Sudden Death in South London.
The many friends of Miss Kate Turner, of Beecher street, South London, were grieved to hear of her sudden death, which took place at her residence yesterday at noon. On Sunday night deceased was not feeling well, but got up yesterday morning about 11 o'clock apparently in her usual good health. An hour later she was dead. She was aged 17 years, and had been for some time a member of Ashkin Street Methodist Church. Heart disease was the cause of her untimely death.

The First of the Year.
The pupils of the industrial school in connection with the W. C. T. U. enjoyed their annual picnic—the first of the year—on Queen's Park on Saturday afternoon. About 100 of the children were conveyed in street cars to and from the park, and during the ride their sweet young voices might be heard blending beautifully in choruses. Prizes awarded for recitations, etc., and the children had a very pleasant afternoon. Caretaker Burdick added to their enjoyment by putting up swings for them.

Plumbers' Troubles Again.
A number of journeymen plumbers called at the ADVERTISER office last evening with the intelligence that all probability of the strike having been called off. They claim that some months ago when they were to strike the bosses promised to give all journeymen 25 cents an hour, and that they have not done so. This was the reason why the men proposed striking again. They now say that the following bosses agreed to their demands: Heard & Co., Smith Bros., Wm. Kelly, A. J. Milne and James Haslett—all but one in the city.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Wm. Onn.
A very sudden death occurred at the residence of Wm. Onn, Bathurst street, last evening. Mrs. Onn went into the store in connection with the house and was seized by a customer when with an agonizing cry she threw up her arms and dropped dead. Heart disease was the cause. Mrs. Onn was 63 years old and came from St. Callum, Cornwall, England. For the last ten years she has resided in London. She leaves a husband and two young sons. Deceased was a member of King Street Methodist Church and was preparing to attend the Sunday school anniversary.

A Treat in Store for Chatham.
At a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Young Liberal Minstrels Monday night in the Odd-fellow's block, it was decided to give a performance in Chatham on the evening of June 22, the day of the races there. A very cheap rate will be granted by the railway companies, and a large number of Londoners will doubtless accompany the minstrels to that town. They were given their welcome in Chatham last year. As this season's show eclipses all others, and will be given on the same elaborate scale as in the city recently, there is every reason to believe the reception will be of the same character.

Judges and Jurors.
The now somewhat famous case of Ross vs. Stirling—an action for money for services rendered—will have a third trial in the Division Court of this city. The suit was first tried before Judge Mackenzie, and the jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff. Then the judge granted a new trial on the ground that the jury had not been properly instructed as to the preponderance of evidence. The new trial was before Judge Davis, and again the verdict of the jury was for the plaintiff. A new trial was once more applied for, and the case will come to trial for the third time soon. The question which the plaintiff is beginning to ask is "How many times have I to get a verdict before it holds good?" For the plaintiff, J. Macpherson; for defendant, Geo. McNab.

The Flood in Middlesex.
Reports from the country surrounding London show that the recent flood has caused great damage to crops, roads, bridges and culverts. In London West the hill on Mount Pleasant avenue was washed away. The low lands at Komoka were drowned out and will be of little use for pasture this summer. The same treatment was given the Medway through London town, and John's dam, near the city, masters of H. H. H. College, as completely as it was washed away at Hydes Park. The farmers say that more rain fell and the water lay at greater depth than when London West was flooded in 1883. The Delaware flats were one lake of water, and the water had a narrow escape from drowning. In certain portions of London township bridges and culverts have been carried away. In many instances whole fields of planted potatoes have been transplanted into other fields.

"Life of Hon. A. Mackenzie."
The admirers of this statesman will be glad to hear that a complete and graphic history of "His Life and Times" is being prepared by Mr. Wm. Buckingham, his private secretary, and by Hon. Geo. W. Ross, M.P.P., Minister of Education, his intimate friend for 30 years. The friends of the deceased statesman in the hands of these gentlemen, and these, with many reminiscences hitherto unpublished, will be incorporated in the forthcoming volume, which will be magnificently finished and handsomely illustrated. Already the publishers announce that a large number of subscribers have been obtained for the work. Mr. M. McLean, well and favorably known in London and Western Ontario, has been appointed an agent for London and district, and will at once start the work of calling upon the friends and admirers of the ex-Premier.

The Humane Society.
The meeting of the London Humane Society yesterday afternoon was addressed by Mr. J. J. Keag, of Toronto, secretary of the Humane Society in that city. His remarks were of a most interesting nature and full of valuable information. In Toronto, he said, they always welcomed and encouraged strangers. The society did not depend on membership fees, but received liberal benefits, which sometimes amount to $1,000. They advertised their work judiciously. Notices were inserted in the papers a few days before each meeting, and in that way the society often was favored with the presence of strangers who frequently became influential members. An endeavor was made to introduce the work into the schools and churches, and to have societies organized in all the cities and towns in Ontario. If the work was spread the results would be take care of themselves. Great good was accomplished by the establishment of Bands of Mercy. Mr. Keag spoke of the convention of all the Humane Societies in Canada to be held in Toronto on June 21 and 22, at which all who could attend would be welcome. The London Society decided to request Messdames Hutchinson, Beal and Macbeth, and Messrs. Thos. McCormick, Wm. Bowman, Rev. J. A. Murray, J. Frith Jeffers, A. O. Graydon and Sam. Grigg to attend the convention as a delegation from the London Society. D. S. Perrin (president), W. C. Coe (secretary), Rev. Messrs. Guillemont, Hill and Gordon, Mr. F. W. Matthews, and Messdames Hutchinson, Beal, J. W. Jones and Miss Street and Miss Chadwick, of Chatham and others were present at yesterday's meeting.

PIERCED BY A BULLET.
Joseph Palucci, a Member of "D" Company, Shot at the Cove Butte—Death Results in a Short Time.

The regular weekly practice of "D" Company, I. S. C., at the Cove Butte Monday afternoon was one which will not soon be forgotten. Capt. Dennison was in charge of the men. Joseph Palucci was one of the markers at the 600-yard range, and had stepped out shortly before 3 o'clock to mark the target, when a bullet struck him, passing through his right thigh and hitting the target. The man fell, and the blood poured from his wound at an alarming rate. His comrades hastened to his assistance. When they arrived Palucci said to Capt. Dennison, "Put another through there, captain," at the same time pointing to his forehead. With all possible haste he was conveyed to the City Hospital, but despite all that medical skill could do he died about 5:30 from loss of blood. On application at the barracks all information as to who fired the fatal shot was withheld. A court of inquiry is to be held to-day. It is known that a man supposed to have been shooting at the 400-yard range fired at the 600-yard range by mistake and struck Palucci.

It was supposed that deceased had relatives living in Chatham, but up to a late hour last night no answer had been received to a telegraphic dispatch sent to that town. It is known that he came originally from Ohio. He served five years in the United States army, and had been a member of "D" Company for a little more than a year. He was a good marksman and was a member of the baseball club in Windsor. He was quite a favorite at the school. His remains will be interred to-morrow afternoon by the company.

AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS.
It Bore the Usual Request of a Return in Five Days. But It Has Just Come Back.

Back some time about the year 1879 the firm of Connely Bros. were doing an insurance business in Windsor. Having dealings with Mr. Christman, who still lives in Windsor, a letter was dropped into the postoffice for him on March 29 of that year. On the envelope was the usual request, "If not called for in five days return, etc." The letter was only returned to Connely Bros., a new Connely & Kendall, from the dead letter office at Ottawa yesterday morning. It was accompanied by a short note from the head of the department, apologizing for the slight delay in returning it. (Slight delay, too—just thirteen years.—[Windsor Record.]
