ELECTION CHAFF

AND THUS HE MUSED.

To be or not to be; that is the question. Yesterday I wanted to be a Senator, to-day I want to be an M. P. Perhaps tomorrow I'll call to be made Governor General. And why not? All these situations are before me.

I have read in the Tribune of great men casting everything on a single throw—and I'm a great man—Why not?

I looked DeMott's from an egg. Campbellton would have been a cow-yard, but for me, in fact Restigouche owes its place on the map to me, and why shouldn't I have my choice of these positions. But the question of votes. My there's the rub, but I've got the votes. I'll get my own and Allies, but how about Davies? And then whose next—LaB, ought to vote
