UNION STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

Prices throughout the live stock market at the Union Yards were generally steady for the opening of the week. A light offering of calves strengthened this market a little but elsewhere there was slight change. An easy feeling was evident in the cattle section, but sales were mostly made at levels which were unchanged from Thursday's decline. Cows formed a big proportion of the offering, and these met a good trade, kosher cows particularly being keenly sought after. Trade was more or less slow all day but a fair clean-up was effected. The demand, however, was none too brisk and light runs should be shipped during the next two weeks if values are to hold steady. A few loads of heavy steers were brought for export and there was some inquiry for stockers. Farmers who were looking for stockers, however, were unable to secure many, as none were offered for sale. The trade in cows was perhaps the feature of the cattle market, the supply being a heavy one, and the demand good. A couple of sales were made at $8 per hundred and one of these averaged 1710 pounds. The balance of the sales in cows were made between $4.75 and $6. Canners and cutters were scarce. Bulls held about steady. The top price for heavy steers was $8.25, 2 loads selling at this figure, with others moving down to $7.25. A half load of choice butchers brought $7.85, but there were not many sales above $7.50. The bulk of the best killers sold between $6.25 and $7.25. Packers talked of a 50c cut per hundredweight for hogs loaded at the week-end, but receipts were too light to permit of any move this way. Sales were being made at $12.50 per hundred fed and watered unchanged from last Thursday, although outsiders were said to be bidding 10c and 15c higher. The offering of calves was lighter than has been the case lately, and values were slightly stronger. The best offerings brought from $13 to $13.50, with a few tops at $14. With the exception of 150 head all the sheep and lambs were billed through. A few lambs sold up to $14, and a load of sheep changed hands at $8.25.

Vote "Yes" on March 17th.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Ontario's population is 2,931,264 as given by the last census figures. Mrs. Ignatz Scheffter of Walkerton visited relatives here for a few days last week.

The Evangelical Conference will be held at Kitchener, beginning on Wednesday, April 19th.

Moses Bilger of Mildmay has the Farmers Central Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Walkerton.

Mr. August Procknow sold lot 7, con. 14, Carrick, to Mr. Ben Whitehead. Mr. Whitehead takes possession this month. Mr. Procknow is moving to the farm he purchased from Mrs. H. Radel.

A comedy entitled "Don't Lie to Your Wife" will be presented in the town hall, Mildmay, on Wednesday evening, April 19th, by Walkerton talent trained by Mr. M. Van Gene, under the auspices of the G. W. V. A.

Rumors of wholesale bootlegging operations in the township of Howick have been circulated here during the past week. A dozen young fellows are said to be implicated in the manufacture and sale of swamp whiskey.

Vote for the Waterworks. On Friday, March 17th, the ratepayers of Mildmay will be given the opportunity to do a good stroke of business for themselves. Get out to the poll and give the Waterworks By-law a vote, and put the municipality in possession of the local system.

Taken Chevrolet Agency. Messrs. Joseph Kunkel and Henry Schmidt have taken the local agency for the Chevrolet Motor cars, and will have their warehouses in the old British hotel building. The new firm has already sold one car and are on the point of closing up another deal. Repair work will also be done.

Couldn't Do Business. A Hebrew drygoods peddler came here this week to make a house canvas in the village to sell suitings and dress goods. He wanted a license from the local authorities, but was referred to the County Clerk for same. When he was told that it would cost him $110 for a peddler's license, he made a quick getaway.

PROTECTION AGAINST CHIMNEY FIRES

According to the statistics of the Ontario Fire Marshall's Department chimney fires now rank second in number amongst those of strictly preventable origin. Two out of every three fires occur in homes.

It is therefore desirable that steps should be taken to minimize the risk of chimney fires. Inspection of the work during construction is exceedingly difficult and would hardly be adequate, as one defective motor joint may be all that is necessary to start a disastrous fire.

Chimney construction can be made safe by using clay flue linings within the brickwork. These are made either round or rectangular in shape, from the dense vitrified clays used in the manufacture of sewer pipe.

The Fire Underwriters of the United States insist on the use of flue linings compulsory by State ordinances. Several municipal authorities in Ontario have already passed a building by-law incorporating the use of flue linings for chimney construction. The extra cost is negligible, when the safety is considered and the Fire Underwriters are likely to give a better rating to a town where this form of construction is compulsory.

Canada has the unenviable distinction of having the largest fire loss, per capita of population, of any civilized nation, and it is a national duty to take all possible precaution against the origin and spread of fire.

PLAYER DIES AT CHECKER BOARD

Warton, March 14.—When Irwin Kidd and George Keyes, old rival checker players, fell forward in sleep over their checkerboard at Keyes' home near Hepworth on Saturday night it was the last long sleep for Kidd. Mr. Keyes' daughter put her daughter to bed late at night, but was unable to move his visitor, who slipped to the floor. She placed a pillow under his head and a blanket over him. He was dead when she came downstairs in the morning. He had apparently choked to death.

Kidd, a picturesque and well-known character of the district, and famous as a barn framer for 40 years, was in the habit of visiting Keyes and very often in the evenings they would light their pipes and fill their glasses and sit down to a campaign at the checker-board. Saturday they played late and when Miss Keyes looked in on them she found them both fast asleep and bowed over the board.

The coroner decided no inquest is necessary. Kidd has no relatives locally.

THINGS THAT MIGHT CAUSE A SENSATION IN OUR TOWN

(By Him)

If we were to agree to Church union If the Waterworks By-law were to carry by a large majority. If Tom Bennett were to get married If the bell in the big church were to cease its chimes. If the two leading General Merchants were to amalgamate. If our Ford Garage were to give away a Ford.
