A COOL SCOT.

Mr. McGregor, a Scot, who resides in San Francisco, is said by an exchange to be one of the most argumentative of men, and one of the calmest. Early Several weeks ago there was cabled one morning, as he was returning the news of the wonderful discoveries home, he was addressed by a man who emphasized his words with a pistol. "Throw up you hands!"

"Why?" asked Mr. McGregor calm-

"But what for?

"Jesus saith." The translation will soon be published by the Egypt exploration fund. An immense edition, at a few pence per copy, will be provided, so as to reach everybody. "If you don't quit gassin' and obey orders, I'll blow the top of your head off!" cried the robber. "What? Faith, man, you must be from the Roman city of Behnesa, west of the Nile, about 100 miles south of dy," said McGregor, soothingly, coolly with a quick twist out of the man's hand, "Come, now, an' I'll show ye where they'll take care o' ye. Hech! shoot ye. By the way, ye might as weel ahead of me. That's it. Trudge awa',

> And so Mr. McGregor marched his man to the city prison and handed him over to Capt. Douglass. "It wudna be a bad idea to put him in a strait-jacket," he said serenely to the officer. "There's little doot but the buddy's daft." And he resumed his homeward walk.
