MAY BIRD, 2.07 3-4
TO BE SOLD TODAY

Frank Fox's Old Campaigner
One of Big Lot to Be Consigned to Readville Sale.

Boston, Nov. 4.—With a greater number of record performers and better green material to choose from, the 11th semi-annual New England speed sale today at Readville looks up as the outstanding event.

To guess what horse will bring the top price would be a tough assignment. There are so many fast record performers eligible to be classes in which they should do well next season that the question narrows down to who will bid on the various steels and how eager they are to possess them.

With such horses as Billy Jackson (2:04 1/4), Forest McKinney (2:08 1/4), Princelyne (2:11 1/4), Fay Richmond (2:12 1/4), Bill Gentry (2:10 1/4), May Bird (2:07 3/4), and other fast record performers listed in the catalogue, there is certain to be some lively bidding, while among those eligible to the slow pacing classes there are several that will attract big crowds around the auction block.

Fast record trotters are rather scarce, but when we drop down to about the 2:15 notch, there are several of them. Worthy Volo (2:08 3/4), is the fastest record trotter listed, and next are Gen French (2:09 1/4) and the Californian gelding Carl (2:10 1/4).

Then comes Wilcox Bay (2:15 1/4), Pacesetter (2:16 1/4), Jack Consonline (2:16 1/4), Dame Hargard (2:14 1/4), and Tressell (2:14 1/4).

To Race for $1,000 a Side.

W. H. Muir, of Tracy, was in the city yesterday, having just returned from Cape Breton, where his horse, Mother's Boy, divided honors with Capt. Axworthy in two races, each for $500 a side. He says the horse never been matched again to race at the Black Diamond track, Glace Bay, for $1,000 a side on July 1st—Halifax Recorder.

Favorites Bumped at Cranwood.

Cranwood, Nov. 3.—Favorites had a rough time of it at the opening of the fall harness card at Cranwood today. Alvin Merrill won the 2:15 pace, after Harless Damon had been played as favorite, Beauvis, favorite in the 2:20 trot, finished out of the money, Treble winning.

Betsy Hamlin was second choice in the 2:10 pace, but captured the race easily from the favorite, Haley C. Fred C. was one of the several favorites in the 2:20 trot, but Nellie the Great won. Close finishes featured the summary:

2:10 Pacing, Purse $500.—Won by Betsy Hamlin (Moore); Haley C. Fred C. (second), Capt. Shirley (Sibley), third. Best time, 2:10 1/4.

2:20 Trotting, Purse $500.—Won by Nellie the Great (Sturzon); Fred C. (Mallowman), second; Miss Ringo (Burns-Eskine), third. Best time, 2:19 1/4.

Any fool knows what he would do if he were in your place.

Acadia Confident of Winning From Mount A. In Final Game of Western Section on Tuesday After Beating U.N.B. in Loosely Played Game

Acadia's Initiative Made it Possible for Them to Play Most Advantageous Kind of a Game—Lack of Accurate Kicker Lost U. N. B. More Than Enough Points to Win—Billy Lounsbury Contributed the Star Play—U. N. B. Again Lacks Scoring Punch.

With a 6 to 3 victory over U. N. B. yesterday, the Acadia team left Fredericton last night on their return to Wolfville, N. S., where they will play Mount Allison next Tuesday in the final game of the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Football League.

The Acadia team left here just as confident that they will win from Mount Allison as they were when they left Wolfville for Fredericton. The team's confidence was based on the fact that they had beaten U. N. B. in a game which was played in a most advantageous manner for them. The lack of an accurate kicker on the part of U. N. B. was a major factor in Acadia's victory.

Yesterday's game therefore virtually settled the western section of the league, and there have been few if any more seriously played intercollegiate games in the Maritime Provinces in recent years than it proved to be. "Necktie" tackling predominated, and there was continuous offside playing, countless knock-outs and a number of fouls. Acadia was the team that should win. Acadia was the team that should win.

