ST. GEORGE'S BALL.

The York Theatre never looked better than it does now, prepared for St. George's Society ball. A floor has been laid in the auditorium over the top of the seats, giving ample space and a splendid opportunity for dancing. The room, too, has been elaborately decorated. From each of the corners there is a line of various colored streamers meeting in the centre, while the walls are adorned with shields and flags, with here and there spots marked with the names of English cities, a place of meeting for partners. The stage is draped entirely with large flags, and at one corner is a platform for the orchestra. The York Theatre never looked bet

That Harry Frink, son of R, W. W. Frink, is to leave this afternoon for Wolseley, N. W. T., to engage in farming, recalls the fact that quite a number of young men from St. John and other parts of New Brunswick have gone out there to take up agricultural work. Among them are Joseph Hamm, son of Wellington Hamm, of this city; Percy MacNutt, son of P. S. MacNutt; Waldo Austin, son of H. A. Austin, of this city; Eyre Stockford, of Frederleton; Guy H. McLeod, son of H. D. McLeod, of this city; and a Mr. Foster, of Moncton, nephew of Hon. Geo. E. Foster.

of Monoton, nephew of Hon. Geo. E. Foster.

Mr. Stockford and Mr. McLeod are this spring working their own farms, having taken up land and stocked it, and working together, their lands adjoining each other.

The Star was shown today a photograph of Wolseley, showing the location of the four elevators beside the railway track, with 108 team loads of wheat in bags waiting to be examined and purchased and stored. The teams are what we call bob-eleds, with an ordinary wagon box to hold the bags of wheat. In the back ground of the picture the prairie stretches away to the line of the horizon.

That the place is prosperous is shown by the advance in land values. A block that was bought by a St. John man for $185, less than two years ago, could be sold today for $700. The young men from this province who have gone there are highly pleased with the outlook.

RECRUITING FOR N. W. M. P.

Superintendent Primrose and Sergt. Winter, from Regina, who during the past few days have been at the Royal Hotel recruiting for the Northwest Mounted Police, are not meeting with any very great success in their work. Applications are coming in but slowly, and on account of the physical examination being so strict fully two thirds of the applicants are unable to pass. About twelve men have been rejected, while only six have passed the examination. These six will be sworn in this evening or tomorrow forenoon and will leave at once for the west.

Before coming to St. John the N. W. M. P. officers visited Charlottetown and several Nova Scotia towns. They have already secured forty recruits and want forty others from New Brunswick. They will leave here tomorrow evening for Fredericton and from there will go to Moncton.

THE IMMIGRANTS.

There now remain in the immigra-tion building at Sand Point only two families, consisting of five persons. They are the last of the winter port immigration business and are being de-tained on account of lack of money. One of the families is destined to the One of the families is destined to the United States and the other to Canada, and they will be sent forward in a few days whenever the money arrives. Besides these persons there are a number of others in quarantine at Partridge Island for measles and other diseases, and several are still in the General Public Hospital undergoing treatment. They are being released and forwarded to their destinations whenever cured, and as none of the cases are serious, all will be cleared out shortly.

Geo. Buskin, of the Colportage Mission of Algoma and the Northwest is making his annual visit to St. John in behalf of the 19th year's work of supplying the Holy Scriptures and scriptural literature-among the laborers, Indians and settlers there from year to year. Wide districts have been covered by the work and many persons of many languages have been benefited by the Bible and books supplied from the mission stock; 3340 copies of scriptures and books for young and old were supplied last year in five languages, and many more of which no account has been taken. Besides, large quantities of tracts were published last year by the mission for its work, in various forms, and many cases of books and tracts were sent to lumber camps. The districts are large and the opportunities are great for progressive Cristianity. The work is not denominational.
