Morineophobia.

The Advocate has this malady violently. The bare mention of Mr. Morine's name is sufficient for our otherwise broadminded and easy-going contemporary to froth at the mouth, and use up all the strength of its vituperation and invective against the gentleman who was one time chosen by the President himself to be the guide, philosopher, counsel and friend of the Union. But times change. Not finding Mr. Morine subservient to his wishes, nor bound by his desires, the President turned on him tooth and nail, and it is more or less of a habit that the attacks on the erstwhile Solicitor of the F.P.U. on all occasions since his contumacy should be particularly venomous and personal. What Mr. Morine's defeat in Bonavista district by Mr. Coaker in 1919 has to do with, the subject at issue, is not quite clear. But doubtless the Advocate, in its verdancy, is under the impression that such impassioned clap-trap as characterises its leading article in Wednesday's issue, will appeal to the fishermen of the North. Mr. Morine does not give gratuitous advice to the Union Trading and Export Companies as to how they should run their business. That would be impossible. He but suggests a method by which the fishermen shareholders would be better off if certain things were done, and every fisherman in the island will agree with him if allowed to use his own judgment and not permit himself to be bulldozed by the frothy and superficial articles on the Advocate's daily literary menu. Co-operation has to come, and co-operation in marketing will prove the ultimate salvation of Newfoundland. Commerce and politics will not mix any more than oil and water can unite. So far as the Telegram standing indicted for its declaration that "the Union cannot be saved financially unless it ceases to function politically," we are willing to stand by that statement. The fishermen-shareholders will themselves discover the truth of it ere long. The astounding part of it only is that it is not palatable to Mr. Coaker; nor is it unwarranted. The future will tell. We repeat again that the financial salvation—not of the F.P.U.—but of the Union Trading and Export Companies can only come through their being absolutely divorced from politics. The quicker shareholders realise this, the better. Commercially we believe that these concerns are a splendid asset to the trade of Newfoundland, and notwithstanding the frenzied shrieks of the Advocate that the desire is to kill the Union Companies financially, no person knows better that the one desire of all is to see them flourish. But before that happy circumstance can be accomplished in full measure party politics must be eschewed by the organization.

Feast of the Epiphany.

TWELFTH DAY.

To-day (Jan. 6) is being celebrated in commemoration of the Epiphany or the Manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles—the Magi or Wise Men who had been guided to the Manger at Bethlehem by the Star (Matt. chap. 2). In very early times, says the Church Dictionary, the whole twelve days' festival which began with the day of the Nativity was called the Epiphany; but in course of time the name was limited to the last day of the twelve. In the Eastern Church the event selected for special commemoration on the last day was the Baptism of our Lord, as the occasion of His manifestation to St. John the Baptist, and through him to the world. In the Western Church the manifestation of the Saviour to the Wise Men from the East, as the first fruits of the Gentile world, was selected as the special subject for commemoration. Being the twelfth day after Christmas to-day was formerly devoted to festivities of various kinds in celebration of the visit of the three kings (Magi) one person being chosen as king of the feast.

Schooner Makes Port.

IN BLINDING SNOW STORM.

Schr. Willie K., Capt. Barry, was towed to port last night by the tug Hugh D., at midnight in blinding snow and wind. Capt. Barry says he left Catalina in ample time to reach port early, but the wind gave out at 2 p.m. yesterday when six miles north of Cape St. Francis. He signalled for a tug, and was expecting to get one until 7 p.m. when all hope was given up. At dark the vessel was lying becalmed south of Cape St. Francis. The motor boat was hoisted out and towed the schooner abreast of Flatrock, when the wind sprang up from S.E. and blew strongly with snow. Capt. Barry says they were just thinking of putting in a bad night when the tug Hugh D. came alongside at 10.45. He might have tried to get to Carbonara, knowing he was to have some wind and snow, but as he had signalled for a tug, did not want to deceive any one. It seems that he would not have got to port at all but for the captain of a Danish vessel coming out of Conception Bay which was six or seven miles ahead and towed to port earlier, who reported seeing a vessel with signals up, which brought the Hugh D. out. The seamanship of both captain and crew of the Willie K. is to be commended.

