A very lean pig, on a windy day, Stood alone by a garden gate; He couldn't get in for the gate wis locked, And sadly he mouned o'er his fate. Then he wiped his eyes with a curl of his tail And gracefully stord on his ear.

And a trembling tear coursed down his spine
Till his face turned the color of cuir. His snoot grew firt, and gray were his locks, When a knot-hole round he esp ed: And he sat on the silken folds of his paw. And peered through that loop hole wide. He saw the sun in a golden beam. Glint its rays on a bucket of mash, And his porcine feelings welled upin his breast And he went through that hole with a dash With a relish uncommonly keen.

He loaded his skin till it cou'dn't hold more And his sides began to expand His face got cheeky; stout grew his limbs, And he left for Lis native land. He resched the hole at the side of the gate And immped for that circular crack When his febrile pulse felt a normal shock And he fell on the broad of his back. And the Coroner sat on the fat remains
Of that porker in his pride:
And this was the verdict the Jury gave:
Died from a swelled inside."
