Why is it that none of our boys or girls are trying to earn a gold watch. If this prize was offered by some American paper, which offers a cheap watch, every second boy or girl would be hustling, but in our case when a guaranteed watch of good value is offered, and where the watch can be seen on application, we have not had any tidings of boys or girls in Northumberland county who are working to secure one. In Gloucester we have several boys who are hustling. There are good chances for boys in Newcastle, Chatham, Douglastown, Millerton, Blackville, Nelson, Indiantown, Boiestown or Deaktown, as we are sure that with very little work any boy can secure from 10 to 30 subscribers, and any number from 10 up secure a watch. Send for sample copies and instructions which will be sent free on request.

Premier Tweedie returned Friday from a flying trip to Edmunston, by the Intercolonial and the Terriconata, having been only two days absent. He went to Riverview du Loup and found that the express had left for Edmunston, 80 miles distant. The manager of the Terriconata gave him a special train and his private car and sent him forward. On his return to Riverview du Loup the private car was attached to the Intercolonial for his homeward journey. At Chatham Junction it was attached to the Canada Eastern, and the Premier came home in state, even like unto a Minister of Railways.—World.

Premier Tweedie wore a borrowed silk hat when he opened the Moncton hospital. He arrived in Moncton with an $8 silk hat which he wore, as he entered an up-town barber shop, and carefully placed it on a chair before submitting himself to the barber. While the latter was at work, a mountaineer arrived and sat himself comfortably down on the chair. As he did so there was a tremendous report, and he looked up in utter amazement. The barber looking at the mountaineer in utter amazement, rebuked him for his carelessness, but the matter responded: "I don't want any of your sass." The Premier, hearing this reply, thought it was one of those occasions when silence was golden. He departed in silence, leaving the ruin of his chapeau as a cushion, and appeared at the hospital opening in borrowed head-gear.—Transcript, 18th.

The Wm. Richards Co. has purchased the Morrison mill property, two miles above Chatham, from Samuel Lowther, of Belfast, Ireland, for £1000. There is a deep water wharf on the front 880 feet long, that needs a little repairing, and the best boom privilege on the river, where a million and a half of lumber can be held in perfect security. There are five dwelling houses on the land. It is only a short distance to the Canada Eastern Railway, and could easily be connected with it. It is just outside the town limits, and near enough to the pumping station to get the corporation water for fire protection and other purposes. It was here that Mayor Murdoch built a pulp mill, in his mind, and it is a good site for such a purpose. Several business men have been looking out for a chance to buy this property at a low figure, and they will all be surprised on learning that the Richards Co. has secured it. The new owners may rebuild the mill or establish some other industry there.—World.
