

LABOR'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAMME PRESENTED

ORGANIZED WORKERS OF ONTARIO DEMAND EIGHT HOUR DAY AND MANY OTHER REFORMS

Labor's Legislative Programme Laid Before Drury Cabinet at Toronto on Friday by President Tom Moore and Members of the Ontario Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada—Progress Made and Action Expected.

Labor's legislative programme as represented by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was laid before the Ontario Government on Friday of last week. The deputation consisted of President Tom Moore, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada; J. A. Ralph, Toronto, chairman of the Ontario executive; A. Donald Dear, Ottawa; A. H. Carroll, Windsor, and W. J. Jeffrey, Sault Ste. Marie, members of the Ontario executive, and Joe T. Marks, provincial secretary of the Ontario Workers' Educational Association, an auxiliary to the International trades union movement. Premier Drury, Hon. Walter Rolfe, and other members of the Cabinet were present.

Mr. Moore stated after the conference that considerable progress was made and that there was every reason to believe that much of the legislation sought will be introduced in the House during the coming session.

In submitting the workers' demands, the Ontario executive stated that it will be noted that some of the suggested legislation is embodied in the recommendations of the first meeting of the International Labor Conference which was held in Washington, October-November, 1919.

According to Order-In-Council No. 2124, dated 23rd November, 1920, issued by the Dominion Government, it is ruled that most of the matters covered by the decisions arrived at at Washington come within the powers of the Provincial Legislatures.

Labor expects definite results from the annual meetings of the International Labor Conference, and according to the article of the Treaty of Versailles they have therefore been referred to the several Provincial Legislatures for action.

An act limiting the hours of labor to not more than eight hours per day.

Request the enactment of legislation limiting the hours of labor in industries and commercial undertakings to eight in any one day and forty-four in any one week.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of overtime at a rate of not less than 50 per cent. of the regular rate.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

Request the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

LABOR'S REQUESTS OF ONTARIO GOV'T.

An Act limiting the hours of labor to not more than eight per day.

An Act providing for the payment of overtime at a rate of not less than 50 per cent. of the regular rate.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

An Act providing for the payment of a sufficient amount to maintain them in their declining years of life.

CHRISTMAS

Let us ponder, you and me,
On this happy Christmas morn,
What our life is, what it might be,
Had the Christ child not been born.

Could we strive a little harder,
Ever striving try to make
Each life nobler, all things better,
In remembrance for His Sake!

Could we give as did the wise men,
Give with praise and love divine,
Not forgetting in the giving
That it's Christ's birthday, not thine.

Christ was cradled in a manger,
Lowly place for such as He;
Let us not forget to praise Him
Christmas morn on bended knees.

Doesn't matter where our birthplace,
What we are is what will count,
And the deeds we do for Jesus;
So the ladder each must mount.

How I wish that all His children,
All his children here on earth,
Could greet each Christmas morning
As the dawn of Jesus' birth.

NATIONAL "BUG" OUTPUT INCREASED BY REST PERIODS

Little Response Follows Appeal to Carpenters.

The "National Bug" is not meeting with much success in Toronto. Last week the advertised big drive on the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners commenced with a public meeting, at which only 18 persons responded, of whom eight were members of the Carpenters organization.

All of the leaders of the secession movement in Toronto were present, but no program was made. Business Agent John Doggett and General Organizer Joe March, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and Business Agent John Doggett, of the Toronto District Council of Carpenters, were present in the interest of the International organization. The meeting, according to the Industrial Banner, "turned out to be a miniature burlesque and provided considerable amusement for those who were there."

MANITOBA TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT FOR BEGINNERS.

A service to provide employment for boys and girls just leaving school has been opened by Hon. J. H. Malcolm, Minister of Agriculture, in connection with the Manitoba branch of the employment service of Canada.

The new departure came about as the result of a recent juvenile employment survey, which showed that while many boys and girls on leaving school are absorbed into the occupations of their parents, many are unable to get in touch with the requirements of the apprenticeship in skilled vocations.

SOLDIERS TO HAVE FIRST CHANCE IN ONTARIO.

A new departure has been made in Nova Scotia and one to be highly commended. The Soldiers' Settlement Board intend sending some seventy wives of returned soldiers, who have taken up land, to the Agricultural College at Truro, this winter, for a course in home-making, and care of hens in order to induce egg production.

McBRIDE MAY MOVE WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN RANEY.

That he would move a want of confidence against the attorney-general, if it were shown from an enquiry now being conducted, that he was responsible for the holding up of an order-in-council preventing white women working for orientals, was announced last week by Mayor McBride, M.P.P. of Brantford. He stated that should the inquiry not clear the facts, he would put a question on the order-in-council, and that if the answer justified it, he would move a want of confidence motion. He declared he had no fault to find with the other ministers, but the order-in-council was passed in 1914 and had not yet been put into force.

