The English Canadian's view.

One of the most groundless and brazen chilms made by the Tory press of Canada is that Mr. Borden received a mandate from the pepple in 1911 to proceed with his contribution policy. Mr. Arthur Hawkes allows in his "Nineteenth Century" article that the Navel quantity.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes slows in his "Nineteenth Century" article that the Naval question was not touched upon, did not form an issue in any Province except Quebec, and that the supporters of Mr. Borden elected in that Province were given a mandate to oppose any and all Naval advance. Mr. Hawkes says: "He (Mr. Borden) gave three seats in his Cabinet to the men who were publicly Cabinet to the men who were publicly named by Mr. Bourassa several days before the appointments were made. Two suffragette of Preston, G. "If," says Mr. Hawkes, "the emergency

"If," says Mr. Hawkes, "the emergency is as he exposed it last December, it means psychologically the fight is on as much as it would be as if he were on the quarter deck of a Dreadnought and the smoke of a hostille German fleet were thickening in the horizon; and that to postpone until a general election a declaration as to how he would meet recurring emergencies, is not living up to the traditions of British statesmanship in times of orisis. . The spectacle offered to the world, of Canada apparently at deadly strife over her adhesion to the vitalities of Empire has been deplorable. But the inex orable responsibility for destroying the appearance of unity belongs to 1909. Discord having spread from shore to shore for the sake of a temporary expedient, which the Frime Minister says over and over again is not a policy, what will be the situation if the permanent policy is made the coession of a second party fight, in which those who differ from the government will be branded as dieloyal to all the things in the nation that they hold most dear?"

All this is plain talk and abundantly justified by the occasion, the policy and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the man. And Mr. Borden's attempt to ride both the Imperialistic horse and the receipent of the occasion. On every possible overland, and none sees this better than Mr. Hawkes, who so strenuously supported him in 1911:

"Mething has been gained in Quebee by all the strategy with the Nationalists."

The f The many Halifax friends of Sidney is as he exposed it last December, it means psychologically the fight is on as Toler will be pleased to read the following

"Nothing has been gained in Quebec by all the strategy with the Nationalists. The fear is that if the Government goes to the country in pursuance of its own pledge Miracles at Ste. Anne Shrine.

the country in pursuance of its own pledge it will not retain a single member from that province. The outcome of the prolonged tactics to put Laurler in a minority in Quebec will be to make him supreme once more." And this is a true prophecy as the next election will show.

And Mr. Hawkes lays his finger upon the sore spot when he says:

"The case for the postponement till a general election resulted on the Nation-Alist Emergency and not on the German peril. Permanent peril means permanent policy, not postponement till you have a general election about it. Those who deplore the moral effect on foreign nations of the seeming signs of Canadian hesitation may well consider the effect upon, say Germany, of the repeated intimation that the Government of the senior Dominion, believing a temporary policy; offers no supply of men, postpones for years its decision as to what it thinks Canada oughtto do; and declines to take any chances over and above a three years' mometary grant, preferring to be governed by the chances of a prospective general election."

AONDON, July 31.—The unit of a series of divorces in the matrimonial tangle resulting from the relations of Hugo Ames, author, and Mrs. Flora N. Wilson, authoress, lecturer and blaywright, and daughter of the late Col. Hayter, C. B., was reached yesterday when a decree was granted to Charles R. Wilson.

tion and misconduct, which was dismissed.

Amee had gone to America, obtsined a divorce from his wife in Idaho and married Mrs. Wilson, who won a decree in Los Angeles. Mrs. Ames brought suit for divorce in the court here and she won a decree his in February, 1912. She told on the stand that her husband had married Mrs. Wilson and asked for his arrest on a charge of bigamy on the ground that the divorce obtained by him in the United States was not valid in England.

Ames and Mrs. Wilson were tried in the King's Bench division of the high court and each sentenced to imprisonment for six months in April, 1912, on the bigamy charge, Mr. Justice Coleridge remarking that the decree of divorce obtained by them in America was not worth the paper on which they were written.

By St. Peters defeating the North Stars last night, the Dartmouth Baseball League has been finished, and the Red Sox are the champions for 1913. St. Peters deserve every oredit for their victory. They worked hard, and pulled out a win when defeat seemed sure. Both teams tallied in the first, but in the 2nd the Stars got so their opponents none, and when the 4th was over St. Peters led by a 7-6 score. The Stars got two more in the 5th, and St. Peters one, which meant an extra inning, in which the Stars were blanked, and John Martin, the first man up for St. Peters, reached the plate, after going to 1st on a hit, to 2nd and 3rd on wild pitches, and home on a passed ball, and the game was wed.

Tierney pitched the whole game for St. Peters, and had four strike-outs, and allowed 7 hits, pitching in very good form. Ohipman pitched four innings for the Stars, when he was relieved by Ferguson, who, was wild, and missed an easy infield fly in the 5th, which would have retired the side. W. Martin did some pretty base stealing in the 3rd, his steal home being one of the neatest seen on the diamond this season. St. Peters scored their winning run in the 6th, with none out:

Motor cycle rider killed,

TORONTO, July 26 .- The card of races

TORONTO, July 26.—The eard of races at the Ontario motor cycle championships at the Exhibition Grounds, this afternoon, was marred by a fatality, when B. Wilson, of Rochester, an amateur rider, took a header into the fence on the second turn while travelling at 50 miles an hour.

