

heavily and displayed more fortitude than had been thought possible. Fortunately he abstained from speech-making and confined himself entirely on the advice of Father Andre, who has been his constant companion throughout, to spiritual matters. Riel never slept after receiving the intelligence of his execution would take place this morning, and throughout the night was constant in his devotions.

At seven o'clock he ate a light supper, at five in the morning mass was celebrated, followed two hours later by the administration of the last sacrament. Riel remained the last of his life in the cell, his new religious idiosyncrasies decided to die a devout Catholic.

The hour fixed for the execution was 8 o'clock, but it was fifteen minutes past that hour before those who had passed from the sheriff were admitted to the guard room. Here Riel was found kneeling upon the floor in prayer, and from which he was to step to the gallows. It was a sad scene. Around him were gathered numbers of the mounted police, Sheriff Chapman, Deputy Sheriff Gibson, and a few others. The scene was illuminated by a small window covered with a sheet of frost through which the sun shined but a few hours shot a few weak rays.

RIEL, NOW KNELT beside the open window through which the gallows could be seen and prayed incessantly for fully half an hour. Fathers McWilliams and Andre conducted the service for the deceased in French. Riel repeating the responses in a clear voice, which could be heard distinctly above the murmurs of the priests' whispering tones.

Jack Henderson, the regular hangman here, an old Red River pioneer, who had no cause to love Riel because of the first rebellion, commenced the work of hanging the prisoner. Henderson had in former times been Riel's prisoner.

The melancholy procession soon began to wind its way toward the scaffold, which had been erected for Klouner, a Hebever, and soon came in sight of the noose. Deputy Sheriff Gibson went ahead. Then came Father McWilliams, next Riel, then Father Andre, Dr. Jakes and others. As he stood on the trap door, Riel continued invoking the aid of Jesus, Mary and the Saints during his last agonies. "Courage, Pere," he said, addressing Father Andre, and then addressed Father McWilliams in the same words. "I believe still in God."

"To the last?" said Father Andre. "Yes, to the very last," said Riel; "I believe and trust in him. Sacred heart of Jesus, have mercy on me." Dr. Jakes shook hands with the prisoner, who said in English: "Thank you, doctor." Then he continued: "Jesus, Maria, Joseph, assist me in the last moments."

Deputy Sheriff Gibson then said: "Louis Riel, have you anything to say before death?" Riel answered: "No." He was given two minutes to pray and he repeated the Lord's Prayer, Father McWilliams leading. When the prayer was being given over his face and the rope adjusted, at the words "Lead us not into temptation," the hangman SEPARING THE DOIT at twenty-eight minutes past eight and Riel shot downward with a terrible crash. For a second he did not move. A slight twitching of limbs was noticed, but instantly all was still again. In two minutes after the fall, Riel was pronounced dead by the coroner. His neck was broken instantaneously.

His conduct on the scaffold was very courageous. He was pale but firm and kept up his conversation with constant ease. His thoughts from the terrible death before him. His neck was broken by the fall. The doctors say he could have experienced a most painful death. For a second or two his limbs twitched slightly, then a convulsive shudder ran through his frame and all was over. In less than three minutes Dr. Jakes pronounced him dead.

Few persons were present. The only persons on the scaffold besides the condemned man and the hangman were: Deputy Sheriff Gibson, Dr. Jakes of the mounted police, Father Andre, Father McWilliams and press representatives.

GREAT FIRE AT GALTVESTON. GALTVESTON, Tex., Nov. 13.—This city was deluged by fire to-day. The burned district covers 52 blocks, seven of which have been swept entirely clean. It is 10 blocks in depth, and averages a width of three blocks. About three hundred houses were burned, occupied by fully 500 families. From Avenue A to Avenue E, for four squares, the houses and dwellings were occupied almost entirely by the poorer class, and several families were crowded in a single house in this city. The portion of the burned district included the wealthiest and most fashionable portion of the city. One hundred elegantly furnished mansions are in ruins. Many of these were of the most beautiful garden attached and the moneyed loss does not represent half their value.

The city assessor says the taxable value of the dwellings burned is $200,000. This makes the actual value of the property $1,500,000. Which perhaps represents the loss in money. As far as can be learned not a single accident occurred notwithstanding the fearful panic that prevailed. The scene during the progress of the fire was simply frightful. The wind rose to a screaming gale in the vicinity of the fire and a heavy shower of burning bits in terrific swirls, carrying millions of live cinders high up in the air and raining them down a mile distant over the wooden city and the panic-stricken inhabitants. The entire end of the city scarcely contains a dozen brick dwellings. All is wood (Texas Pine) and it burns with indescribable fury. The loss in personal and household property can never be estimated and not included in the previous estimate. Funds for the relief of the needy are pouring in from all points. Jay Gould telegraphed a donation of $5,000. The citizens of Galtveston have contributed $31,500, and others sums from various quarters make to-day's receipts $38,000. The best part of citizens estimate the loss at fully $2,000,000, while many who claim to have figured on the matter put it as high as $2,500,000. Following close on the heels of the great strike, which inflicted a monied loss on the business men of Galtveston of fully four hundred thousand dollars, this calamity is the climax to woe and sore afflictions of the Oleander City.