Porter and Clark scored. Acadia's two tries, although they counted just as many points, were not so spectacular. The first was marked by a couple of knocks ahead which called forth loud protests against the scoring. The second was the result of a fumble by U. N. B.'s back division which Acadia quickly took advantage of.

The first Acadia try was scored by Porter, the speed merchant of their half line, who after the ball had been carried and passed along by half a dozen players in what seemed to be a aimless fashion until they finally got it out to their goal line. Porter then kicked the ball over the crossbar.

Clark got Acadia's second try when he kicked the ball over U. N. B.'s line after Trimble missed a pass from Cain about 20 yards out. Then beat McKenzie, who was in the line, in a race for the ball, fell back to it once more. It was such a simple play that many failed to realize it was a try. Another try had been scored; it had however, and it spelled defeat for U. N. B.

Acadia had the advantage of U. N. B. in weight on the forward line, and their scrum could push U. N. B. around about the same as the Acadia team. The Acadia team was a fair and impartial referee. He was strong in his praise of Alden Clark who, he declared, would be the most promising player for next year's Acadia team.

Something New—A Hair Tackle. Capt. Atkinson and Lounsbury proved the most effective of Acadia's forwards while Beardley directed the play of the scrum in a decisive sort of a way that kept the pack working and generally speaking Acadia's backs handled the ball better and kicked more effectively than their opponents, but the tackling was away off color. Half a dozen U. N. B. sweats were spoiled by mad game and over the necks and shoulders; but Fleming, one of Acadia's big forwards, outdid everybody else by grabbing Trimble by his Teddy Bear haircut and thus stopping one of his most promising runs of the game. It was something entirely new in football hereabouts and showed how utterly possible it is to kick the ball for the seven Sutherland sisters to have become successful rugbettes if Mr. Fleming was around.

Dr. H. E. Bigelow, a member of the Mount A. faculty, stepped into the breach at the last minute and consented to referee the game when both sides would have been well served if, as a result of the kicking they carried on until the eleventh hour, they had been left without any referee. Dr. Bigelow was most conscientious and no doubt did the best he could, but he while they had two chances for penalty goals that a reasonably sure kicker could have come through on. Their one bright spot in the back division was Billy Lounsbury, who set an example to his teammates of quick thinking and clean performance that stood out as prominently as the one black sheep in a flock. He scored U. N. B.'s only try in the game. Sixty yards from Acadia's line he virtually stole the ball away from Acadia when Alden Clark, the Fredericton boy on Acadia's half line, missed an attempt to kick the ball into the air after a short punt; picking up the ball he dashed ahead and evaded a tackle only to find that U. N. B. had a back who had been purposely saved for this game, looming up in front of him. Quick as a flash, when Parker made his dive for a low tackle, Lounsbury hurried the Acadia full back and, although half thrown off his stride, he managed to stagger along and get going again in time to get over Acadia's line for a try just as a couple of the visitors piled upon him.

That was the piece de resistance, so to speak, of the contest.

Porter and Clark scored. Acadia's two tries, although they counted just as many points, were not so spectacular. The first was marked by a couple of knocks ahead which called forth loud protests against the scoring. The second was the result of a fumble by U. N. "We Did Our Best," Says Capt. Saunders

"Well, we did our best and it wasn't good enough," declared Capt. Saunders of the U. N. B. team as he limped off the gridiron at College Field while the Acadia team and some of their supporters hugged one another with joy and yelled A-C-A-D-I-A. "I don't know whether it was condition or not that got it. We lost the game, but we didn't lose the game. It's not any worse than when I started."

Sav Acadia Didn't Play Up to Scratch.

Captain Atkinson and some of the Acadia players who were here from Wolfville for yesterday's game did not hesitate to express themselves as dissatisfied with the showing made by Acadia team, even if they did win from U. N. B.

Captain Atkinson of the Acadia team stated that he was much surprised at the game played by the U. N. B. team as, from reports which Acadia had received on the U. N. B. team, they had not expected to have a team that they could not beat.

