

MC2465 POOR DOCUMENT

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Christian Mother

Now, suppose Christ should come into your house. First the wife and the mother should feel his presence. Religion almost always begins there. It is easier for women to become Christians than for us men. They do not fight so against God. If women tempted man originally away from holiness, now she tempts him back. She may not make any fuss about it, but somehow everybody in the house knows that there is a change in the wife and mother. She chides the children more gently. Her face lights up sometimes with an unearthly glow. She goes into some unoccupied room for a little while, and her husband goes not after her nor asks her why she was there. He knows without asking that she has been praying. The husband notices that her face is brighter than on the days when years ago, and he knows that Jesus has been putting upon her brow a wreath sweeter than the orange blossoms. She puts the children to bed, not satisfied with the formal prayer that they once offered, but she lingers now and tells them of Jesus who blessed little children and of the good place they all hope to be at last. And then she kisses them good-night with something that the child feels to be a heavenly benediction—a something that shall hold on to the boy for he has become a man 40 or 50 years of age, for there is something in a good, loving, Christian kiss that 50 years cannot wipe off the cheek.

If your Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are weak, try at least a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drag the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by All Dealers.

Making Home Happy

Let every parent instill into the minds of the children the principles of self-sacrifice, cheerfulness, generosity and making others happy—make home so attractive that the boys and girls will find more pleasure there than elsewhere. Give the boys a pretty room; pictures and ornaments have a tendency to refine them. Give your children good and wholesome books for the character of the child is greatly influenced by the books he reads. After reading the books of a noble and unselfish man, the children will try to emulate it. Music and flowers brighten the home. An interesting game will add much to the pleasure of an evening. Reading aloud is both pleasant and instructive. Let the conversation at the table always be bright and cheerful. And just here, let us say, cultivate an excellent deportment at the table always, for however polished you may be, if your table manners are neglected they will surely betray you. Let each member of the household do all in his or her power to make home the brightest and happiest place on earth.

A Happy Woman

Is she not the very sparkle and sunshine of life?—A woman who is happy because she can't help it, whose smiles even the coldest sprinkle of misfortune cannot dampen. Men make a terrible mistake when they marry for beauty, for talents, or for style. The sweetest wives are those who possess the magic secret of being contented under any circumstances. Rich or poor, high or low, makes no difference; the bright little fountain of joy bubbles up just as musically in their hearts. Do they live in a log cabin, the fire that leaps upon its humble hearth becomes brighter than the gilded chandeliers in an Aladdin palace. Where is the stream of life so dark and unpropitious that the sunshine of a happy face falling on the turbid tide will not waken an answering gleam? Why, these joyful, good-tempered people don't know half the good they do.

Doctors Fear Tonsillitis Outbreak

Hundreds of cases are reported. If your throat is irritable and sore, gargle three times daily with Nerviline and water. Then rub the throat and chest vigorously with Nerviline and put on Nerviline Porous Plaster. Follow these instructions closely and you will avoid Tonsillitis, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble of every kind. Hundreds are preventing and curing their colds by this method and report it eminently satisfactory. Both Nerviline Plasters and Polson's Nerviline can be had from any dealer, 25c. each.

Mother First

A mother is truly our guardian spirit upon earth; her goodness shields and protects; she walks with us in infancy, our youth and maturing age, even sheltering us with her absolving love, and expiating our many sins with her blessed prayers. And when our mother, with all her burden of love, her angelic influence, her saintly care, ceases her beautiful life, how much we lose of home, of happiness, of heaven, no one can reckon; for our mother was none but ours, and we only can know how holy she was, how sacred her memory must be.

Only One Painless Corn Cure

Hundreds have tried, but no one has succeeded in making as good a remedy as Patnam's Painless Corn Extractor. It is by far the best—beware of substitutes for Patnam's.