SMALL POX AT CHARLOTTE-TOWN. Last night it was discovered that several cases of what is believed to be small pox had broken out in this city in a family by the name of Thompson, who reside on Long Street, near the Malpeque Road. The cause of the outbreak is altogether a mystery. All that is known is as follows:—About ten days ago one of the children came home from school complaining of being ill, and next day they were thought to be chicken pox. A sailor named William Jones, of the Lucy Pope, who had been staying at the house, was taken ill last night also, and, although small-pox has not developed as yet, it is feared that he has also taken it. Meanwhile the house is being isolated and strictly guarded. The sailor has been placed in the Marine Hospital. The Lucy Pope is lying at Steam Navigation Co.'s wharf and every precaution will be taken to prevent communication with the shore. She cannot be moved from her present position, and it is also the case of the other vessels in the harbor, but she will be thoroughly fumigated, and her loading of deers will be proceeded with.

The cases appear to be of a mild type. It is necessary, however, that our citizens should at once be vaccinated, and thus be prepared for the worst.—Patriot, Nov. 13.

The disease appears to be gaining ground. A despatch to the Sun says: Five new cases of small-pox on Saturday and three on Sunday, making eighteen in all. The new ones are: Two Mrs. Vreys and Miss O'Hara are in the infirmary; a servant girl at the Rocklin House, Kent street; a Miss Mayo of Somers, at Capt. Millin's, next to the Methodist brick church; a child of William Maxwell, a truckman, who resides on King square; a fireman named Keenan, boarding at Smith's corner Prince and Water streets; a case in the family of Alex. Campbell of Dury's Lane, and Ferguson, horse dealer, who came from Carleton place yesterday. James Thompson aged 40 died on Saturday afternoon of the disease. The Board of Health are taking all the precautionary measures. All the patients were removed outside the city limits on Sunday. The citizens committee are working hard to prevent a further spread of the disease. There was no service in any of the city churches on Sunday. The Gospel Army suspended their services. The Rock Band Concert Co.'s engagement has been cancelled and all public meetings are forbidden.

THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL. LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Pope's encyclical letter notes and approves the syllabus of Pius IX, against modern infidelity. It denounces popular government and insists upon the obedience of subjects to their sovereigns, and upon sovereigns' obedience to the Pope. Religion the Pope says, ought to enter into the daily life. He urges Catholics to take part in all municipal elections. The document is in two parts: one part in doctrinal, defines the rights of the church in existing governments, and sets forth the Pope's view on the relations of church and state. The second part draws a harrowing picture of modern society in revolution and anarchy. It abandoned the principles of the Roman Catholic church and faith, consequently to provide for or to relieve the working classes in existing governments, and decided have lost all respect for civil and religious authority, and seen on the verge of overturning the entire social fabric of Europe in revolution and anarchy. The Pope at first entitled his encyclical "Liberalism," but he has now decided to call it "State government." This document will be the memorable act of the reign of Pope Leo XIII.

GENERAL ELECTION IN THE UNITED KINGDOM. The London World of October 28th says: All uncertainties as to the date of the General Election has now been disposed of. The proclamation dissolving Parliament will be issued on the 18th November, and the same night the writs for the election will be dispatched. The earliest borough polls will be expected to take place on the 25th; and before Saturday, the 29th of November, the bulk of the borough elections will be over. We shall by that time have some idea how matters are going. The polls for the county divisions will begin in the following week; and before the 6th or 7th of December it will be known conclusively whether the country has pronounced for Gladstone or Lord Salisbury. The elections will be completed by the middle of December.

A JUBILEE.—A grand jubilee of rejoicing over the success of the Scott Act election was held in the City Hall last evening. The jubilee was inaugurated at the suggestion of the W. C. T. Union, and was a brilliant success. Music was furnished by the Fredrickson Brass Band, and the warmest enthusiasm characterized all the exercises. Happy addresses were delivered by W. C. G. Galtveston Esq., who occupied the chair, Rev. Mr. Crawley, Rev. Mr. Tippins, Rev. Joseph McLeod, and Edwin Jack, Esq.—Fton Reporter.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 13.—Lord Dufferin has ordered Gen. French, commander of the Burmah expedition, to invade Burmah forthwith and proceed with all haste to the capture of Mandalay. British forces will cross the frontier immediately. Recent despatches from Rangoon state that the inhabitants of districts in British Burmah where no large garrisons are maintained are greatly alarmed over the report that King Thibaw has subdued 15,000 Daoits to cross the frontier and begin plundering and murdering at the first note of war. The Daoits are numbers who work in large gangs and are noted for their bold exploits; having neither baggage nor a commissariat these bands travel with marvellous speed and it will be hard for the British troops to catch them.