The work of reclassing s.s. Silvia, which will run in conjunction with s.s. Rosalind on the Halifax-New York route, will not likely be ready to come to this side for the next two or three months. Committee on Unemployment.

The above Committee met last night in the board of Trade Rooms, when the situation regarding unemployment was discussed at considerable length, and many valuable suggestions were put forward, particularly by the representatives of the various labor organizations. The committee was of the opinion that suitable work could be arranged to take care of the situation during the winter months, and that the co-operation of citizens generally would go far to help those who are unfortunately out of employment. It was decided to investigate the possibilities of the various schemes suggested, and that the matter be again taken up at a meeting to be held next week.

Storm-Tossed Schooner at Channel.

Deputy Minister of Customs Le Messurier received a message yesterday afternoon from Channel stating that the schooner Enid E. Legge had arrived there in a damaged condition. The vessel was bound to St. John's from Macleod in ballast, and encountered stormy weather on the passage. The Legge had all her sails carried away and the crew had a trying time as their provisions had run short. Repairs to the vessel will be made at Channel.

HIS DIARY.

January 5th.—It being frost and dry, as far as this office, and all the talk of the situation in Ireland, and how Mr. DeValera, that calls himself President of the Irish Republic, makes alternative proposals to the Irish Treaty. I, therefore, to read the public dispatches about the matter, but did become addled by the divers issues, nor am I now any the wiser. So to Water Street, where I hear how the Government hath ordered the branch lines of the railway to be kept open and this, despite the Railway Commission, and the Act. And it is indeed hard to know who are now ruling the country, seeing how that which is done one day is undone the next, and what things are coming to is known to few men. News comes from Botwood of the aeroplane that would fly to Halifax, and how in starting, it did go through the ice and suffer damage. And my letters, which I did send by air mail being still undelivered, they will, I think, remain so. Mr. Briggs comes to me and tells me that there is news upon the street that there will be much work for men on Bell Island soon. How true this is I cannot tell. To the Board of Trade, where meeting Sir P. McGrath, he comes to shake me by the hand and tells me of his visit to Canada and America about the boundary of the Labrador. To the C.L.B. Club, and to play at ping-pong. And I win my game, being in mighty good form, and so home, well pleased. But my wife makes complaint that I have not allowed her enough money and asks for more. Nor does she pay heed to what I tell her of the difficulties of the times, and how there is mighty little left to me after paying my accounts. So I to give her a cheque for twenty dollars, nor does she say so much as thank you, which is a piece of gross ingratitude, but is no more than I did expect from her.

Twenty Years Ago To-Day.

Boone recently joined the ranks of the Benedicts and, as he is a popular member of the Mess, his comrades were not slow to present him with a token of their esteem. Appropriate speeches were made during the presentation.

Preparations Completed

PULPWOOD CUTTING PROCEEDING.

The preparations necessary, before the work of cutting pulpwood for relief work could be started, have now been completed. These preparations consisted of making camps and attending to other necessities of a somewhat similar nature. It is presumed that the actual work has now begun in earnest, although some little work is supposed to have been done in the past few weeks. No report has yet been received by the Minister of Agriculture and Mines.

Providing for Relief.

BUILDING BREAKWATER AT TWILLINGATE.

A relief commission consisting of leading business men of the place has been provided for Twillingate proper. This has been made necessary because the people of that settlement are too far distant from the scene of the pulpwood operations to permit of their participation in that scheme. Several of the 4,000 residents in Twillingate proper are in poor circumstances and it has been decided to build up the breakwater. Some of the men will be sent to the woods to cut timber and others will attend to the ballast. The commission will supervise this work and see that it is done properly.

An advertisement in another column announces the postponement of the performance of "The Quaker Girl" scheduled for to-morrow night. Over half the tickets had been sold in advance, and holders of these will use them for Monday night's show. The run of the Musical Comedy will be continued until Wednesday next. Further particulars may be had at Royal Stationery Company, phone 842.—adv.