The Red and Black team played a good clean game," he stated, "but they did not seem in good shape for the contest. Their scrum worked well against ours if they were outwheeled, and they played as good a game as our forwards."

Captain Atkinson said that he was confident the team would win from Mount Allison when they met, stating that from reports received Mount Allison players were not put up to the same kind of struggle the U. N. B. had shown.

Both Teams Over-anxious. Dr. Hewitt, a university physician, who accompanied the Acadia team on their trip, said he did not think the Acadia team were "up to scratch." He said that he had not played a useful good game as there had been too many fumbles and bad plays. "You can charge that to their meeting with old rivals," he said, "but they showed themselves a little off color."

"I have no doubt but that Acadia will play a better game next year," he declared, "and thus play their games in the section of the Intercollegiate League without a loss."

Dr. Hewitt's opinion of the afternoon's play he stated that he thought there were too many offside plays and too many conspicuous errors. "Dr. Bigelow proved a fair and impartial referee," he said, "although there were many plays that escaped him. He got the ball away from the side lines could easily see. He was strong in his praise of Alden Clark who, he declared, would be the most promising player for next year's Acadia team."

confessed he had not been handling games for some time; the result was a lot of stuff got by with him that a strict referee would have stopped. Acadia was most capable of taking advantage of the situation thus created. It seemed to be to their liking—and they played the most effective game under the circumstances, but accurate penalty kicking by U. N. B. would have cost Acadia the game as a result of the penalties Dr. Bigelow handed out as a result of the visitors' persistent offside play.

U. N. B. had their students' hand at the field and would have staged a big celebration, no doubt, had they won. As it was the "musicians" found themselves "all dressed up but no place to go."—J. D. B.

U. N. B.'s Football Season Closed Without a Victory in the Intercollegiate League—Detailed Report of the Play Shows Many Fumbles at the Most Critical Moments by U. N. B. Backs—Fifteen Free Kicks Were Awarded by Dr. Bigelow.

U. N. B. closed their football season yesterday without a victory in the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Football League, when they were beaten at College Field by a score of 6 to 3 by Acadia.

The game was played under almost ideal conditions. The wind and sun having dried up the field, after which the wind dropped and left comfortable autumn weather. Although the crowd was large and rough fences had been provided, there were no policemen on hand and the crowd swarmed on the field as much that play had to be halted a number of times until the gridiron was cleared.

While the game was closely contested it was loosely played and, judged, the Acadia team winning through the superiority of their back division, especially the halfbacks, over those of the Red and Black team. A better development of tempo and knowing what to do with the ball when they got it, together with the many irregular plays which escaped the notice of the referee, Dr. H. E. Bigelow, accounted for the victory.

The Red and Black back division won fame by their wild passes and continuous fumbling. Their opponents were snipier and quicker to get away with the ball, and very few wild passes were noticed in their play. Cain and Trimble were the prominent players in the U. N. B. half line and at the same time they committed the majority of offences which killed U. N. B.'s scoring chances. Porter and Clark for Acadia were the stars of the back division of their team, the former tackling hard and clean and effecting a number of gains by clever punting and headwork. He secured his team's first try, while Clark got the other and showed that he is one of the most promising players in the Acadia line.

Several scrummages followed, one after another in close order until the ball was kicked ahead by Haines and Lounsbury emerged from the midst of a bunch of players and snatched the ball off the ground. He was tackled by Parker but brushed him aside and stumbled, only to regain his feet and cross the line for a try. The kick from a difficult angle, failed and the period closed with the score 3 to 2.

Second Period. Acadia took the kick-off in the second period and the ball was caught by Saunders and returned to touch. On the throw-in the leather went to Porter, who got away for a gain of ten or fifteen yards before he was tackled. A scrum was called for and the ball went to Trimble, who times were pushed clean over the ball. Clark kicked the ball over the U. N. B. goal line but fell over it and then twisted and got his hands on it for five playing yards. Instead of carrying the ball out, it was thrown out, and Acadia forfeited their kick for goal.

