

PROVINCIAL DETECTIVE GRILLER IS CALLED INTO THE KINRADE CASE

Well-Known Sleuth Will Try to Fathom Mystery.

KINRADE HOUSE GONE THROUGH

Dispatches From Virginia Say Detectives Are Following Up a Clue There.

Hamilton, March 5.—Ernest Kinrade, the oldest son of the stricken family, was closed with the detectives in the office of the chief of police for some time this afternoon. Later, Detectives Bleakley, Coulter and Miller went up to the Kinrade house, which has been uninhabited since the removal of the family to Toronto on Tuesday. Ernest Kinrade met them at the house, and they all went in together.

The presence of Provincial Detective Greer here set tongues wagging again as to new developments, though he denies that he is on the case. The two provincial detectives called at the office of Lees, Holson & Stephens, solicitors for Mr. T. L. Kinrade. Afterwards Mr. Greer had a conference with Crown Attorney Washington at the Wentworth county courthouse.

Whitney.

Secretary D. A. McDermid, of the London Temperance League, returned last evening from Toronto, where he had been attending the temperance convention in that city.

In conversation this morning he admitted that there was considerable feeling displayed over the three-fifths clause by delegates, and declares that some of the constituencies are in no amiable frame of mind towards Sir James Whitney.

"The Sunday car advocates were not the only deputation that were sent on by the Premier," said Mr. McDermid. "The next year the number was 29, and last year there was also a large number. No vote can be taken for three years in these places, although there is a great sentiment in favor of local option. Take Goderich, for instance. The vote for local option was very heavy. Some of the delegates from constituencies like these were not very favorably impressed with the reception given us by the Premier."

Considerable Feeling.

"Among the delegates there was considerable feeling. Two years ago there were 45 municipalities where local option failed to carry on account of the three-fifths majority, although there was a vote in favor of local option. The next year the number was 29, and last year there was also a large number. No vote can be taken for three years in these places, although there is a great sentiment in favor of local option. Take Goderich, for instance. The vote for local option was very heavy. Some of the delegates from constituencies like these were not very favorably impressed with the reception given us by the Premier."

Sunday Cars.

"What about Sunday cars?" was asked. "We did nothing," Mr. McDermid replied. "We were down on the temperance question, and we did not pay much attention to the cars, especially as the deputation in their behalf were not given much encouragement by the Premier."

DEACONS' BOARD ENTERTAINED CHOR

Of First Congregational Church To Drive.

The choir and ushers of the First Congregational Church were treated to a drive last evening by the deacons' board of the church. A party of nearly 50 drove to the home of Deacon W. J. Walker, Pine Villa, Westminister, where they were royally entertained. Games, music and singing provided a most enjoyable programme, and an abundance of refreshments were served.

The evening closed with a cordial vote of thanks on motion of W. T. E. Wrighton and Miss Scott to Deacon Walker and his family for their great kindness in entertaining the choir for the third time. The happy company then departed for their homes.

THE POWER PRICES AT THE BORDER

Engineer Sothman Tells Towns How Much They Should Take.

Windsor, Ont., March 6.—At a public meeting held last night, P. W. Sothman, chief engineer of the Ontario hydro-electric commission, furnished a detailed report of the amount of Niagara power for which Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich can safely enter into a contract with the Government. He said that for Walkerville the estimate is 1,274-horsepower, and for Sandwich 60-horsepower. His own opinion is that the town will be able to sell 1,500 or 2,000 horsepower by the time the transmission line is built. The amount of power for which the commission has contracted at the Falls probably will be insufficient at the end of ten years. If Windsor enters into a contract, Niagara power will be brought to the border by the winter of 1910. Mr. Sothman was unable to furnish an estimate of the cost of distributing power in Windsor, owing to the illness of Engineer McBride, who had charge of the work.

The Smith cases is the indefinite identification of a dozen persons in a glance, at the burglar who did the shooting last night, but nobody can tell anything beyond the fact that he was a big man wearing a grey suit.

Constable Smith rested easily this morning. Dr. Langrill, medical superintendent of the hospital, says the wound will not prove dangerous. His wife and one of their three children saw him for a few minutes. He is still unable to give any description of the man who shot him, as he was crouching in the dark at the time.

