CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Bronchitls is an inflammation of the muccus membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary affections. Chronic Bronchitis more often occurs later in life. When a cold settles on the lungs, the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis, it usually passes off es a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experience a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick muccus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the ungs, or chronic bronchitis.

sumes all the appearance of naving a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the ungs, or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stages of the disease the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smiller tubes and air cells of the lungs while in the smiller tubes and air cells of the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bonchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the nucous which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Often limes streaks of blood make their appearance in the nucous, and at times there is a dis-the case that the patient dies in one of the tarks.

Inhalatio is are applicable in all diseases of the espiratory organs, including catarrh, throat diseases, ast hma, bronchitis, consumption; and thousands of cases can be curied by this mode of treatment when nothing else can reach them.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally, may write for "List of Questions" and circular, both of which will be sont free of charge. Address ONTARIO PULMONARY INSTITUTE.

me. H. C. DAVIS, the assistant passenger agent of the Manitoba railway remains about the station day and night looking after what he calls his family. Yesterday he paid for and arranged the burial of an infant that died on the train coming in. To-day he sent a widow who was taken ill during the night to an hotel ordered the railway cumpany's widow who was taken ill during the night to an hotel, ordered the railway company's doctor to attend her, and says the company will pay all expenses. He also ordered beds for the women and children, and has converted the station into an hotel. On the whole the party is comfortable as it is possible under the circumstances, though it is very annoying to be delayed in this way. The Methodist argument however is a good one viz: It is hard to battle the elements.

Company-Mr. E. H. Goff, Late of Mo

treak Entangled in the Ruins. The American e'ectric light company Massachusetts, claiming to be regularly inin, the sawdust sprinkled and the political corporated under the laws of the state of Massachusetts, has collapsed upder circumstances indicating a flagrant swindle upon ance to having a real political circus in the political metropolis, as he considers that the part played in the last election of the amphitheatre on Jarvis street had not only a city, but even a Dominion reputation. It is the intention to invite orators from the other side, to come and state their case and speak for their party. The grounds are to be chinese lanterned, bands are to be provided, and ginger-pop stands set up. Already applications are being sent in for the right of the latter.

The reformers of the part of some one in the meantime not definitely known. It appears the company was established in New York by Col. Fred. Grant, son of the ex-president; Jesse Grant and Stephen Moriarty. Col. Fred. Grant was the president of the company. Subsequently the company induced some Boston people to take an interest in the company and this it appears is where Mr. Goff seems first to have become connected with it.

MR. GOFF'S EXPLANATION.

Mr. GOFF has stated to a Boston Herald reporter that in December last he was invited by Col. Fred Grant, Jesse Grant and Stephen Moriarty to interest himselt in the company, which they represented to him as duly incorporated and in which they claimed to have a controling interest. They showed the immense profits made by the Brush and Edison Electric Light companies and claimed their company had superior patents, while their electricians had all been taken from Elisan's most skilful workmen and were the lest in the country. The Massachusetts company was country. The Massachusetts company was chartered, but not organized, and they wanted him to take hold and organize it. Glowing representations were made, he Glowing representations were made, he says, as to the prominent men connected with it, ex-Presipent Grant, ex-Senator Platt and ex-Secretary Windom being among the number. The company was finally organized, Col. Fred. Grant being president; Mr. Goow, vice-president: Maj. Cyrus S. Haldenan, general manager; E. M. Hasting, secretary, and Eugene M. Hersey, treasurer. A handsome office was opened on Tremont street and nightly dis-

Boston market. The gist of the matter is, according to Mr. Goff, that he and his Boston associates were "taken in" by the New York fellows.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY.

Mr. Moriarty was interviewed in New York on behalf of the Boston Herald, and Boston men to make good their promises.

HOW THE SWINDLED SEE IT.

'I do hope," said a gentleman who had paid $500 for five shares, "that an indictment will be procured against the parties to blame, whoever they are. The thing was a swindle from beginning to end, and the fight between the New York and Boston people cannot hide that fact, no matter how hard they hit each other. It strikes me that both parties were knowing to the swindle, and that, falling out, as thieves generally do, the row and It is not known yet exactly where the ice dam has formed but they suppose it to be 100 miles below Emerson, as the water is reported falling at every accessible part of the proposed to be 100 miles below Emerson, as the water is reported falling at every accessible part of the parties of the proposed form there to Winnipeg.
