Here is Some thing Good to Read

Now That It is Too Dark to Go Out at Night.

WITHIN THE LAW.
Cloth Bound, 75c.
(By Marvin Dana and Bayard Veiller.)

Mary Turner, a sales girl in a New York department store, is unjustly convicted of theft, and is "sent away" for three years as an example to the other employees.

She lays the responsibility for the crime at the door of the Proprietor, who pays starvation wages. On the theory that the law can be moulded to suit the convenience of the rich, she surrounds herself with a clever band of crooks—upon her release from jail—with the sole object of acquiring wealth for the purpose of revenge; and she succeeds because she keeps WITHIN THE LAW.

How she carries out her purpose and eventually brings her persecutors to book must not be detailed here; suffice to say that a story of absorbing and tense dramatic interest has been developed out of this tremendous play, which has been one of the few genuine successes of recent years.