Again the three detectives engaged on the Kinrade murder case scattered to different parts of the city this morning, tracing up ragged ends of clues and stories that may lead to something.

Hamilton people are beginning to ask: "Will the Kinrade murder mystery go unsolved, and add another to the city's list of mysterious and unexplained crimes, including the Barton murder, and the killing of Police Constable Barron six years ago?"

The shooting of Police Constable Smith last night vividly recalls the latter occurrence to the mind of Hamiltonians. However, the detectives have no notion of giving up the search in the Kinrade case yet. When they started out on their respective beats this morning, the excessive cold and the hope of important developments shortly.

Constable Smith stood the ordeal of a vital operation well.

The bullet was located by means of the x-ray and Dr. Bingham extracted it. It was of a large calibre. The lead had struck the officer on the right temple and had split in halves, one piece penetrating the skull, and the other portion taking an upward course towards the scalp and the skull.

Smith is naturally very weak, but he rallied well.

Magistrate Love Has a Cure for Silent Indian Listers.

Charles Walsh might have been the Sphinx for all the information he gave concerning where he got his liquor when he appeared in court this morning on a charge of being drunk. Walsh is an Indian lister, and was arrested last night.

"Where did you get your liquor?" asked the magistrate, but never answered. "Oh, well, and the court, 'I'll remind you for a week, and if you don't feel like telling them, why we will see about it in three months."

Donald Galbraith and Mary Nelson were arrested on Richmond street last night for being drunk. Galbraith was fined $5 and Mary Nelson was remanded for a week.

CZAR WILL HAVE ANOTHER TRY

Russia Preparing for a Conflict With Japs, Says Admiral Evans.

Colorado Springs, Col., March 6.—"As far as any war between the United States and Japan is concerned, all such talk is bunkum," declared Rear Admiral Evans, who arrived yesterday. "The Japanese have their hands full in taking care of the Russian situation. Russia is now preparing for what seems to be an inevitable conflict. It is rebuilding its navy, getting its army into shape, and constructing a double-track railroad across Siberia. Russia will not be satisfied until it has another try in the field with Japan."

Admiral Evans counts the idea that the school controversy in California will lead to war with the Japanese. "You might as well talk about an attack on China," he said. "Why should Japan seek war with the United States? Certainly Japan has no right to interfere with California. In that state's regulation of schools."

"Of course, the terms of our treaty with Japan should be observed. Roosevelt handled that feature excellently. I don't believe the possibility of war has been given serious consideration by either country."

WARNS ROOSEVELT AGAINST THE FEVER

Professor Starr Predicts He Will Perish in Central Africa.

Chicago, March 6.—"Mr. Roosevelt will never return to the United States and explore the intentions of exploring the dark regions of Africa in quest of big game." This is the opinion of Prof. Frederick Starr, the University of Chicago, whose prophecy is based upon his knowledge of the dangers of that country, particularly the insidious fevers through his expedition to the Congo Free State.

The ex-president, according to the professor, will invade a section of country where few white men have dared to venture heretofore, on account of the fatal nature of the prevailing epidemics and the "sleeping sickness." "I will not lie in the ferociousness of animals which dwell there, but in the fevers which every explorer has come to fear," said the professor. "I visited nine different times and narrowly escaped with my life."

The president has not the temperament that a man needs who would withstand the dangers of the climate he plans to brave."

MUST GET HUSBAND TO CLAIM $50,000

Kentucky Court of Appeals Puts Girl in Strange Situation.

Lexington, March 6.—Under a decision of the Kentucky court of appeals handed down today, it becomes necessary for a girl to get her husband to claim a legacy of $50,000 bequeathed her by her late father.

This decision of the appellate court was a reversal of the Fayette County Circuit Court, which tribunal decided that a girl could claim the legacy at any time, the suit being a friendly one to properly construe the will. The higher court said, however, that the bequest was contingent and that she had no vested interest in it until she was married.

Miss McClelland, whose father was the testator, died in 1884, and left a large estate. She was adopted by her father, and was a student at a female school in this city. She was married to a man who died, and his wife several years before his death, and still resides with Mrs. McClelland in this city.
