Project Discussed at Public Meeting Last Night—Several Forms Which a Memorial Might Take Discussed and Also Amount of Money Required—General Committee Named and Recommendation Passed That City Council Get Authority to Make Substantial Grant.

At a public meeting held at the Council Chamber, City Hall, last night a general committee of eighteen members were named to take up the project of erecting a War Memorial in this city, and a resolution was passed suggesting that the City Council obtain authority to provide a substantial grant for the purpose.

Several forms which a memorial might take were discussed and the suggestion was made that the city of Fredericton might co-operate with the government in the erection of a provincial memorial in this, the capital city. Representatives of the returned soldiers favored a Soldiers' Home or memorial building of some kind, while others favored the erection of a suitable statue. The attendance at the meeting was disappointing, there being not more than forty present.

In opening the meeting, Mayor Hanson stated that the meeting was called to discuss the desirability of erecting some form of a memorial to those from this city who gave their lives in the Great War. He welcomed those present at the meeting and asked for their co-operation. A project like the present one would be considered ill-advised if the matter were left to a few, and should instead be placed in the hands of a large, representative committee. A suggestion was offered by the Mayor that a committee be appointed by those who had the schemes at heart to consider ways and means of establishing some memorial and to report later at a public meeting.

The matter of a memorial, he said, was first brought up at the St. Andrew's Society meeting on Nov. 30th, 1918, when that society proposed to raise a sum of $1,000 as a foundation. Mr. Justice Crockett said no one would take a stand against the erection of a memorial to those who had given their lives in the war. Sixteen months had passed since the war ceased, and it was time the splendid heroism of these fellow-citizens be recognized by the erection of a suitable permanent memorial to their memory. Within a week after the meeting of the St. Andrew's Society, on which occasion $1,000 was pledged for a memorial fund, the society had raised over $1,100.

Judge Crockett then moved a resolution that a permanent and suitable memorial be erected in memory of those of this city who gave their lives for the defence of their homes and country. A. R. Slipp, in seconding the motion, said the project was a worthy one and should be the support of all the citizens of Fredericton. The motion was carried unanimously.

A general Committee Appointed.
It was then moved by Ald. J. A. Reid, seconded by J. J. F. Winslow, that a general committee of eighteen members be named by a nominating committee to consider ways and means of carrying out the project. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. W. J. Osborne, W. E. Farrant, E. H. Coy, C. F. Chestnut and H. S. Campbell were appointed by Mayor Hanson, and they soon brought in a report suggesting the following names for the general committee:

Mayor Hanson, Judge Crockett, Dr. C. C. Jones, William Richards, Ald. J. A. Reid, H. A. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Osborne, Countess of Ashburnham, Mrs. N. C. Dougherty, Judge Harry, G. C. H. Reid, Col. T. G. Loggie, J. F. Winslow, J. T. Jennings, R. F. Randolph, Ald. F. L. Cooper, His Lordship Bishop Richardson and W. D. Genter.

Provincial Memorial Suggested.
Dr. W. C. Crockett, M. L. A., inquired if the intention was to have a city or a provincial memorial. It had been suggested that the City of Fredericton and the County of York should unite or that all the counties of the province should unite in erecting a provincial memorial. This city being the capital of the province, Dr. Crockett suggested that a provincial memorial might be erected here which would be worthy of the splendid spirit of those who had made the supreme sacrifice.

Dr. W. C. Keirstead said he was in accord with the idea of Judge Crockett. The memorial should be a fitting monument to show the splendid spirit of the brave Fredericton men and boys who gave their lives in the great war. Many institutions could help out in this project and the speaker hoped the basis of a co-operative effort, worthy of those who had died, and which would teach a lesson of freedom and righteousness, would be laid by the meeting.

Judge Wilson stated that it would be a disgrace if the city if it did not show its appreciation of the efforts of the men who had given their lives for the preservation of civilization. A memorial to the men who had died in the great war should be erected by the citizens of Fredericton.

Mayor Hanson expressed his regret that Col. T. G. Loggie was unable to attend the meeting. Col. Loggie, he said, had taken a warm interest in the work and, as he was one of those who originated the idea, he would back it both financially and morally.

Mr. S. Sutherland stated that it would be well for Fredericton to do something in honor of the Fredericton boys who had given their lives in the Great War. The province might have a memorial of its own.

Memorial Home Proposed.
William Richards stated that he concurred with Dr. Crockett in the idea of the city and province establishing, but outside of this city no meetings had been held in the interests of such a memorial. He suggested that the memorial take the form of a Soldiers' Home for the Province of New Brunswick, in order that the returned soldiers of the province might have the benefit of it. There might at least be a union of York and Sunbury counties for the erection of such a building.

Ald. Reid believed each county or city should take steps to get its own memorial. If a county was too small for such an idea the Provincial Government should step in and make a liberal provision.

Mayor Hanson stated that Carleton County had already voted an amount for the erection of a memorial monument in the shiretown of Woodstock. It would be well for the committee to have full information from the Provincial Government concerning what steps may be taken towards the erection of a provincial memorial in order that a clash would not occur over the matter.

Government House Proposed.
Mrs. G. C. VanWart and Mrs. M. Harvey expressed hearty sympathy with the idea of a memorial, favoring a memorial Soldiers' Home building. Mrs. Harvey thought that the Old Government House might be used as a memorial home instead of as quarters for the permanent troops. There were other buildings that might be used as quarters for the permanent forces and the Government House thus be available for a memorial home.

Mayor Hanson stated in reference to the Old Government House that the building was being transferred to the Dominion Government by the province, and he understood the order-in-council for the grant was in the process of going through now. He thanked Mrs. Harvey for her suggestion. Before any scheme for the province were lodged a good deal of canvassing would have to be made as to how the expense would be borne.

A Statue Suggested.
Col. Montgomery Campbell, O. B. E., stated that it was up to the province to do something, and as Fredericton was the capital of the province, it should be the site of the provincial memorial.
