The fire is supposed to have been started by lightning striking a barn in the rear of the Marine block on the main street. A stiff gale was blowing from the west, and the flames trol, and swept through the business section, sparing nothing. The flames were carried thence all through the town, eating up building after building | Fatally Crushed With a Wine Cask in a twinkling.

ESCAPED DESTRUCTION. Beyond the scattered dwellings in the outskirts, and half a dozen buildings in the town proper, nothing escaped destruction. Those which were not consumed, owing to their detached or somewhat isolated positions, were: King's College, the cotton factory, the Church of England rectory and school, Edge Hill's school for girls, and the Dufferin Hotel.

An hour after the fire started the mayor began to summon outside assistance, the call on Halifax being responded to by two companies of the city fire department, which reached Windsor shortly after daylight.

RELIEF. The Halifax authorities adopted prompt measures to extend relief, and early this afternoon a trainload of provisions was dispatched. SEEKING SHELTER.

Tonight most of the homeless people have been quartered in the outskirts of the town and surrounding country, but here and there one meets fathers and mothers looking for their children and people seeking shelter. The military tents on Fort Edward and in College field are all occupied, and the whole county of Hants has come to the assistance of the sufferers. All day messages of sympathy have been pouring in upon the fire-stricken town, tendering relief and offering lodging to homeless people.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS.

Drowned in a Canal-Runaway Fatality.

Toronto, Oct.18.-About 8 o'clock Sunday morning a peddler named Wolfe Veinstein, 50 years old, living with his wife and children at 282 King street east, lost his life. With others he was lowering a 30-gallon barrel of wine into a cellar, and was on the stairs supporting it. It proved too heavy for him and he fell backward, the barrel falling on him and inflicting inujries from which he died in a short time.
