GRADUATION EXERCISES

AT MADAWASKA, Me. The Madawaska Junior High School presented their graduation play, a bright and amusing comedy in four acts, Wednesday evening in the Rialto Theatre.

ham, a farmer, Normand Pournier; Simms, a villager, Lionel Daigle; Mr. Graham, a New Yorker, Austin Wyke; Cal Morgan, a young farmer, Reynaldo Dufour; Mr. Clarke, a farmer, Hector Albert; Mr. Shields, a farmer, Aril Cyr; Mr. Barton, a farmer, Philip Thibodeau; Mr. Bowles, (Baker in disguise), Francis McDermott; Lige, a villager, Bernard Hebert; Post Mates, Augustin Albert.

Characters of the French Play: Mrs. Godeau, friend of Mrs. Moulins; Laurette Marin; Rosine, Mrs. Godeau's maid; Lilly Cyr; Pierre de heir, Paul Clavette; Max de Luceux (Nephew) Camille Caron; Jacques Bernis (Mrs. Moulins) René Daigle.

Mr. R. J. Libby made a forceful speech on the needs of education and manifested his enthusiasm over the splendid progress that education has made since a few years in the northern part of Maine.

Thanks must be given to the Town of Madawaska who furnished the hall, Thomas Raymond for wiring the stage, Jos. J. Pelletier for lumber, Rev. F. Ouellette for chairs and Mrs. Arthur Cyr for her Orchestra.

Honor parts at the Madawaska Junior High were announced by Principal Norman H. Frochette. The first was won by Laurette Marin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Desire Martin of this town.

Second honor was won by Leon Dufour, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Dufour of St. David. Returning this year after a year's absence his scholastic ability has resulted in his being chosen for second honors.

"Summer-Complaint" deadly to infants

Last year the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto after intensive research into the cause and prevention of "Summer Complaint" reported conclusions that seem to the layman at least of the very highest importance regarding the ailment which doctors call "acute intestinal intoxication," known to you and me more succinctly as infant diarrhea.

The doctors and scientists who conducted the research proved to their own satisfaction that the ordinary house fly is almost invariably the agent that spreads invisible poisonous germs which kill babies in early infancy.

It was a British scientist who discovered that the only way to combat the scourge of Malaria Fever was to wage war on the Mosquito and it is obvious that in a similar manner the way to combat "Summer Complaint" and save the unnecessary loss of infant life is to wage war on the common house fly.

If the research scientists are correct in their conclusions the ordinary fly is a potential killer of every unprotected baby. The remedy is to hand. Keep all food where it is impossible for flies to settle on it and deposit their deadly excreta.

The screens on all doors and windows. And, above all, early in the season start killing all the flies by using safe, clean reliable killers like Wilson's Fly Pads.

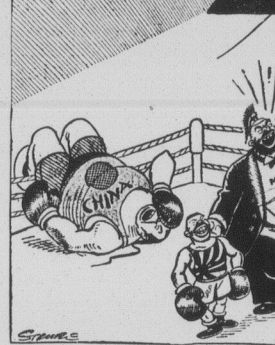

A few pads used 2 or 3 hours every day during the season, will keep the home or store absolutely free from these deadly pests.

These provinces at a meeting of farmers held in Sackville, N. B. One of the speakers, A. W. MacKinnon, Superintendent of Agriculture for the Maritimes, Canadian National Railways, commented upon the recent experiment and stated that the 104 steers which were brought from Western Canada last Fall and finished at Woodstock, N. B., had been shipped overseas and marketed at a good profit.

He suggested that a few carloads of steers, to be used as feeders, be brought from the West to the Sackville district in the way of further development. The suggestion created a great deal of discussion among farmers and representatives of government livestock departments are getting together with the idea of working on the scheme co-operatively.

NEW BUSINESS MARITIME CATTLE RAISERS

The recent experiment in finishing western cattle in the Maritimes focused attention on this new development of the livestock trade in these provinces.

PARLIAMENT HILL HEARS

By WILFRID EGGLESTON. A "jungle" of patch-work huts, a house a score of the capital's jobless existed for some time at the foot of Parliament Hill, on the east side of Ottawa.

