AFTER A COURT IS INSTITUTED

The Initiation Fee is regulated by the Court. The usual fee is $5 in addition to the certificate and other fees provided for in the Constitution.

The Annual Court Dues are also regulated by the Court.

These Dues are paid into Subordinate Courts, and together with the initiation fees, maintain the fund out of which are paid capitation tax, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by Subordinate Courts.

BENEFITS

Each Court may provide a fund for the payment of Subordinate Court Sick and Funeral Benefits and also for the attendance of a skilled physician during illness.

The High Court Sick and Funeral Benefits are stated above.

After satisfactory proof of the death of a member in good standing, the wife, children, or designated payees of the deceased, receive the amount of insurance.
