But few good seats remain and with fine weather the prospects are that the capacity of the building will be taxed. Earthquakes—The People Pante—Stricken.

1 PANAMA, Oct. 17.—A letter from Granada, Nicaragua, says the carthquakes had not ceased on Sept. 2. The losses reach $200,000. About three-fourths of the inhabitants have left here for Masaya, Managua, and their farms, while all who remain are camping at Joiteva, the Oltra Banda and the railroad station. The police have remained at their posts.

The Diario Nicaraguense of Granada says: "At 9 a.m. on Aug. 31 this city was suprised by what proved to be the first of a series of earthquakes, which produced the greatest alarm and which only temporarily terminated at about 5:30 p.m., to recommence at about 8 p.m. and to continue at intervals of about an hour. At about 12 p.m. an extremely severe shock took place, driving all from their houses and foreing them to remain in the streets are milingly awaiting fresh convulsions. Consternation and fright were chused by the cries and lamentations of the people who were praying for mercy, while sobs and exclamations of terror were hear1 on all sides.

"At 2 a.m. further shocks took place, but they were trifling. Everything was quiet at 6:30 a.m., when suddenly a violent shock took place which shattered all the roofs, throwing some of them down, and raising a cloud of dust and fine stones, which soon descended on the shattered houses. All endeavored to save their families, but once out of the houses no one ventured to re-enter them.

"By Monday evening the panic had dimished, and people's minds had become more at ease. Directly it became know in eruption toward the south, it was believed no more shocks would occur. Nevertheless, many people left the town, while the majority camped out in the suburbs.

"The appearance of the city was extremely mountail, and only some clusters of women were to be seen, who conveyed in procession the images of saints they had taken from the churches, and, praying and diadicie, and in procession the images of saints they had taken from the churches, and, praying and diadicie, and singing by turns, implored

"On Sept. 4 a scientific committee, composed of Senor Alberto Gomez, Mr. Crawford and Senor Frederico Derbyshire, visited the Mombacho volcano for the purpose of examining the crater and the fissures which have opened to its sides.

"Confidence is becoming restored, since 60 hours have now clapsed (Sept. 5), without an earthquake having occurred. Citizins are consequently growing convinced that the danger has passed and are gradually returning to their homes. Many of the younger members of the the community have evinced little alarm, and apparently have rather enjoyed themselves camping out in the fields while it was dasgerous to remain in the houses in the city."

dagerous to remain in the houses in the city."

Senor Reyes Calvo and his family reside on the south slope of Mombacho volcano, and from a height of 2,000 feet he sent down the following note to one of his assistants: "Matters up here are terrible. The ground shakes all the time and there is a continual rumbling noise. The peak of the volcano appears to be falling in." A scarcity of provisions followed the earth-quakes, but the Government and the citizens were prompt in forwarding assistance to the sufferers.

It is said that the negotiations pending between the Reading Railroad and a powerful New York syndicate are now nearly at an end and the result will probably be an alliance between the Reading and Vanderbilt interests.

MR. HEATON says:

"It is with no small degree of pleasure we announce that the 'Glasgow and London' have selected the 'Citizens,' a purely Canadian Company, as the one in which to reinsure their business. From October First, therefore we assume not only all liability for losses occurring thereafter, but also all losses which may either have remained unpaid or unadjusted at that date. As soon as the numerous details incidental to the completion of a contract of this magnitude are completed, we shall at once make payment of every unpaid loss, irrespective of the dates upon which the same are due; it is our practice in all cases to pay our losses in cash, without waiting the usual sixty days allowed by the policy, and without discount, and now that we have assumed the liability of the 'Glasgow and London,' we propose applying thereto the same principles which we have for some years past adopted in connection with our own business."
