THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

LONDON, THURSDAY, DEC. 2.

The representatives of the Board of Trade and of the Real Estate Owners' Association have been disappointed in their canvass for municipal candidates. Several of the citizens whom they approached had good and sufficient reasons for declining to run for office, as The Advertiser happens to know, but others had no excuse except the dislike of a contest, and perhaps of some tax on porridge? of the company in which they might find themselves. If the field were left to men who are not sensitive about these things, the public interests would

THE STRUGGLE IN GREAT BRIIAIN.

Mr. Asquith is expected to develop his argument today against the position taken by the House of Lords. He cannot do better than quote from the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Balfour. In June, 1907, Mr. Balfour said:

"We all know that the power of the House of Lords. . . is a further limited by the fact that cannot touch those money bills, which if it could deal with no doubt it would bring the whole executive machinery of the country to a stand-

AN UNBIASED VIEW OF THE NAVY

QUESTION. The Canadian correspondent of the Boston Transcript, Mr. E. W. Thomson, an able and impartial writer on Canadian affairs, says that those who are flippantly and derisively shouting "tinpot navy" amount to less than nothing in opposition, that their puerile clamor tends to excite Canadian anger against themselves. Canada does things well in great enterprises, in canals, railways, harbors, all manner of public works, and to assume sneeringly that Canadians will not do their navy business soundly is to insult them and their record. "This gabble," says the writer, "comes from the same unpatriotic pack that have leave one party and unite with another. Mr. Monk forgets that an autonomous Canada such as he desires, could not decently live without coast defence. "Laurier," says Mr. Thomson, "is about to begin what seems expedient, no matter what the political future of the Dominion; and it may be safely predicted that his desire that French-Canadians should withdraw any objections and agree with their British fellow countrymen, for amity's sake, for the sake of goodwill in Canada, for 'Canada First' reasons, will carry the heart of his generous compatriots all along the lines.

DIVIDING THE SPOILS.

[Brockville Recorder.] At a Tory meeting in London last week wo former Conservative candidates handed out some plain talk to Hon. [Montreal Witness.]
The Lords really represent the Established Church, now a privileged minority, the brewers and distillers, the courts, and to a very small degree science and art and industry. Most of all, it represents the landlords and their privileges, as every lord has practically to become a landowner. Many of these privileges ome down from feudal times, when the privileges had duties attached to them which have been gradually shuffled off.
