

until toward spring. Then for a month previous to, and during seeding, the horses should have hay and oats. In threshing time you will have made hay either from the natural grass or from oats sown in the spring. If you could buy a stack of hay containing about ten tons, it should put you through, together with the feed the stock would get at straw stacks.

In the spring it would be a good plan to sow some oats early for fall feeding, then later sow as much of the remaining fifty acres with oats and rye grass or timothy or both as you wish; fifteen or twenty acres of tame hay, should be sufficient to provide hay for the working season for horses. At other times they could be kept on chaff, oats sheaf, etc.

Western rye grass is well liked by some feeders and by others abhorred.

Its advantage is that it will often grow where the climate is too dry for timothy. Like every other farmer our correspondent should try to get clover started, but should not go to a big expense for seed and expect to get a crop at once.

Worth Its Weight in Gold to Weak Men!

This is the way my patients write about

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

Read what Wm. Bowers, P.O. Box 196, Brantford, Ont., says:

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir.—I purchased one of your strongest Belts for Nervous Debility about four years ago. I had been taking medicine when I first got sick, and they did me some good, but they did not give me the results I desired, and I did not want to get my system full of medicine, so I thought I would try one of your Belts. Before I commenced to wear it, I would wake up in the night with bad spells with my heart, which caused a deathly feeling to come over me. I would get up and open a window and rub myself; but I have not had any of those spells for over two years, and I do not want any more. I believe the electricity cured me. I am feeling well generally, and doing hard work on the farm every day. Yours truly Wm. BOWERS.

My way of restoring strength is different from all others. It is my own plan, and it is as simple as anything can be. I find a man suffering from stomach trouble, arising from a weakness of the organs of digestion and assimilation. Now, what is the use of pouring drugs into that poor stomach? It does not want drugs to force an action. It wants strength.

The proof of this argument is substantiated by the following letter from W. I. Chase, West Gore, N. S., who has worn my appliance:

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir.—After wearing your Belt for only one week I am glad to tell you that it has greatly helped my stomach, kidneys, and liver. From this out, I shall be pleased to let everyone know what the "Dr. McLaughlin Belt" has done for me, as it is well worth advertising. W. I. CHASE.

You know there is not an organ in the body which will not do its work well if it has the strength. You will never feel a pain or moment of distress unless some part of your body is weak. Remember that and don't paralyze your poor stomach with poisons. My plan is to give strength to the part that is ailing. I do that, and the trouble is gone before you understand why.

My treatment is a success in any case where strength is lacking, whether in the nerves, stomach, heart, kidney, liver or any other part. My appliance gives a soothing, constant electric glow, which is taken by the body just as a sponge takes up water. It cures weakness in any guise, as well as any other form of pain. My cures prove the truth of my argument.

I don't think there is any case of weakness, failure of vitality or of any trouble resulting from the imperfect action of any organ of the body that I can't cure. Of course, I do not cure all cases, but I do cure any case I undertake. I have such confidence in my treatment that I Will Cure You First and You Can Pay Me After the Work is Done.

All I ask is that you secure me while you are using it. I don't ask you to take any chances. I am willing to do that.

My strongest arguments are the letters from prominent people whom I have cured. Every man or woman who comes into my office gets a practical illustration of my method of cure, and goes away convinced that the claims I make for my ELECTRIC BELT are TRUE. After seeing original letters from the Cured (letters which I am permitted to exhibit) their doubts are expelled. They know that I have not only proven that electricity is the substance of life and organic vitality, but I have perfected the best known appliance in the world for replenishing that force in the body when it is lost.

My Electric Belt is the result of years of scientific study, coupled with experience and mechanical skill.

My cures are simply marvelous; take the case of James Becker, Innisfail, Alta.:

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir.—I am more than pleased with the result of your Belt. My general health is greatly improved. I feel like a new-made man. My digestion is perfect; my bowels move regularly every day; the Piles are almost gone, and the Catarrh is getting better. To be free from such a disagreeable, loathsome disease as Catarrh I consider is worth the price of the Belt itself, and to be cured of torturing Piles—I cannot tell what a relief that is to me. All scrofulous affection of the skin has disappeared. I will recommend your Belt to anyone that is in bad health, as I consider you worthy of it because you tell the truth in your advertisements as well as in your letters. So many now-a-days can give a whole lot of smooth talk, but in the end they do not live up to it. In conclusion I thank you ever so much for being the means of bringing a cure about in my case. I consider your Belt is the greatest invention of this age. May success attend your endeavors to cure suffering humanity is the wish of your friend, — JOHN BECKER.

I am an enthusiast, you say. Why should I not be? I have the gratitude of thousands of people who have been cured by my Electric Belt after the failure of the best physicians. I am enthusiastic because I know that I offer suffering humanity the surest cure for the least expenditure of money that is known to-day. I have gained my success by learning how to treat my patients, and then curing them. I understand the action of the current on the human system. My years of experience have taught me how to apply electricity. I charge nothing for my knowledge, knowing that it helps me. My patients are my friends. They are advertising my business.

You can talk with the men and women who have been cured by my treatment, and that's worth considering. I might preach for years in my efforts to gather converts to my way of curing disease, and nobody would pay any attention to my arguments, but when I tell you I have cured your neighbor, Mr. A. Smith, or your old friend Mr. Johnson, and you go and ask them about me, and they tell you I have cured them, then I have given you proof, and you know that I do all I claim. And I want you to give me credit for what I prove. There's nothing surer than the word of an honest man, and when such men as these admit that I have cured them, you know that I can cure you.