HALFORD INVITED TO BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Hamilton Herald: From H. J. Halford, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, who attended the International Labor Conference in London, there came a letter today from the "gentlemen of the press." Mr. Halford says the weather there is magnificent. After expressing sorrow regarding the death of his old friend, Charles Armstrong, Mr. Halford said he was one of a delegation of the conference invited to Buckingham Palace.

DEPRESSION DUE TO HIGH PRICES

Hours of Work Should be Arranged to Give Employment.

Speaking at the dinner of the Waterloo County Canadian Club last week, President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, emphatically took exception to the claim that the present industrial depression was due to the refusal of the buying public to buy goods at the present prices, but contended that it was partially due to the inability of the producer to meet the average buyer to purchase the goods at the prices that were demanded.

Mr. Moore stated that the Government in devising a system of unemployment insurance which would enable the workman temporarily out of employment to be paid a sufficient sum to feed and clothe his family, and not to become the victims of charity as at present. He was confident that this could be accomplished, and that very small cost to those concerned. In the meantime he urged the manufacturers to arrange the hours of labor in such a way as to give employees a certain amount of work during the week and wages sufficient to meet temporary needs.

Mr. Moore urged that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Miners' President N. B. FEDERATION OF LABOR TO MEET

JOHN L. LEWIS, according to a statement issued from the International Headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, has been re-elected president of the organization over Robert H. Hartin of Washington. Since Mr. Lewis' elevation to the presidency of the United Mine Workers he has done much to destroy the prejudices against that organization.

Among the subjects included in the agenda for the coming convention of the New Brunswick Federation of Labor will be held at St. John, N.B., on Tuesday, January 11, 1921.

In the convention call the important legislation enacted by the New Brunswick Provincial Government is reviewed. It includes amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, which provides, among other things: Pull medical, hospital and skilled nursing attendance from date of accident, and increasing monthly allowance for widows and children from $20.00 and $5.00 to $30.00 and $7.50 respectively. Also the new Factory Act, which is considered an improvement over the old act, inasmuch as it provides better regulations for the stationary engineers.

Mr. C. A. Melancon, of Moncton, is the president of the N. B. Federation of Labor, and Mr. Geo. F. Melvin, of St. John, secretary-treasurer.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE COUNCIL WILL MEET

Unemployment Problems Will Be Considered Next Week.

The meeting of the executive of the Employment Service Council of Canada to consider unemployment problems will take place in Ottawa December 27 and 28. W. B. McCoy, K.C., superintendent of immigration for the Province of New Brunswick and chairman of the executive, wishes that he will attend if possible.

At the meeting there will be representatives of the Trades and Labor Congress, the Railway War Board, and the Railway Brotherhoods, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, returned soldiers, and also representatives of some of the provincial governments. The Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment will also be represented. There is no specific programme for the meeting, but unemployment problems will probably be discussed at a conference held with the Minister of Railways.

QUEBEC PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUX MAY REMAIN.

There is no intention on the part of the Provincial Government to close the private labor employment bureaus in the city of Montreal or elsewhere, as has been rumored because of complaints made by consuls representing various foreign countries that their countrymen have been robbed, following visit to these places, says the Montreal Gazette. The complaint is that men of bad character stay around these private bureaus, and when they do follow him out and rob him in various ways.

However, when the Quebec Provincial Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada interviews the Quebec Government they will press for the abolition of private employment bureaus.

CORNWALL STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYERS APPLY FOR BOARD.

Cornwall Division of the Amalgamated Street and Electric Railway Employers of America has applied to the Labor Department for a Board of Conciliation in the matter of the dispute with the Cornwall Street Railway Company. The work has prompted the Ontario Provincial Council of Carpenters to take action. It has been decided to have a deputation interview the Drury cabinet, and the secretary, having Attorney-General Raney have the law amended in regard to sale of workmen's tools to pawnbrokers and other licensed dealers.

ONTARIO CARPENTERS WANT PROTECTION.

The fact that for some considerable time journeymen carpenters have suffered much loss in tools stolen from jobs on which they are working has prompted the Ontario Provincial Council of Carpenters to take action. It has been decided to have a deputation interview the Drury cabinet, and the secretary, having Attorney-General Raney have the law amended in regard to sale of workmen's tools to pawnbrokers and other licensed dealers.

WORKERS ON PRINCE OF WALES HIGHWAY HAVE SHORTER HOURS.

The men in Government employ on the construction of the Prince of Wales Highway, who are being paid by the hour, have had their time reduced to eight hours a day. During the summer they worked ten hours.

Miners' President N. B. FEDERATION OF LABOR TO MEET

Among the subjects included in the agenda for the coming convention of the New Brunswick Federation of Labor will be held at St. John, N.B., on Tuesday, January 11, 1921.

In the convention call the important legislation enacted by the New Brunswick Provincial Government is reviewed. It includes amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, which provides, among other things: Pull medical, hospital and skilled nursing attendance from date of accident, and increasing monthly allowance for widows and children from $20.00 and $5.00 to $30.00 and $7.50 respectively. Also the new Factory Act, which is considered an improvement over the old act, inasmuch as it provides better regulations for the stationary engineers.