On the kick-off the ball went to Porter, whose kick was blocked by Saunders. In a scrumage that followed U. N. B. were penalized and Parker took the kick, which was knocked into touch by Stevens. On the throw-in the ball went the length of the U. N. B. half line, James making a gain of about 5 yards before he was downed by Parker. Acadia were again penalized for offside play and Lounsbury attempted a drop kick over the goal, which failed. The ball then passed into Acadia's hands and play was carried on one end of the field to the other. U. N. B. were penalized twice for picking, and the scrumage, Parker making gains on both kicks and sending the ball into touch well up in the Red and Black territory. For the rest of the period play was in the Acadia territory and several times the Red and Black half line got in working order, only to be checked by hard tackling. One of these occasions Cain succeeded in carrying the Acadia 25-yard line, where he was tackled and he tried to pass out to Trimble. Trimble made a very good gain but was tackled and downed before the ball could go out further. For the last five minutes of the period play was inside the Acadia 25-yard line, but the Red and Black division lacked the scoring punch to carry the ball over and were well beaten from the scrum, but Trimble fumbled and Porter went over for the first try of the game.

Porter took the kick-off and Jamer took the kick from half way, the forwards following up and holding the ball on the Acadia 25-yard line. The U. N. B. were then awarded a free kick for offside play, and McKenzie failed on an easy placement kick for goal. The half line followed ball wall and Clark was forced to touch for safety behind Acadia's line. Lounsbury took the kick-off, which was returned and caught by Stevens, who ran a short distance before kicking. On the exchange of kicks Saunders was the only one of the U. N. B. team who followed the ball up, making a run to the Acadia goal line for it, only to have it kicked into touch. A scrumage was held and the ball was heeled out to Burgess, who passed to Cain, he passed to Trimble, who missed, and Clark saved the situation for Acadia by dribbling the ball to near the red and black 25-yard line, where he kicked it to touch. On the throw-in Burgess passed to Cain, but Trimble stumbled and missed the pass to him and once more the ball passed into Acadia's hands. During scrummage the U. N. B. team were awarded a free kick and Cain took the punt, which was returned to touch by Parker. On the throw-in the ball was heeled out to McKenzie, who kicked to touch on Acadia's 35-yard line. In the scrumage which followed Roberson was caught picking out, and Cain, trying a cross kick, lost about five yards. Play then centred around the half way line, the ball being punned back and forward until it went to touch. Trimble missed a nice pass from Cain on the throw-in and the ball was secured by Porter, who succeeded in gaining considerable ground. On the ball being heeled out of the scrumage which followed it went to Porter, whose punt was caught by Stevens, the latter being tackled on the U. N. B. 10-yard line before he could get away. Several scrummages followed and after repeated attempts by Porter and Burgess, by kicking the ball, succeeded in carrying the ball to the U. N. B. 25-yard line.

U. N. B. got a free kick, which was taken by Lounsbury, and Porter, who secured the ball, went through the U. N. B. scrum for a gain of ten yards before he was tackled. He lost the ground gained by Porter, who kicked the ball to touch. On the throw-in it was dribbled up the field by the U. N. B. forwards until interrupted by Porter. Several scrummages followed, one after another in close order until the ball was kicked ahead by Haines and Lounsbury emerged from the midst of a bunch of players and snatched the ball off the ground. He was tackled by Parker but brushed him aside and stumbled, only to regain his feet and cross the line for a try. The kick from a difficult angle, failed and the period closed with the score 3 to 2.

Third Period. Acadia took the kick-off in the third period and the ball was caught by Saunders and returned to touch. On the throw-in the leather went to Porter, who got away for a gain of ten or fifteen yards before he was tackled. A scrum was called for and the ball went to Trimble, who times were pushed clean over the ball. Clark kicked the ball over the U. N.