The rider, while new to the track, was making excellent time, but did not silow enough for the turn, and shot with terrible force into the fence, completely demolishing it for 25 feet. A fractured skull resulted in almost instant death.

Wilson was about 30 years of age and his family are well-to-do residents of Rochester.

Wire Wounds.

My mars, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger, as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the soores have healed, and best of all, the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE, as is most always the case in horse wounds.

Out of the blaxing sky, with the temperature at the 100 point, came the storm, roaring from the north driving a mass of clouds that cast a mantle of total darkness over the town. The gale, reaching a velocity of nearly seventy miles an hour, swept the streets clear, unroofed houses, tore detached small structures from their foundations, wrecked one office building, overturned wagons and carriages in the streets, and ewept Washington's hundred parks, tearing huge branches from trees, and even uprooting study old elms, the landmarks of a century.

Washington's well-kept streets, with their wealth of trees were littered with broken follage, roots, debris and dead birds, as if a playful glant had carelessly swished his club up and down the city.

As the wind wreaked its havoe, the rain came, and in five minutes the temperature dropped to between 69 and 70. Then the rain turned to hall, and hall stoose battered or roofs and crashed through sky-lights and windows.

For half an hour the city cowered, paralyzed under the beating of the storm, every activity suspended. Trolley lines, telephone lines and street traffic were halted, and the Government departments suspended operations.

where people protest

LONDON, Ont., July 31.—The men in charge of the newly established garbage incinerator are still quaking with fear as the result of the discovery among refuse about to be thrown into the destructor, of a fully loaded 3-lneth shell for a twelve pounder gun. There has been a bitter agitation against the location of the incinerator at the foot of Waterloo street near Victoria Hospital, and it was at first thought the shell had been deliberately placed in the refuse can at some collection point with a view to destroying the plant.

Men at work at the pit where the collecting carts are dumped chanced to notice the peculiar "can", and picked it up. It appeared to one of them to be rather unusual garbage and its prevented his fellow worker from dropping it into the blast-turnaces. The sugarintendent specifity deposited the shell in a pall of water and afterwards had it fimowed to Wolsely Barraoks for experience and that the big fellow was fully charged with enough explosives to do great damage.

OTTAWA, July 31.—The members of the regiment which garrisoned Halifax during the South African war are seeking recognition for their service at that time. It was first intended that the regiment Housemaids Wanted. PPLY with references at Queen Hotel, tf my31

It was first intended that the regiment should remain only one year at Halifax, but as the war conclinued, they remained two years.

Several local members of the regiment have held meetings and have had correspondence with those in other cities, with the result that a deputation will ask the Minister of Militia shortly for recognition of their service; probably in the way of a medal. There are 900 men affected. HOWE'S CIRCUS IN TOWN. Have fine street parade and give performances this afternoon and evening. Howe's London circus is in town and will no doubt attract large crowds this afternoon and evening. The show made a revious visit, and this year they are larger and better than ever. They arrived from New Glasgow this morning, but early as was the hour there was a big crowd on hand to watch the unloading of their trains at the Cotton Factory and the large tents being erected on the Common, where performances are given at 2 and 8 Miss Matilda Brown and Miss Eilza Dow-ling, all of this city.

The young women became frightened at the boat tipping when the men changed oars, and their leaning to one side over-turned the loaded craft. The three who were drowned never rose to the surface, but the others managed to reach the boat bottom up and got on ten, where they re-mained two and a half hours before their cries brought a boat to their rescue.

New York Times.

The death Tuesday of the French aviator Malarte, at Mourmelon, marks the 300th excoplane fatality since the first man was killed in 1998. Accoplane flying practically began on an extensive scale in that year, and though the progress has been remarkable, each year has seen an increase in the number of persons killed, as the following table shows:

An old acquaintance with the circus is the indefatigable and affable press agent, William Mitchell, of Ottaws, whose father was for many years editor of the Free Press. Mr. Mitchell has been in Halifax before and his many friends are glad to meet him. He has made a great success in the circus business, so much so that his services are in great demand, particularly for Canadian fours, and here do the Howe's management again pursue the policy of having the bess in securing him. EDMONTON, Alb., July 30.—With eight out of twelve polls heard from in the deferred provincial election in Athabasca, Hon. A. G. MacKay, Liberal, has a majority of 141 over the Conservative candidate, Mayor J. H. Woods, of Athabasca Landing. The remaining four polls, which are at far outlying points, will not be heard from for several days, but it is not probable they will effect the general result. Mr. MacKay's election is now conceded by the Conservatives. The fight was a bitter one, and mearly all the prominent politicisms on both sides in the province took part during the past few days.