Pierpont Morgan's Money

Financial gossip—oral and written—is always abundant with tales and accounts of speculation in Wall St., of a Morgan, a Harriman, a Flick, a Schiff, or others of that type. In probably 90 per cent. of the cases the gossip has no foundation in fact. It is all very well to talk of professional operators who may be in and out of one particular stock several times in one session; but the men of the type previously referred to cannot afford to act in that manner. For instance, Mr. Morgan, with his $200,000,000 of wealth, has a very large part of it in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., the prophets of which firm are very large. It is undoubtedly, the most profitable investment Mr. Morgan has. Then, in the next place, a great deal of his personal wealth is in securities of the first rank, and stays there, year in and year out. He is altogether too big a man to buy, for instance, 10,000 or 20,000 shares of Reading for 10-point or 20-point rise. It would be worth the while of a smaller man, but not of Mr. Morgan. Then he has a great deal invested in his works of art. I am told that Mr. Morgan has invested in art works $45,000,000, and that his collections have been so carefully and shrewdly made, and go back over such a long period, that they are today worth $70,000,000.—Adams' Financial Letter

It Has Hundreds

Strong purgatives have killed many a good man. Costiveness is bad—violent cathartics are worse. If bothered with stomach trouble or biliousness, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire system is cleaned of wastes. Dr. Hamilton's Pills move the bowels gently, they tone the kidneys, assist digestion, clear the skin. For those subject to colds, biliousness, languor, throat troubles, better medicine. Try a 25c. box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Honor Age

Old age should be well fed, well dressed, well housed, free from the worries of life and the discomforts. It should be placid and gentle and beautiful. The heart free from care and the body free from labor; the mind should expand and the aged should become a source of moral strength and wisdom to all about them. The old folks should be cared for and honored, and above all they should be allowed to have their room and their will, for assuredly they have lived long enough to know what they want.

Your Nerves Are Weak

You sleep badly, appetite is variable. You eat but gain no strength. Morning tiredness makes you wish. When night comes refreshing sleep is hard to obtain. You're run down, your blood is thin and watery, your nerves have grown weak, the thought of effort scares you. You need Ferronine; it makes blood—red strong blood. An appetite! You'll eat everything and digest it too. Strength! That's what plenty of food gives. Ferronine gives hope, vigor, vim, endurance. Use Ferronine and get strong. Results are quick—care is lasting. All dealers in 50c. boxes.

A Long Drought

The year now near its close is the driest since the record of annual precipitation began to be taken, and even the "oldest inhabitant" whose recollection runs far back to that date, would be hard put to it to recall an equal. We are at the middle of the twelfth month, and unless the latter half does better than the first, December, like all its predecessors since May, with the possible exception of August, will drop far below the average for the month. The temporary relief that the recent light storms have given us does not touch the root of the trouble. The ground has not been in condition to receive the full benefit of the moisture, and we are approaching the land-locked season with the prospect of a winter drought, one of the worst that can be experienced.

Conditions are all the while becoming more acute. Instances are not rare even in country villages of New England where families have to depend on the purchase of spring water for domestic purposes, and when even water must be added to the marketable necessities of life the outlook for the poor is doubly depressing. But it is not alone the household and the farm that are suffering from this state of things. Some of our most important manufacturing interests have already become seriously restricted. The loudest complaints come from the paper-makers. The pulp for practically all the mills in the country is ground in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and California, and the men engaged in this industry claim that it is impossible to employ steam for their purposes because of the expense, though in extreme cases this is resorted to by grist and flour mills.

The 1400 pulp grinders in the United States have an average capacity of 3000 tons a day. Just now the total output of all these grinders is not more than forty per cent. of their regular service, and in some cases not more than ten per cent. The situation would be more tense than it is had the companies had not a large stock of accumulated pulp to draw upon.—Boston Transcript.

Eighty Years Submerged

Timber to be Raised

Five hundred cords of sunken pine piling now lying submerged in the Rideau river and in the lakes some miles back of Kingston, Ont., has been bought by an American concern which will raise the timber and take it by boat down the St. Lawrence to Ogdensburg, where it will be made into bleached soda pulp. The pulp is said to be made by a secret chemical process for use in the manufacture of high grade stationery. The piling in question was sunk some eighty years ago when lumbering operations along the Rideau were beginning and while the canal was being built. As the lumber in this district has been generally cut, the wonder is, says Consul Vansant writing from Kingston, that this valuable submerged timber has not been used before.
