smile is only the outward and visible sign of an inward and polished personality which prevents sparks. There was an excellent instance of it n the few brief minutes during which the House sat on opening day. It arose over the withdrawal, at his own request, of the name of Mr. George Tayor, for twenty-five years chief Conservative whip, from the committee whose duty it is to strike the permannt committees for the session. Sir Wilfrid seized the opportunity to pay a warm little tribute of praise to Mr. Taylor. Of course, it was a small matter, this kindly word to a retiring opponent, but it was a small matter properly done at the proper time. There are a number of men in the House who would have used the occasion for a jab at the other side, but that is not greater system, one stretching across Sir Wilfrid's way. > It is expected that the elections will be finished this year by Dec. 18. The boroughs, including London, will poll between Dec. 3 and 8. The district boroughs between Dec. 7 and 17, and the counties between Dec. 8 and 17. The peers in the coming election will have an advantage not accorded since the days of the "long parliament." The resolution, declaring it to be an infringement on the liberties of the Commons for a peer or a prelate concern himself in the election of the members, was not renewed at this parliament.
