London Lancet Says This of the King's Prospects Today.

Today's Medical Bulletin—Movements of Members of Royal Family—The Colonial Premiers—American Sympathy—Hobbes Smash Windows.

LONDON, June 27, 10.20, a.m.—The distinguished party on board his steam first unofficial intimation this morning from Buckingham Palace regarding King Edward's condition is to the effect that the pain mentioned in last night's bulletin was at first attended by some restlessness, but subsequent improvement was noted and his majesty passed a fair night. Filed 5.31 a.m.

LONDON, June 27.—A bulletin issued from Buckingham Palace at a quarter after ten o'clock this morning says:
"His majesty had a fair night and has had some settled sleep. His appetite is improving and his wound is much more comfortable. On the whole the king's condition is attended with less anxiety."

LONDON, June 27.—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace at 2 p.m.: "His majesty passed a comfortable morning. All his symptoms today are so far satisfactory. His temperature remains normal. No other than important fluctuations in his majesty's temperature will be recorded in the bulletin issued."

LONDON, June 27, 2.25 p.m.—It is said that after the issue of this morn-ing's bulletin Lord Marquis Bessford asked Lord Lister how the king was progressing and Lord Lister replied:
"His majesty is practically out of danger."

LATEST.

bulletin was posted at the palace at 4.15 p.m.: "The king has maintained the satisfactory condition described in the last bulletin. His majesty shows

PROSPECTS DISTINCTLY FAVOR-ABLE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The New York Medical Journal received today the following cable despatch from London Lancet:

"LONDON, June 27, 12 m.—So far as it is possible to say anything definite, the king's prospects are distinctly favorable. Thursday was a good day, followed by a fair night, the patient having refreshing sleep. The state of the wound is satisfactory, the discharge healthy, the temperature Thursday evening normal, a fact which is important as indicating that the occasional pain experienced in the wound had no sinister significance.
Nourishment was taken and cheerfulness maintained. The king has seen conversed with the Prince of Wales and the royal princesses. The queen has visited the sick man several times. The definite statements issued by the Lancet that the condition is simply peripneumonia, that the right medical opinion has been sought, that the right procedure has been followed, and that no symptoms of malignant disease are present, have much reassured the public. At noon today the wound is comfortable and the general condition less anxious."

AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

LONDON, June 27.—The American special ambassador, Whitelaw Reid, and Mrs. Reid called by appointment on the Prince of Wales this afternoon to take official leave of their royal highnesses. Mr. Reid will not close the special embassy.

The presence of the Princess of Wales and the inclusion of Mrs. Reid in the audience today was simply a continuation of that specially friendly attitude which the British royal family and government have throughout shown towards the American mission.
King Edward has expressed himself as greatly pleased with the receipt of President Roosevelt's message of greeting, and the members of the government have missed no opportunity throughout the mission's visit of indicating its appreciation of the friendly feeling shown by the United States.

PROCESSION DAY.

LONDON, June 27.—What was to have gone down to history as proce-sion day, when it was expected there would be the greatest crush in the streets of London, finds the city practically deserted. The bank holiday proclaimed for today paralyzed business. Perfect weather prevailed and jaunts out to the country formed the popular pastime of the masses. The big hotels were each a scene of activity amid the otherwise general quiet-ude of the city. Many coronation visitors are preparing to start for the continent, and others have already gone there or to the country, while numbers took advantage of the fine day to visit the great fleet assembled off Spithead.
