The bridegroom in the following notice from the North China Daily News is a young Newfoundland who left St. John's about five years ago to study for the Foreign Mission.

MUNROE-REIKIE.

On December 22nd, 1910, at Holy Trinity Cathedral, Shanghai, Helen Elizabeth Ker Reikie, daughter of the late Rev. T. W. Reikie, of Canada, to John Matthew Munroe, son of William John Munroe, of Aroch, Ross-shire, Scotland, both of China Inland Mission.

Rev. Mr. Munroe will be remembered by many of his old friends in this city who will be glad to hear of his welfare.

After leaving St. John's, Nfld., he studied in Glasgow and was subsequently accepted in London as a Missionary for the China Inland Mission. He sailed with the party of 1907 and commenced the study of the Chinese language. After arriving in Shanghai and getting the necessary outfit for the interior station the young Missionary settled at Anking. Next year he was sent to the Province of Chekiang to take up the work at the place where the Mission operates in 21 districts, has 87 preaching stations, 26 salaried preachers, 77 voluntary preachers. There were 105 baptisms in 1910. They have a boys school and girls school. The work is very prosperous and the people are hospitable and friendly and are kind to the strangers. The scenery is indescribably beautiful.

Another Policeman Has Resigned.

Const. Frank Power who only joined the force on the 4th inst., left again Saturday morning and will go out west. His brother who had been several years in the force, with Officers Walsh, Fitzgerald and Cleary left by the express with M. F. Carroll's men to go to Vancouver to engage in the whale fishery. Other members of the police force will be leaving after another short while as they say their wages are miserably low, and now that the "Tory" Government are in power and the "members" are busy helping themselves out of the public chest there is little show for such humble individuals as policemen. They have been particularly discouraged since hearing the brutal statement in the Assembly during the present session:—"Civil servants who are not satisfied can get out." However it won't be long before the civil servants with the rest of the public will have the pleasure of bouncing the Morris "Tory" bootlers themselves, and they never will be missed.

An Imposing Funeral

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ayre took place from her residence, Renzie's Mill Road, Saturday afternoon and was attended by a large number of citizens of all walks of life and of every denomination. The hearse containing the remains, which were enclosed in a casket, was followed by the sons of the deceased lady and other relatives, following whom were the employees of Ayre & Sons, Ltd. The service at the grave side was solemn and impressive and was conducted by Revs. Dr. Cowperthwaite, Dr. Curtis, J. W. Partlett and C. Hackett. At George Street Church last night a memorial service was held. The Communion rail was draped in black and special hymns suited to the occasion were rendered. The anthem was "Who are these arrayed in white robes." The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite from John 11: 25, 26. He took as his subject "The present life as man's opportunity," and his discourse was eloquent and soul-stirring. At the conclusion the preacher in feeling terms referred to the life of the deceased lady. Mr. Hedley Tuff rendered "Crossing the Bar," and appropriate music was played by the organist, Mr. Christian. A very large congregation was present.

Stella Maris Here.

The s.s. Stella Maris, Capt. W. Winsor, arrived here at 2.30 a.m. yesterday from the northward. She left Friday week and reached Seldom Come Bay Thursday night at 11 o'clock. She had fine but very frosty weather on the run north, and after reaching Cape Bonavista found an ocean of heavy ice ahead of her, which it would be impossible to penetrate, so that the ship had to put back and running to Old Perlican landed freight there, where they could not do going down, after which the ship entered Catalina, where she remained for a day and night and took in a supply of coal and water. She then made another attempt to pass Cape Bonavista, forced through 8 miles of ice off that promontory and then got clear. This was ice that was jammed in Blackhead Bay all winter and which had been smashed up with the sea. The ship saw a lot of bedlamer seals in the water in Trinity and Bonavista Bays. The Stella Maris was lying under Cape Bonavista on the night of the 13th March, when the sealing fleet left, and Capt. Winsor says that the Florizel was the first ship to pass there at 11.45 that night, followed 30 minutes after by the Adventure, the Seathic, Heliaventure and Bonaventure ran into the ice which was off the land and steamed in, passing the Cape about half an hour after the Florizel and Adventure had gone north of it. The Stella Maris left Seldom at 11 a.m. Friday and had gales of wind and snow flurries coming along, though the temperature was much higher than when going north. The ship brought up 51 passengers, including 21 in saloon. These included several men from Catalina going up to Fortune Bay to engage in the Bank fishery, a family of five from Bonavista bound to Winnipeg, and people from Kings Cove and other places bound to the States. The ship called at Musgrave, Cat Harbor and Newtown to land freight.

Star of the Sea.

At the meeting of the Star of the Sea Association held yesterday Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan addressed the Society on the temperance question and the petition now being signed for presentation to the House of Assembly. The rev. gentleman dwelt on the evils that resulted from liquor drinking and asked the Society to come forward to sign the petition, which had for its object the closing of the saloons at 6 o'clock p.m. instead of 9 o'clock. About seventy of the members present signed the petition.

Pleasant Sunday.