It was a filthy, insanitary place, a throw from the legislative chamber, but well screened from the potatoes above by the steep cliff and the bushes.

If anyone thinks that "a stone's throw" is a mere figure of speech, let him ask one of the more boyish members from Saskatchewan, who accidentally discovered the existence of the jungle one fine May afternoon this year.

He was strolling along Lover Lane, accompanied by one of the capital's leading economists, and an argument arose as to whether from that point, which is just beneath the foot of Parliament Hill, a stone could be tossed into the swirling currents of the lower Ottawa.

To settle the argument the prairie member picked up a loose slab of limestone and sent it hurtling toward the river.

To his amazement it fell short, lighting on a dilapidated tin roof with loud clatter and disturbance.

Almost immediately afterwards an irate figure rushed out of the homelike dwelling, demanding to know what the h— was going on up there, and the offending party wanted to kill somebody!

Sam Jacobs, M.P. for Jacques Cartier found himself in a queer predicament in the House last week. He had walked across the floor to discuss some matter with a member of Kingston, and the two of them became wrapped in deep thought, so much so that when a division was called on the third reading of an amendment to the Judges Act, in which "Sam" was keenly interested, neither of them observed the fact.

"Anything for the speaker," called first realized it when he saw Premier Bennett glaring to vote. By this time the matter with a member was "trapped". The opposite side became generally appreciated, and loud was the m.c.k. applause. Mr. Jacobs made two or three false starts to skip across to his own seat, but

AN APPLE A DAY

In 1932 Canada produced 2,789,477 bushels of apples valued at $5,518,500 apples, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. This works out about an apple every third day for every inhabitant of the Dominion.

Apple growing in Canada is confined chiefly to British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The apple trade of Nova Scotia is considerable, the greater bulk of the crop being shipped overseas to the British market.

BUSINESS INCREASING PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Business is looking up on Prince Edward Island and potatoes are moving in volume, chiefly to Ontario points, stated P. W. Clarkin, District Freight & Passenger Agent, Canadian National Railways, Charlottetown, P. E. I. It is estimated that approximately $3,000,000 have been brought to Prince Edward Island through the sale of fox pelts during the past season (1932-33), he said.

Mr. Clarkin continued: "Prices received for pelts during the past season were higher than for a couple of seasons past, the greater proportion being shipped through Charlottetown markets. In addition pelts were disposed of through Montreal and New-York markets."

With regard to the tourist trade Mr. Clarkin remarked that Prince Edward Island expects to receive a greater number of tourists this year made to outdoor tourists to the Garden of the Gulf. Facilities for handling tourists have never been better.

He went on to say, what with the new Canadian National Railways hotel at Charlottetown, the Canadian National, and the new modern oil-burning steam car ferry which connects the Island and the mainland and carries passengers and motor cars across the Strait of Northumberland from Cape Tormentine, N. B., to Borden, P. E. I.

A HANCE FOR INVENTORS

What to women are the most needed inventions? This question was propounded at a recent meeting of the Women's Institute, Saint John, N. B., according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways, and among the suggestions submitted were: a rocking chair that would become vocal when someone was about to trip over the rockers; an electric collar button that would become luminous when it rolled under the bed bureau or otherwise inaccessible places; a key hole with a magnetic attachment that would draw the key to the hole in the dark or when friend or enemy is perplexed at a heavy "business session or directors' meeting"; a square-rimmed straw hat that would not roll away when it blew off.

TEMPERATURE OF WATER AFFECTS SEA FISHERIES

From the results of studies made during the summer of 1932 by the Atlantic Biological Experimental Station of the Biological Board of Canada it has been found that temperature of the water has much to do with the success of deep sea fishing, according to the Natural Resources Department of the Canadian National Railways. It was found in the experiments, which were conducted in the vicinity of Halifax, that when the bottom temperature of the water rose above fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit very few fish are caught.

Young haddock were abundant at the fish caught in the harbor during last summer and this provided a unique opportunity to institute a number of tests, taking the temperature of the water along with the number of fish caught. The practical conclusion which the experiments led to is that if the fishermen were to take the temperature of the water when fishing they would increase their catches accordingly.
