorney."

"The course of action I have stated has received the approval of the president and all the members of the cabinet."

"Will Be a Lesson."
Upon being asked concerning the action of Judge McPherson, Kansas City, to-day, United States Attorney-General Moody said:

"The conspiracy was for obtaining rebates on a large scale, making discriminations to shippers highly injurious to the public welfare. This case is of the first importance. A sentence of imprisonment imposed for the first time upon persons guilty of rebating with in my judgment, has the most potent effect in checking the widespread practice of unlawful discriminations."

"These cases are regarded as will be treated as of importance, as it seems clear that, in so far as the Standard Oil Co. has obtained monopolistic control of interstate trade, that control has been in large degree made possible by discriminations in the rates or facilities, the discrimination being in some cases in violation of law and in other cases thought injurious to the public welfare, not in violation of law, and therefore subject only to such correction as may be afforded by the railway rate legislation now pending in congress."

"I shall continue the investigation of the affairs of the Standard Oil Co. and of such complaints as have been or may be brought to the attention of this department with the view of ascertaining whether there has or not been any violation of the Anti-Trust Act, or of any other federal law. Forty-Three Railways To Receive Subsidies

Call for Over $9,000,000 From Government—Railway Into the Yukon.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—The house spent the afternoon in supply, and Mr. Oliver labored thru some estimates for the Yukon.

W. F. Maclean (South York) asked what effort the government was making in regard to transportation. The decay of the Yukon was largely due to the enormous charges for transportation. Had the government any policy? The transportation problem must be solved, if anything was to be accomplished in that territory.

Mr. Oliver admitted that the transportation problem lay at the very foundation of the Yukon. The government appreciated the duty of doing something, but what to do was the serious question. One railroad had a complete monopoly, and as it carried freight partly thru American territory, the railway commission was helpless.

Mr. Maclean enquired as to whether a road could not go into the Yukon from Edmonton or from British Columbia. If the Yukon is valuable, Canada must approach this problem at once.

Mr. Patterson said that the house had provided for a railroad in 1898, but the senate killed the bill.

Mr. Bennett: "But then you gained control of the senate."

Mr. Patterson: "And do you say that we were right and to try it again?" The Conservative party had opposed this bill. The member from South York (Mr. Maclean) had been mainly instrumental in its defeat. He was too modest to say so, but that was the fact.

Mr. Maclean said that he did not regret his action then, but what happened in 1898 was unfortunate. It was now the duty of the government to solve this problem. Every one admitted that the need was urgent. The government must either move in the matter or admit incapacity and give way to others.

"A Prisoner's Ill-Treatment."
Dr. Sprule called the attention of the government to a grave abuse of authority by certain officers in the Yukon.

One Campbell was unjustly accused of assault and sentenced to four months imprisonment. He desired to make an appeal, but the clerk of the court refused to furnish him with a copy of the evidence, and justified his refusal by saying that the judge, Mr. Justice Dugas, had directed him not to give it.

Campbell applied for a writ of mandamus, but when the transcript was given, material evidence in the defendant's favor was omitted. He applied personally and thru Dr. Thompson (Yukon) to the department of justice, and some rather courteous and courteous replies were received from Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier suggested that the judge might be impeached, but that it was improper to discuss his rulings in the house.

W. F. Maclean (South York) said that in England the house was finding that it was improper to discuss his rulings in the house.