Mr. H. E. Cowan spoke on "Opportunities" at the P. S. A. meeting yesterday afternoon. The address was helpful and instructive. Mr. Cowan showed that opportunities came to every man at some time in his life which if taken at the flood would lead to fortune. Too many men failed to realize the psychological moment and because of their remissness the rest of their lives was wasted around the shoals and shallows. Opportunity knocks at every man's door as impartially as a water rate collector. We should be always ready to hear the rap and recognize the call and break the chains of custom that held us to a narrow ditch in life that we could not see beyond. We should aim at improving others as well as ourselves. The solo was taken by Mr. Hatcher and was well rendered. Mr. H. Y. Mort will speak next Sunday.

Narrow Escape.

While crossing over to Lawley's Island, P.B., from the main land last week, a young woman narrowly escaped drowning. She attempted to cross the slab alone and had made some progress when she suddenly fell through. It was some time before her predicament was noticed and men hastened to her aid, reaching her at great risk and effected a rescue. Beyond a drenching from the chilly water and a bad fright the young woman suffered no serious consequences.

Daughters Meeting.

Saturday afternoon the "Daughters of the Empire" held a meeting at which there was a large attendance; several new members were admitted. After some discussion it was decided that a "Bag and Cushion Sale" be held next May to raise funds for a cottage hospital for consumptives. A meeting will be held shortly to make all arrangements for this event. Meanwhile the Daughters would be thankful to anyone who would send cushions or bags for the sale. Rev. Mr. Bartlett will lecture on "A Poet of the Empire." The meeting closed at 5 p.m.

Bishop Feild College.

The pupils of Bishop Feild College held a debate Saturday night last on the following subject: "Every citizen should be trained for not less than three years to enable him to fight for his country in time of need." The affirmative side led by R. Crum and J. Trebble won by a majority of 11. J. M. Burden and G. Shaw pleaded ably for the negative. The other speakers were Messrs. Cull, Reid, Scammell, Martin, King, Parsons and Newman. A concert, reaching her at 10.15, was given by Messrs. R. Lemesurier, Wood, Stirling and Cell.

You Blame the Stomach

But chronic indigestion will disappear when the liver, kidneys and bowels are set right by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS. You are skeptical. For you have tried many medicines and still suffer from indigestion with all its annoying symptoms. Take a new line. Leave the stomach alone, for the source of trouble is in the intestines and healthy digestion can be restored by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

The senior pupils of St. Bon's held another debate Saturday afternoon at the College. The subject was: "Should Newfoundland enter into Confederation with Canada or not?" The affirmative was taken up by Messrs. J. Leonard, M. Dinn, L. Sharpe, F. Keating and P. Keating. The negative by E. Crawford, C. Kennesley, P. Hogan and E. Rawlins. Rev. Bro. Culhan presided and the arguments advanced pro and con were logical and well sustained. No final decision was given by the jury.

Mr. M. F. Carroll, of the Rismuliet Whaling Co., Pacific Coast, returned to Vancouver by the express last evening.

The King's Letter on Education.

Industrial Training Benefits—Views of Mr. Asquith and Mr. Balfour.

A message from the King on industrial training was read at a national conference on the subject held at the Guildhall recently. The Lord Mayor (Sir T. Vezev Strong) presided over a large attendance consisting of representatives of the Corporation and guilds of the City of London and of industrial workers and educational authorities of the Kingdom.

The Lord Mayor said that having regard to the supreme importance of the matter he wrote a letter to the King, and his Majesty's message in reply, sent through Sir Arthur Bigge, was as follows:

I am commanded by the King to convey to you an expression of his sympathy with the objects which your conference desires to secure. His Majesty believes that further development of industrial training will be of inestimable benefit for the nation and he hopes that your conference may have the effect of stimulating and educating public opinion in favour of this branch of education. (Applause.)

Sir T. Vezev Strong said he had also written to the Prime Minister and to Mr. Balfour. Mr. Asquith in his reply regretted that his public engagements would not allow him to attend, and added:

I believe this question to be one of the highest importance to the national well-being, and I should welcome any suggestion that would lead to its solution.

MR. BALFOUR'S SYMPATHY.

Mr. Balfour replied: I desire to express my great sympathy with the movement. A very great deal has been done to organize the machinery of education throughout the country. The expenditure it involves is great and sometimes lavish. Whether we always direct it in precisely the right direction is another question, and I do not think that anyone who has watched educational and industrial progress at home and abroad can be without some misgivings on the point. I am certain that the interchange of opinions which the conference will produce will be of the utmost value to the educational and social welfare of the country.

The Lord Mayor said that this being Coronation year they hoped this would be the beginning of a movement which in itself would lead to the placing of a crown of efficiency upon the national elementary education of this country. The conference desired to broaden and deepen the foundation of national prosperity by training children for useful vocations. Children got into employment for small wages and they were afterwards thrown on the world not fit to earn their own living.

The conference carried by a large majority a resolution moved by Lord Brassey viewing "with grave concern the large number of children annually leaving school without practical training for definite vocations," and recommending the establishment of "a national system of industrial, professional, and commercial training, to which the children shall pass as a matter of course (unless the parents are prepared to undertake their future training) and without interval, for a definite period, to be thoroughly trained for entry to the particular calling for which they are best fitted." The cost to be borne by the State.

It was resolved to form a National Industrial Education League.—Daily Mail.