Mr. C. A. Melancon, of Moncton, is the president of the N. B. Federation of Labor, and Mr. Geo. F. Melvin, of St. John, secretary-treasurer.

At the meeting there will be representatives of the Trades and Labor Congress, the Railway War Board, and the Railway Brotherhoods, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, returned soldiers, and also representatives of some of the provincial governments. The Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment will also be represented. There is no specific programme for the meeting, but unemployment problems will probably be discussed at a conference held with the Minister of Railways.

However, when the Quebec Provincial Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada interviews the Quebec Government they will press for the abolition of private employment bureaus.

QUEBEC PRIVATE EMPLOYMENT BUREAUX MAY REMAIN.

There is no intention on the part of the Provincial Government to close the private labor employment bureaus in the city of Montreal or elsewhere, as has been rumored because of complaints made by consuls representing various foreign countries that their countrymen have been robbed, following visit to these places, says the Montreal Gazette. The complaint is that men of bad character stay around these private bureaus, and when they do follow him out and rob him in various ways.

However, when the Quebec Provincial Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada interviews the Quebec Government they will press for the abolition of private employment bureaus.

CORNWALL STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYERS APPLY FOR BOARD.

Cornwall Division of the Amalgamated Street and Electric Railway Employers of America has applied to the Labor Department for a Board of Conciliation in the matter of the dispute with the Cornwall Street Railway Company. The work has prompted the Ontario Provincial Council of Carpenters to take action. It has been decided to have a deputation interview the Drury cabinet, and the secretary, having Attorney-General Raney have the law amended in regard to sale of workmen's tools to pawnbrokers and other licensed dealers.

WORKERS ON PRINCE OF WALES HIGHWAY HAVE SHORTER HOURS.

The men in Government employ on the construction of the Prince of Wales Highway, who are being paid by the hour, have had their time reduced to eight hours a day. During the summer they worked ten hours.

WARS NEEDED TO END WARS, DECLARES PRESIDENT WILSON.

Wars have not ended, and it will be a "continuing labor" to accomplish that purpose is the view expressed by President Wilson in authorizing the American Mission to Norway to accept the Nobel peace prize on his behalf.

President Wilson said that if there was but one such prize or if it were to be the last I could not of course, accept it. He said that the prize was not a reward for the horror of war. He said that it was a reward for the courage and the sacrifice of those who have fought for peace.

CANADIAN PRINTERS INCREASES DURING NOVEMBER.

The Typographical Journal, Prince Albert, Sask.—Newspaper, book and job-handmen, operators, day, 44; night, 44; eight hours day, seven and one-half hours night. The contract is in effect from November 1, 1920, to April 30, 1921. Increase—10 per cent.

SOLDIERS TO HAVE FIRST CHANCE IN ONTARIO.

A new departure has been made in Nova Scotia and one to be highly commended. The Soldiers' Settlement Board intend sending some seventy wives of returned soldiers, who have taken up land, to the Agricultural College at Truro, this winter, for a course in home-making, and care of hens in order to induce egg production.

McBRIDE MAY MOVE WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN RANEY.

That he would move a want of confidence against the attorney-general, if it were shown from an enquiry now being conducted, that he was responsible for the holding up of an order-in-council preventing white women working for orientals, was announced last week by Mayor McBride, M.P.P. of Brantford. He stated that should the inquiry not clear the facts, he would put a question on the order-in-council, and that if the answer justified it, he would move a want of confidence motion. He declared he had no fault to find with the other ministers, but the order-in-council was passed in 1914 and had not yet been put into force.

HALFORD INVITED TO BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Hamilton Herald: From H. J. Halford, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, who attended the International Labor Conference in London, there came a letter today from the "gentlemen of the press." Mr. Halford says the weather there is magnificent. After expressing sorrow regarding the death of his old friend, Charles Armstrong, Mr. Halford said he was one of a delegation of the conference invited to Buckingham Palace.

DEPRESSION DUE TO HIGH PRICES

Hours of Work Should be Arranged to Give Employment.

Speaking at the dinner of the Waterloo County Canadian Club last week, President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, emphatically took exception to the claim that the present industrial depression was due to the refusal of the buying public to buy goods at the present prices, but contended that it was partially due to the inability of the producer to meet the average buyer to purchase the goods at the prices that were demanded.

Mr. Moore stated that the Government in devising a system of unemployment insurance which would enable the workman temporarily out of employment to be paid a sufficient sum to feed and clothe his family, and not to become the victims of charity as at present. He was confident that this could be accomplished, and that very small cost to those concerned. In the meantime he urged the manufacturers to arrange the hours of labor in such a way as to give employees a certain amount of work during the week and wages sufficient to meet temporary needs.

Mr. Moore urged that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.

Mr. Moore stated that the greatest attention be devoted to the immigration policy of the country in the future, in order that industrial and social conditions might be such as would not be unduly hampered, but develop a strong type of citizenship.