DAMA AND RISIC
 A WONDERFUL SUCCESS.
 The marvelous drawing powers of Henry Arthur Jones' great drama of human interest, "The Middleman," has hardly ever been equaled by any other play. It was originally produced with Mr. Willard as Cyrillus Blankart at the Stratford Theatre, London, England, in August, 1886. Up to that date nothing produced at the Stratford seemed to meet with success, but this drama, as both play and actor made an impression on the audience, and it was produced at Palmer's Theatre, New York, in August, 1888, and at the Grand Opera House, New York, in August, 1889. It was then that the drama was produced at the Grand Opera House, New York, in August, 1889. It was then that the drama was produced at the Grand Opera House, New York, in August, 1889.

THE MAYOR'S RESIGNATION
 The Mayor read Assessment Commissioner Maughan's resignation, and Ald. Lamb moved that it be allowed to stand until the next meeting of the Council. Ald. Scott and Gowanlock wanted to know why this request was made and Ald. Lamb explained that there was no necessity for haste in the matter and he would give the matter respect for Mr. Maughan to allow the matter to stand. This seemed to satisfy the members and the course suggested by Ald. Lamb was adopted.
