

The Montreal Election.

An election came off in Montreal on Thursday and Friday, to fill the seat recently made vacant in the Local Legislature of Quebec. Owing to some unfortunate local differences, there was a split in the Liberal camp, and the consequence was that a supporter of the Government has been returned. The following are the figures:—

Howley, Liberal, 1,333
McShane do 1,557
McGauvain, Conservative, 1,894
Majority for McGauvain 337.

It is much to be regretted that there was not more unanimity in the Liberal ranks; but, next to a family quarrel, comment us to a local question for raising a bitterness and obstinacy of feeling which will allow the contestants to make shipwreck of a good cause rather than give way on either side. Adding together the vote for the two Liberal candidates the figures stand thus:—

Liberal vote 2,890
Conservative vote 1,894

Liberal majority, 996. It will be seen that but for the unfortunate division in the Liberal ranks, they could have placed their man at the top of the poll by a majority of about One Thousand! Now, in the face of such an exhibit on their own side, most papers would think it the better part of valour to maintain a discreet silence. Not so the Mail. It rises superior to such trifling things as honesty and fact in journalism. Paying a delightful compliment to the intelligence of its readers, it prints the following in double-headed editorial type, as if it had made a great point:—"Mr. Holton was not slow to announce the election just decided in Montreal, as being the test vote on the guilt or innocence of the Dominion Government with respect to the charges made against it in connection with the Pacific Railroad. Mr. Holton must therefore accept the verdict. And it must of Not "guilty!" However, we must not be too hard on the Mail for this happy facility of ignoring facts, and this ingenuity in twisting the most damaging circumstances, for without such a peculiar talent it must have remained almost dumb during the discussion of the Pacific Scandal. Truly the Mail has great faith in the thick-headedness of its readers! To talk about a preponderance of a thousand votes against the Ministerial candidate being equal to a verdict of Not Guilty against the Ministry, is a little too foolish. No doubt Mr. Holton is perfectly satisfied with the indication of public feeling which has been given.

The Reformers of Leeds and Guelph, it is said, contemplate holding a meeting to discuss the present aspect of public affairs.

The Globe states that a copy of the Royal Commission has been sent to Mr. Huntington, with a request for him to appear with his list of witnesses to substantiate his charges against the Government, before the Commissioners at Ottawa, on the 4th September next.

The Pacific Scandal Commissioners had a meeting on Thursday. Their proceedings were understood to be private, having reference merely to arrangements for the working of the Board. They, however, fixed upon Thursday, the 4th day of September, for the commencement of the taking of evidence. The subpoena, it is understood, have been issued and are under way for service upon the witnesses. Commissioners Day and Polette have left for Montreal.

The Ottawa Citizen says:—"The writs for the Prince Edward Island election will soon be issued, and polling will take place next month. The contest on the island will be very heated, and the result is doubtful, parties being nearly balanced." This tends to confirm a statement made a short time ago, that the Prince Edward Island members to be elected would not turn out merely another batch of servile Government supporters. The Citizen is a strong Ministerial organ, and when it talks of the contest as doubtful, we may be sure that it is very doubtful indeed.

Memphis has had a slight shock of earthquake.

BISHOP FABRELL is able to sit up, and may now be considered convalescing nicely.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A man named John Johannes was badly injured by the breaking of a shingle jointer at Berlin on Tuesday, one of the pieces of which struck him on the chest. His life is despaired of.

The employees of the W. G. B. R. Co. with their families and friends, had an excursion to the Falls on Wednesday. Some from the neighborhood of Fergus got left behind by some mistake and did not arrive home until the day after.

A CHILD SHOT.—On Wednesday evening a boy four years old, son of Mr. Wm. Brown, Proton, while picking berries in his father's field, was shot through the body. The boy ran to the house, about five rods distant, and dropped dead. It is not yet known who fired the fatal shot.

On Monday afternoon William Law, brakeman on the Canada Air Line, while standing on the coach giving signals, was caught by the telegraph wire at Corinth and thrown over seventy feet on the track. When taken up he was insensible, and remained so for two hours, when he expired.

NAVIGATION has been re-opened at Merriton, after forty-eight hours' work. The St. Catharines Daily News says there has been mismanagement somewhere, and adds:—"The loss to the country in these forty-eight hours is immense, and we are told that six hours would be amply sufficient to do the work, if proper means had been employed."

A sailor named Michael Goldring was found dead in Toronto. His wife was seen beating him when helplessly drunk with a tea cup, a broom handle, a tin pot, and other domestic utensils perverted for their peaceful and proper use. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the deceased had died from disease, brought on by intemperate habits, and that his death was accelerated by the ill-treatment of his wife.

DEATH OF J. GARTSHORE.—On Tuesday Mr. J. Wilson received a cable despatch, informing him that his father-in-law, J. Gartshore, died in Glasgow, Scotland, on Monday last, 18th inst. Mr. Gartshore was among the very first settlers in Fergus, and well known by all the old pioneers. He was an engineer and millwright by trade, and perhaps built more mills and fitted in more mill machinery than any other man in the province. He built and ran the Monkland mills here for a time, after which he removed to Dundas and went into a large manufacturing business, and more recently removed to Toronto to superintend the extensive car wheel manufactory started in that city a few years ago. Mr. Gartshore was highly esteemed by his numerous acquaintances. He went to his native land a couple of months ago in the hope of finding better health, but instead of realizing that he has crossed the bourne from whence no traveller ere returns.—News Record.

THE CREDIT VALLEY RAILWAY.—It is reported in Montreal on good authority that the Canada Equipment Company have made an offer to supply the Credit Valley Railway Company with all the rolling stock, including engines, which they may require for that road, the purchase money payable by instalments.
